Shetland Pony, 40, Still 'Pretty Lively'

"She's in good shape and pretty lively," said Lloyd Halferty of 1020 West Q. He was speaking of his Shetland pony, Babe, who is an unbelievable 40 years old.

According to veterinarian Dr. R. W. White, horses are getting pretty old when they reach 20. But old Babe seems spry as she roams her half-acre broom grass pasture near Capital Beach.

"All she can eat," said Halferty, "is finely ground corn and oats and ground alfalfa mixed with molasses." She hasn't been ridden or driven for 10 years, and the only time she has had a halter on is when Halferty took her to a veterinarian.

Halferty bought Babe 24 years ago for his son Donald. At about the same time he bought a male Shetland named Tony so he could breed Shetlands.

Babe and Tony, who died about two years ago, used to pull Donald in a small delivery wagon furnished by Van Sickle Glass and Paint in parades and other special events.

"That was in the street car days," added Halferty. "They got in those street car tracks and they could upset it."

But now Babe gazes in peace and contentment probably best for an old timer.

Council Will Receive New Notification Plan

. . . ON IMPROVEMENTS

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

An improved method of notifying property owners that improvement districts are being formed will be suggested to the City Council, according to Councilman John Comstock.

Comstock said that he and Councilman Ervin Peterson had studied the notification problem at the mayor's request, and had decided on a new policy "which should improve public relations with the property owners."

He pointed to the present policy as inadequate because many property owners are not aware a district has been formed until the city assesses them for the improvements.

Under present procedure, 51% of the property owners in a proposed improvement district are required to sign a petition requesting the formation of a district.

Many Not Contacted

Many times a large percentage of property owners are not contacted, Comstock explained.

The new method will require circulators of petitions to sign a statement to the effect that they have left a notice that a district is being formed with all property owners included in the proposed improvement district.

This method will not apply to water and sewer districts which the city creates itself. That problem will be solved later, Comstock said.

Not Official

Comstock emphasized that the council will not officially adopt the new policy by resolution or ordinance because of the possibility of the courts holding it to be a legally established procedure.

This could result in a court dissolving an improvement district if only one property owner was not notified, he said.

Lincoln And Omaha Crime Rate Up In '64

Washington (UPI) — The crime rate in Nebraska's two most populous cities in 1964 was far ahead of that in 1963, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Wednesday.

The 1964 figures were higher in all categories citied by the bureau, with the exception of aggravated assaults in Omaha. There were 36 such assaults in 1963 and 33 in 1964.

The FBI comparisons with 1963 figures in parentheses: murder or non-negligent manslaughter, Lincoln 3 (2), Omaha 22 (17); forcible rapel Lincoln 20 (13), Omaha 34 (32;), robbery, Lincoln 17 (13), Omaha 22 (17); forcible rape, Linsult, Lincoln 82 (50), Omaha 33 (36); burglaries, Lincoln 459 (393), Omaha 1,924 (1,384); larceny of over $50, Lincoln 529 (414), Omaha 985 (933); auto theft, Lincoln 151 (119), Omaha 1,342 (1,162).'

Feb. 17th Crash Injuries Fatal To Sidney Man

Sidney (UPI)—Clifford Davison, 48, of rural Sidney died Tuesday in a hospital here of injuries suffered when his farm tractor was in collision with a car Feb. 17 near Lodgepole.

Davison suffered a fractured right shoulder and facial lacerations and had been progressing satisfactorily until early Tuesday. An autopsy was held later to determine if his death had been caused by his injuries and the report was that it had.

Protest Ends In Lincoln

A Lincoln group closed its demonstration in front of the Post Office Tuesday afternoon shortly after word came that Dr. Martin Luther King was leading Selma, Ala., demonstrators back to the church there.

The Lincoln marchers, who had maintained the picket line for more than 22 hours, ended the demonstration with a prayer "thankful for the outcome and for what it did for the movement."

Leaders said at least 50 persons had participated in the orderly picket line. At times during the early morning hours there were only a few persons on duty, but at times the marchers numbered more than 25 persons.

Carried Signs

They carried signs urging such things as "Freedom Now" and "Federal Help in Selma".

Many were members of a University of Nebraska campus group called Friends of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Several clergymen joined the march, and a scattering of other persons.

A few of the students put in as much as 15-17 hours marching during the 22-hour demonstration.

White Southerner

At one point, the students said, they were joined by a "white southerner" who first stood and watched the group for some time "trying to make up my mind."

Bruce Hiller of the Friends of SNCC said in his closing prayer the group "hopes what we did up here may have some influence somewhere" and was "thankful for other groups that held similar demonstrations elsewhere."

The observance was then closed with the singing of "We Shall Overcome", anthem of the civil rights movement.

St. Paul Voters OK School Bonds

St. Paul (AP)—St. Paul voters by a 537 to 144 majority approved in a special election Tuesday a $250,000 bond issue for an addition to the present school building. The addition will house classrooms for grades below high school.

Mountain Men Maul Reds In Worst Beating In Months

Kannak, Viet Nam (AP) — Bodies of about 100 Viet Cong recruits are to rest forever outside this mountain post, which they attacked with high confidence and fine weapons Monday.

The known dead from an 800-man assault force reputed to have been fresh from North Viet Nam, they were piled together Tuesday in a mass grave.

That grave become a symbol of one of the worst beatings the Communists have had in months in the central highlands, where they are evidently trying to cut Viet Nam in two.

Scythe Of Bullets

Among the dead were 22 youths scythed down on open ground in front of a single government machine gun bunker.

There were painted coffins for 33 irregular mountain troops and 10 dependents who died in defense of the post, which overlooks a cross-country road at Mang Yang Pass, 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

And there were decorations for many survivors in the 400-man garrison and nine U.S. Army Special Forces men. Three of the Americans and 30 of the irregulars were wounded.

The mountain men are among the toughest veterans in Viet Nam.

Their women helped in the fight, reloading ammunition magazines, passing mortar shells and attending the wounded.

Vietnamese officers said documents found on the battlefield showed that the assault force was a new outfit moved in from North Viet Nam, where recruits are trained, indoctrinated and supplied.

Sterling Weapons

Its weapons were some of the best from the Communist sphere.

Among Viet Cong arms abandoned in flight were cannon made in Red China, a Czechoslovak machine gun and six rifles of a new Soviet design.

"The setup reminds me of Korea," said Col. Theodore Metaxis of Seattle, Wash., senior adviser to the Vietnamese army's 2nd Corps. "The same hills and highlands. The same kind of enemy."

The enemy in this case struck about 2:30 a.m.

M. Sgt. Clifford Brink, 36, of Buffalo, Ind., said the first mortar shell "landed right in front of the supply shack."

'All The Way'

"From then on it was fighting all the way," he said. "The women were loading clips and right up there with their men."

Sp. 1.C. Steven Comerford, 30, of Baltimore, Md., said he believed his mortar fire silenced a Viet Cong 57mm recoilless rifle.

"But one of their recoilless rifles," Comerford said, "knocked out the corner blockhouse over there and killed everyone in it. With their bangalore torpedoes made out of bamboo and explosives, they'd blasted away a lot of our barbed wire."

Mortars Pour It On

"About 4:30 we got word that our outposts on the hills north and south had been overrun, so I began firing mortar rounds right into them. At about 6:30, Skyraider fighters came over and began hitting the opposite slopes of those hills, but the Viet Cong were already pulling out."

State Sweepstakes Measure Killed But Lottery, Hound Racing Survive

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Legislation to provide for state sweepstakes races in Nebraska was axed Tuesday by the Revenue Committee, but measures to authorize a state - operated lottery and permit pari-mutuel hound races survived motions to kill.

Killed on a 5-1 vote was LB772, Sen. Sam Klaver's sweepstakes bill which he estimated would have raised at least $5 million annually for local school districts.

LB630, the hound bill, and LB671, the lottery proposal, remained locked in committee after motions to kill produced 3-3 tie votes. Both bills propose a vote of the people on constitutional amendments.

Churches In Opposition

7All three gambling measures were sponsored for the purpose of increasing state revenue, and all three attracted opposition from church groups and the Railroad Shop Crafts.

Under questioning by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, a number of opposition spokesmen suggested that the state also review its current authorization for pari-mutuel horse race betting.

Little support was voiced for any of the three bills at the public hearing.

Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha said his LB671 would serve as an alternative to a broadened tax base.

The measure, if approved by the voters, would allow the 1967 Legislature to establish a lottery patterned after the New Hampshire lottery which raised $2,768,000 for local school districts last year, Mahoney noted.

Already Prevalent

Gambling is already prevalent in the state through uncontrolled and illegal bookies, he declared.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance, sponsor of LB630, said Colorado currently raises more than $2 million annually from dog racing.

William R. Janicek, a Dodge dog raiser, said hound raising would attract tourists, and allow the state to retain millions of dollars now wagered by Nebraskans in South Dakota and Colorado. Some $4.5 million is wagered by Nebraskans in North Sioux City each year, he said.

George Fulton of Beatrice, a former state senator, told the committee that a popular vote on dog racing would be "our best chance to see if the people still approve of horse racing in Nebraska."

Klaver argued that if his sweepstakes bill were enacted there would be no need for a broadened tax base nor for higher property taxes.

Would Bring The Best

Omaha attorney Roy Harrop said the bill would bring "the best horses and jockeys to Nebraska" to win purses which could total $200,000 for two sweepstakes races each year.

Opponents contended that gambling invites organized crime, that it results in moral corruption and economic distress, that it offers the lure of "easy money" instead of work and glorifies chance, instead of industry and thrift.

"Gambling is just like cancer," Omaha Police Capt. Ted Janning declared, "and a little cancer is too much cancer." Janning spoke for the Omaha Council of Churches.

"We are our brother's keeper," the Rev. Robert A. Heydon of Lincoln syggested.

Instead of providing state revenue through receipts from gambling, the Legislature should provide "an equitable tax system," he urged.

The Rev. Mr. Heydon spoke for the Nebraska Council of Churches, representing a number of Protestant faiths, including Methodist, Presbyterians, Baptists, the Nebraska Synod of the Lutheran Church, and the Disciples of Christ.

Grim Troopers Nix King Trek

. . . COURT, PRESIDENT DEFIED

Selma, Ala. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. defied a federal court ruling and a plea by the President of the United States Tuesday and staged a massive right-to-vote march.

Grim, blue-helmeted state troopers turned back the marchers in a tension-filled confrontation.

But the Negro integration leader told a mass meeting Tuesday night there would be another march Wednesday—this one to the Dallas County Courthouse. He said a second pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery 50 miles away would be attempted next week.

Earlier, in answers to questions by the Associated Press, King said that a federal judge's injunction against the march and President Johnson's appeal for restraint "reminded us of an action that condemns the robbed man rather than censuring the robber."

Asked how he justified violating the injunction and the President's appeal to abide by a court ban on marching, King said:

"We could not in good conscience ask the thousands of religious persons who expressed their indignation over the beating of our people last Sunday to return home without making their witness known."

It was Sunday that state troopers turned back hundreds of Negro marchers by the use of clubs and tear gas. Gov. George C. Wallace had ordered the march be stopped.

Wasn't There

King was not present.

Tuesday King faced his supporters, vowed "I must march" and placed himself at the front of a column of marchers that stretched for three quarters of a mile as it wended through city streets.

The march he made brought him face to face with a stern Maj. John Cloud, commanding a force of more than 100 blue-helmeted troopers, armed with billy clubs. Five hundred troopers had poured into Selma in advance of the march.

'Highway Safety'

"This march is not conductive to the safety of those using the highways," said Cloud. He spoke as he stood at the head of a line of troopers massed across the pavement. He ordered the marchers to return to their church.

When King tried to discuss the matter with him, Cloud replied that he had nothing more to say "except that the march will not continue."

"Can we have a prayer?" asked King. "We would like to have a prayer. We have some of the greatest religious leaders of the nation here."

"You can have your prayer and then return to the church," said Cloud. His troopers fell back away from the marchers as they knelt in clusters stretching in a long, uneven line for nearly one mile.

Then King told the hundreds of Negroes and scores of white religious leaders, some from as far away as New York, Boston and Washington, D.C., to turn back. The procession swung around. King was at the head of the column.

Marshal Reads Order

First halting the marchers at the approach of the river bridge was Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal H. Stanley Fountain of Mobile. Using a portable loudspeaker, Fountain read the order by U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. of Montgomery banning the demonstration.

"I was directed to read the order," Fountain told King. "We will not interfere with the movement."

King replied: "We are aware of the court order . . ."

"I will do nothing to interfere with this march," said Fountain. He then stepped aside. King led the march slowly across the steel arch of the Edmund Pettus Bridge, spanning the muddy Alabama at the edge of the Selma business district.

Sheriff On Bridge

On the four-laned bridge stood Sheriff James G. Clark. This took place at almost the same spot where state troopers beat back an attempted highway march Sunday with clubs and tear gas.

After the judge's order was issued banning the march, President Johnson announced in Washington that he had directed the Justice Department to join with the Negroes seeking a court order against police interference with demonstrations.

LBJ Urges Calmness

The President, deploring brutality to Negroes, also appealed for calmness, reasonableness and respect for law and order. An aide said Johnson made clear he wanted King to abide by the court ban on marching.

3 Ministers Assaulted; 1 Is Serious

Selma, Ala. (AP)—Three white ministers, who came here to participate in the civil rights march, were attacked Tuesday night by about five white men as they walked two blocks from City Hall.

One minister, the Rev. James Reeb, 38, of Boston, was seriously injured. Suffering head injuries, he was taken by ambulance 90 miles to University Hospital in Birmingham.

The Rev. Arlof F. Miller, 25, of Boston, and the Rev. Clark Olson, 32, of Berkeley, Calif., suffered minor injuries.

Jumped

Wilson Baker, city public safety director, said the three ministers of the American Friendly Community Church were walking by a cafe when the other men jumped them.

At least one of the assailants was reported carrying a club, Baker said. "We are making every effort possible to arrest the assailants," Baker said. He said descriptions of them were vague.

Baker was sitting in a police car outside a Negro church, where a mass meeting was in progress, when he received a report of the incident. He rushed to the scene.

Unconscious

At Burwell Infirmary, where the Rev. Mr. Reeb first was taken, it was said that he lapsed into unconsciousness after his arrival. When he couldn't be revived immediately, he was taken to Birmingham with a physician accompanying him. An attendant said that he appeared to have a severe skull fracture.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. reported the beatings to a mass meeting at a church. The 1,000 Negroes and white persons present paused for a moment of silent prayer for the three ministers.

"Selma had to show its true colors," King said. "It was cowardly work done by night. The ministers were brutally beaten and one was taken to a Birmingham hospital suffering from a brain concussion."

State Sweepstakes Measure Killed But Lottery, Hound Racing Survive

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Legislation to provide for state sweepstakes races in Nebraska was axed Tuesday by the Revenue Committee, but measures to authorize a state-operated lottery and permit pari-mutuel hound races survived motions to kill.

Killed on a 5-1 vote was LB773, Sen. Sam Klaver's sweepstakes bill which he estimated would have raised at least $5 million annually for local school districts.

LB630, the hound bill, and LB671, the lottery proposal, remained locked in committee after motions to kill produced 3-3 tie votes. Both bills propose a vote of the people on constitutional amendments.

Churches In Opposition

7All three gambling measures were sponsored for the purpose of increasing state revenue, and all three attracted opposition from church groups and the Railroad Shop Crafts.

Under questioning by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, a number of opposition spokesmen suggested that the state also review its current authorization for pari-mutuel horse race betting.

Little support was voiced for any of the three bills at the public hearing.

Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha said his LB671 would serve as an alternative to a broadened tax base.

The measure, if approved by the voters, would allow the 1967 Legislature to establish a lottery patterned after the New Hampshire lottery which raised $2,768,000 for local school districts last year, Mahoney noted.

Already Prevalent

Gambling is already prevalent in the state through uncontrolled and illegal bookies, he declared.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance, sponsor of LB630, said Colorado currently raises more than $2 million annually from dog racing.

William R. Janicek, a Dodge dog raiser, said hound raising would attract tourists, and allow the state to retain millions of dollars now wagered by Nebraskans in South Dakota and Colorado. Some $4.5 million is wagered by Nebraskans in North Sioux City each year, he said.

Klaver argued that if his sweepstakes bill were enacted there would be no need for a broadened tax base nor for higher property taxes.

Would Bring The Best

Omaha attorney Roy Harrop said the bill would bring "the best horses and jockeys to Nebraska" to win purses which could total $200,000 for two sweepstakes races each year.

Opponents contended that gambling invites organized crime, that it results in moral corruption and economic distress, that it offers the lure of "easy money" instead of work and glorifies chance, instead of industry and thrift.

"Gambling is just like cancer," Omaha Police Capt. Ted Janning declared, "and a little cancer is too much cancer." Janning spoke for the Omaha Council of Churches.

"We are our brother's keeper," the Rev. Robert A. Heydon of Lincoln syggested.

Instead of providing state revenue through receipts from gambling, the Legislature should provide "an equitable tax system," he urged.

An improved method of notifying property owners that improvement districts are being formed will be suggested to the City Council, according to Councilman John Comstock.

Comstock said that he and Councilman Ervin Peterson had studied the notification problem at the mayor's request, and had decided on a new policy "which should improve public relations with the property owners.'"

He pointed to the present policy as inadequate because many property owners are not aware a district has been formed until the city assesses them for the improvements.

Under present procedure, 51% of the property owners in a proposed improvement district are required to sign a petition requesting the formation of a district.

Many Not Contacted

Many times a large percentage of property owners are not contacted, Comstock explained.

The new method will require circulators of petitions to sign a statement to the effect that they have left a notice that a district is being formed with all property owners included in the proposed improvement district.

This method will not apply to water and sewer districts which the city creates itself. That problem will be solved later, Comstock said.

Not Official

Comstock emphasized that the council will not officially adopt the new policy by resolution or ordinance because of the possibility of the courts holding it to be a legally established procedure.

This could result in a court dissolving an improvement district if only one property owner was not notified, he said.

Lincoln And Omaha Crime Rate Up In '64

Washington (UPI) — The crime rate in Nebraska's two most populous cities in 1964 was far ahead of that in 1963, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Wednesday.

The 1964 figures were higher in all categories citied by the bureau, with the exception of aggravated assaults in Omaha. There were 36 such assaults in 1963 and 33 in 1964.

The FBI comparisons with 1963 figures in parentheses: murder or non-negligent manslaughter, Lincoln 3 (2), Omaha 22 (17); forcible rapel Lincoln 20 (13), Omaha 34 (32;), robbery, Lincoln 17 (13), Omaha 22 (17); forcible rape, Lin- sault, Lincoln 82 (50), Omaha 3 (36); burglaries, Lincoln 459 (396), Omaha 1,924 (1,384); larceny of over $50, Lincoln 529 (414), Omaha 985 (933); auto theft, Lincoln 151 (119), Omaha 1,342 (1,162).'

'Pride, Policy Imperil Peaceful Solution'

POSITIONS RESULT IN VIET STALEMATE

. . . Frenchman: 'We Wouldn't Fight'

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

Paris (AP)—France sees Viet Nam today as a crisis in which pride and policy forestall peaceful solution and heighten the danger of full-scale war.

In the French view, these two basic positions have achieved a stalemate bringing with it the possibility of a war between the United States and Red China.

If such a conflict occurred, France would refuse to take part in it, a highly informed French source said Tuesday. He indicated that this position has been made known to Washington.

Basic Positions

He put the fundamental positions of the two big powers concerned with Viet Nam this way:

—U.S. policy dictates negotiations only from a position of strength.

—Red China, prideful in its new position as a world power, refuses to risk loss of face by being frightened to the conference table.

"The United States would like to negotiate a solution," the informant said. "Red China would like to negotiate a solution. All the interested parties would like to negotiate a solution. But the two main adversaries, the United States and Red China, are prevented by their present policies from doing anything about it."

France and the Soviet Union have agreed to cooperate in trying to get Viet Nam talks started.

There has been a report that Red China has quietly let France know it would welcome French action as a go-between in getting negotiations started. This was denied by the French source, who said that so far neither the United States nor Red China has approached France.

A growing pessimism is evident in French circles that the situation rapidly is getting to the point where retreat by either side becomes more difficult.

They see the United States as having two fundamental choices: to talk over the Viet Nam problem or to make war.

They are not now certain that the second choice will not prevail. There is gloomy French foreboding that the United States will be ready to negotiate only after it has fully demonstrated its determination and military willpower. And they think by that time it may be too late.

The source feels that there is an element of national pride in the American position, but feels this could safely be set aside in the interests of peace.

U.S. Power Fact

"It is not necessary for the United States to demonstrate violently that she has more nuclear power, more missiles and more airplanes than anybody else," he said. "We know it. The Red Chinese know it. It is a fact of life.

"But the United States need not necessarily lose stature by negotiation. After all, we negotiated a solution to the Algerian rebellion and instead of losing stature, gained it."

This source did not touch on the American determination not to be driven from Southeast Asia, nor its resolution not to let its allies down.

'Realities'

The United States white paper on Viet Nam, in which North Vietnamese interference in South Viet Nam was documented, has not changed the French view. One French source said that while he felt the white paper was truthful, he was of the opinion that its presentation did not properly present "the realities."

The "realities," as the French see them, are simply that the United States, with assistance from South Viet Nam, is at war with North Viet Nam.

This reasoning would seem to approve action against North Viet Nam, but the French caution that the implications of extending the war are extremely clear.

What About Soviets?

The menace of escalation of the Viet Nam fighting into a U.S.-Red China war preoccupies French thinking. This inevitably brings up the question of what the Soviet Union would do if such a war occurred.

The source said he personally felt that the Soviet Union would not risk nuclear annihilation to go to Red China's aid.

As to the French position, he was clear. France would take no part in such a war, he said. He added that, in his opinion, with the possible exception of Britain, other countries "would fight to the last American dollar and last American soldier."

But whatever the possibilities, the French want to see negotiations started.

U.S. Politely Nixes Thant Bid For Talks

Washington (AP)—The United states politely dismissed Tuesday a new bid from U.N. Secretary General U Thant to open negotiations on a Vietnamese peace agreement. A spokesman said it is still awaiting some indication that the Communists are ready to "stop the aggression."

"We have told the secretary-general that we appreciate his suggestions," said State Department Press Officer Marshall Wright, "and we hope that all channels will be held open.

"Still hoping for a peaceful solution, we also still await some indication that the aggressors are prepared to talk about stopping the aggression."

Wright was asked at a news conference whether he was suggesting some easing of U.S. policy toward talks by hinting that the United States would be prepared to talk on the basis of "indications" that the North Vietnamese were prepared to stop supporting the Communist guerrilla forces in the south.

Wright would say only that his statement did not provide any new departure in American policy. From other sources it is understood that the United States would be prepared to conduct exploratory talks through diplomatic channels if the Reds "gave any indication" of readiness to halt the assault on the south.

JOHNSON . . . finishes Appalachia signing with a toss of his pen.

Johnson: Appalachia Aid Bill Ends 'Pork Barrel' Remedy

Washington (AP) — President Johnson signed the $1.1-billion Appalachian aid bill Tuesday and said, "This legislation marks the end of partisan cynicsm towards wants and misery."

"The dole is dead," Johnson said. "The pork barrel is gone. Federal and state, liberal and conservative. Democratic and Republican, Americans of these times are concerned with the outcome of the next generation, not the next election. That is what the provisions of this legislation clearly reflect."

Johnson signed the legislation in a ceremony in the White House flower garden attended by several governors from Appalachian states and a large congressional delegation from the area.

Separate Money Bill

The bill does not actually appropriate the $1.1 billion to aid the mountanious economically depressed 11-state area which extends from northern Pennsylvania to Alabama. It authorizes the program. A separate money bill will be submitted.

Governors on hand for the ceremony included William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, J. Millard Tawes of Maryland, Dan K. Moore of North Carolina, Frank Clement of Tennessee, Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky, Hulett Smith of West Virginia and James Rhodes of Ohio.

The bulk of the program, $840 million over five years, is to provide an improved highway network to open up the 165,000-square-mile region to industry and recreation. The other spending will be over two years for new hospitals, timber development, restoration of strip mine areas, vocational education and other projects.

States Can Veto

Each state will contribute 30% of the cost of the $1.2 billion highway program planned. The matching ratio various for the other programs. And each state can veto a project within its own borders.

The program will be administered by an Appalachia regional commission set up by the bill. It will consist of a presidential appointee and the governors of each of the 11 states or their representatives.

States included are all of West Virginia and parts of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia. Thirteen New York counties might be added later under a separate provision of the bill.

"It is fitting that such landmark legislation should be identified with the Appalehia region of our nation," Johnson said. "In our history no region has contributed more to shaping our destiny.

—IF WEST GERMANS RECOGNIZE ISRAEL—

Arabs Agree On 'Drastic Measures'

Cairo (AP)—Representatives of 13 Arab states agreed Tuesday to "drastic measures against West Germany" if it recognizes Israel, a spokesman reported.

The representatives met in an emergency session of the Arab League to consider steps in view of West Germany's offer to recognize Israel, arch-enemy of the Arab world.

Several members have demanded that the league sever diplomatic relations with Bonn and recognize East Germany if the Israeli-West German deal goes through.

'OK Any Decision'

Representatives of Jordan and Kuwait told newsmen they had received instructions from their capitals to "approve any decision without reservation." As the league met, Kuwait's national assembly proposed a diplomatic break with Bonn and recognition of East Germany.

Lebanese and other representatives left the meeting hall during the session to receive telephoned instructions from their capitals.

An official statement from Sudan said the government considered West Germany's decision was "an aggressive action directed against the Arab nation."

'Practical Reprisals'

"Reprisals on which we decided will have to be practical and capable of implementation," one delegate said.

Monarchists Jordan usually has been one of the reluctant ones to carry out agreements for united action because of a distrust for President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

With Jordan apparently in the bag, one question mark remains King Faisal's Saudi Arabia. Faisal and Nasser are in a dispute over Yemen, where the U.A.R. backs a revolutionary regime. Faisal has supported Imam Mohammed Al-Badr, the dethroned monarch.

Nasser Said Meddling In Eritrea

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia (UPI)—The United Arab Republic is training and equipping Eritrean exiles for guerrilla warfare against the Ethiopian government, according to informed sources here.

These sources believe that U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser's goal is to split Eritrea from Ethiopia and, through a puppet government, eliminate a vital United States Army communications station in Asmara, capital of Eritrea.

The guerrilla training is reported to be going on at Iraqi military bases under the direction of Egyptian officers stationed there, but the number of men involved is unknown.

Sources believe that Nasser's plan is to send the guerrillas into the Sudan and from there have them infiltrate across the border into Eritrea.

The new Sudan government formed last November has been giving open support to the so-called Eritrean Liberation Movement despite frequent protests by the Ethiopian government.

Eritrea, formerly independent, became an Italian colony at the turn of the century but after World War II joined Ethiopia under a federation scheme.

Major U.S. Link

The American installation at Asmara, known as Kagnew Station, is a major link in the United States' worldwide communications system and also is involved in space tracking operations.

Ethiopian government sources profess no concern over the possibility of Egyptian-trained guerrillas infiltrating Eritrea from the Sudan.

"We have a long border with the Sudan, and if they want to cause trouble for us we can give them plenty of trouble in their south," said one official.

"But we look on this as a temporary problem that will pass when the present caretaker government in the Sudan leaves office this spring."

'Herzog' Most Distinguished

New York (AP)—Saul Bellow's novel "Herzog," which has been at the top of the best seller lists since last fall, was awarded Tuesday the $1,000 prize for the most distinguished fiction of 1964 at the National Book Awards.

The winners of $1,000 prizes in the other four categories were:

History and biography—Louis Fischer, the Philadelphian who became an expert on Russia, for "The Life of Lenin." Fischer, who also has written on world affairs, Ghandi and Stalin, now is on the faculty of the Woodrow Wilson School of Princeton University.

Science, philosophy and religion—The late Norbert Wiener, for "God and Golem, Inc." The long-time teacher at Massachusetts Institute of technology was a pioneer in the field of communications and coined the term "cybernetics." His award-winning book was subtitled "a comment on certain points where cybernetics impinges on religion."

Poetry—The late Theodore Roethke, who at the time of his death in 1963 was poet in residence and professor of English at the University of Washington, for a collection of poems, "The Far Field."

Arts and letters—Eleanor Clark. for "The Oysters of Locmariaquer." California born, but long a resident of Connecticut, Miss Clark has written many stories, essays and reviews. She is the wife of writer Robert Penn Warren, who won the NBA poetry award for 1958.

Second Time

Bellow and Roethke were winners for the second time. The novelist won the 1954 fiction prize with "The Adventures of Augie March" and Roethke took the poetry prize for 1959 with "Words for the Wind."

"Herzog," Bellow's sixth novel, is the story of a middle aged English professor who has reached a critical point in his professional. marital and inner lives. Seemingly a failure, he persists in a sort of modern-day pilgrimage toward self understanding.

The awards, administered by the National Book Committee, are sponsored by three trade organizations in the publishing industry. Only American citizens are eligible for the prizes.

'Cow Of Year' Is From Beaver Crossing Herd

. . . Phillips Bros. Provide Winner 3rd Time In Row

For the third year in a row, a cow from the dairy herd of Phillips Bros. of Beaver Crossing has been named "Cornhusker Cow of the Year," in the brood cow contest sponsored by the Nebraska Inter-Breed Dairy Council.

A special plaque signifying the coveted honor was awarded during the annual meeting of the Nebraska State Dairymen's Association at the National Guard Armory here Tuesday.

The purebred Holstein cow winning the top honor is Valla Vista Rhoda Carey 3583620. In the brood cow competition, "a proving program designed to recognize great cows," she placed first among cows entered in both production and type.

A purebred Holstein cow owned by Willis Armbust of Millard has captured top honors in the "Meritorious Lifetime Production Award" program, sponsored by the Nebraska Inter-Breed Dairy Council.

The cow, which was 14 years, 10 months old at last calving, ranked first on the basis of producing a total of 194,380 pounds of milk and 7,361 pounds of butterfat in 12 lactations (4,190 days).

The winner, Wil-Brust Ginger Piebe Ormsby 3401299, has averaged 349 days in milk, and has produced 16,198 pounds of milk, 3.8 test, and 613 pounds of butterfat at an average of 12 lactations. The National Holstein Association recently recognized the cow as a Gold Medal Dam.

Also announced were winners in the "Cornhusker Dams or Production" contest. This competition is based upon the cow's own production, plus the production of her daughters and-or grandaughters or sons.

The top five cows:

1. U Neb Wilhelm Glendoris 3875599, purebred Holstein, University of Nebraska

Action Deferred On Call For Vote On 15th, O Site

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday deferred action on a resolution calling for a special May 4 election on the proposed city-county complex, pending study of evaluation of the properties by appraisers.

The resolution calls for a vote on a city-county complex at 15th and O if the proposal for the 10th and J site fails in the April 6 primary.

The deferral was to insure that a sufficient amount in bonds would be included in the issue if the property valuations from the 15th and O site should prove to be in excess of what was estimated, according to Commissioner William Grossman.

Out Of The Chute

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Like a snorting, kicking Brahma bull, a state income tax bill has come out of committee and onto the floor of the Legislature. Before it is laid to rest, one way or another, it will have been ridden by 49 riders. It isn't a very fancy concoction but it is accompanied by some frills in another bill.

The income tax measure calls for a flat rate, which means that there would be only one rate to be applied against incomes at all levels. So, if the rate was 2 percent, it would be 2 percent for the man making $4,000 a year and 2 percent for the man making $20,000 a year. This, at first, might not look very fair to you but at least take the time to figure the deal out. The $4,000 man, with a $1,200 joint deduction, would pay on $3,800 for a total tax of $76. The $20,000 man would pay $376, assuming a $1,200 deduction for him, too. Thus, the bigger income individual would pay $300 more in state taxes.

Differences In Dollars

And what would these people be getting out of? They would, under a state income tax as the situation now stands, get out of a state property tax levy of 9.14 mills or $9.14 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. Now the $4,000 a year income man might well be living in a $10,000 home.

If he is, his home has an assessed value of $3,000 against which all property taxes are levied. The state levy of 9.14 mills against that assessed value would call for a tax of just over $27. On the same theory, two and one-half times annual income, the $20,000 man might be living in a $50,000 home, although this could be stretching the rule of thumb a little.

That $50,000 would have an assessed value of $15,000 and be paying a state tax of about $137. So, under an income tax the $4,000 a year man would go from a tax of $27 to a tax of $76, paying about two and three-fourths more than is now the case. The $20,000-a-year man would go from a property tax of $137 to an income tax of $376, paying about two and four-fifths more than is now the case. The percentage of increase would be a little higher for the higher income man but only slightly so. And then, there is the question of which man is more able to pay the increase, regardless of amounts or percentages.

A man with $8 can give away $4 much easier than a man with $4 can give away $2. That is the sticky part of the income tax, particularly one that is not graduated in its rate, one that does not levy a heavier percentage against higher incomes. This might explain the fact that some labor groups have been opposed to the income tax and why farm groups have mostly favored it. In the case of the latter, they have large property holdings and small incomes. They can easily own property running into and beyond the $50,000 mark and still have income below $4,000 a year. Obviously, the fellow with large property holdings and a small income will benefit the most from the switch to an income tax. Of course, the meaning of such a switch for every individual is something every individual will have to figure out for himself but the above figures might provide some guides in arriving at these individual situations.

The income tax, obviously, would be of more merit if it were applied with a graduated rate according to income. This would mean that higher incomes were taxed at a higher percentage than lower incomes. This is the approach used by the federal government.

Yet, compared to a sales tax, even the non-graduated income tax is to be preferred. The sales tax cannot touch high incomes when they are put into stocks, bonds, savings accounts, etc. It cannot touch accumulated wealth, at least until it is spent and this can be an awfully long period of time.

And despite the fact that many people would be paying more under an income tax, it still is more equitable than the property tax. Accompanying the income tax bill is a separate measure aimed at repeal of the Duis amendment—that provision in our constitution which demands the state get out of the property tax field whenever it approves any other kind of tax. The amendment is one that denies the state the kind of flexibility it ought to have and its proposed elimination is well worth supporting.

Knocking Out Duis Limit

Coupled with the Duis amendment change are provisions for dividing any new tax income among the state, local school districts and cities. This, too, has merit but one wonders if it is a proper constitutional matter. The same thing could be done through law, which would permit the state to change at some time in the future should the need to do so ever become apparent.

Revival And Waste

Leon Keyserling, economic adviser to former President Truman, sees flaws in the Johnson administration's tax cut.

In what he called friendly criticism he expressed the opinion that the tax cut was not the best way to make war on poverty; that at least half the cut was wasted, which is to say that it contributed nothing to expanded production and new job creation.

Basic to this criticism was the complaint that the cut, in terms of dollars, benefitted those who least needed it, while doing very little for those in the low income bracket. The purpose of the war on poverty in Keyserling's view is to put a more solid economic base under the very poor. This cannot be done by enlarging the income of the wealthy.

Keyserling's answer was that a tax cut of one half of what it was with the federal government reserving the other half for a direct attack on poverty would have provided training and public work projects which did not ensue from the whole cut.

There could be economic logic in the Keyserling position. If the government took over all the means of production it could use the returns to guide the economy any way it wished, but this is a free enterprise country and there are times when the high dollar must come second to a principle of existence. We would say that in this instance if the federal government has reserved the means and the authority to conduct an effective anti-poverty program and still find enough merit in a tax cut that contributed a measurable share to an expanded economy, this would be the better way. At least it wouldn't be revolutionary.

Honor Among Thieves

The barbaric nature of communism as practiced by Red China is evident in its reaction to the Russian action against mobs attacking the U.S. embassy in Moscow. Red China has accused the Russians of giving aid to the United States by putting down the rioters who showed signs of completely demolishing the American embassy had they been left free to do so.

Attacks against embassies anywhere in the world are not likely to start any major fireworks. But a nation that would permit such an attack, much less encourage it, lives in violation of international law and in contempt of the essentials of peace.

In her position, Red China certainly demonstrates that she is not ready for any meaningful role in the affairs of the world.

Ambassadorial connections between nations have always been a vital means of communication. While nations have often been at odds with one another, they have respected the official representation and property of one another in each other's land.

If even this fundamental mark of respect and understanding cannot survive, then there is little hope for the world in the long run. If a nation will not protect the embassies located within it, it could hardly be expected to honor any kind of international covenant.

An embassy is a sign of at least minimum civilization. To have an embassy consistently abused is to be without even any spark of honor on the part of that nation where such abuse takes place.

A Pack On His Back

This bright new age of vocational specialization has some serious flaws.

The Wall Street Journal commented on this by noting that recent defense cutbacks are making gypsies of engineers. They work where the defense contracts go, some working for as many as four corporations in three years. One out of 10 engineers has become so fed up they have shifted to other lines of work.

Changes in the defense picture result in switches in production and away go the engineers to find work elsewhere. For instance, Boeing, at Seattle, is currently down on defense contracts and is releasing engineers. They are making for Burbank, California, where Lockheed, armed with new contracts, is hiring engineers. Grumann Aircraft, in Long Island, suddenly has a market for 2,000 engineers, but nearby the American Bosch Arama plant is letting off 1,000.

It is a situation that works against group or corporate loyalty, withholds the right to settle down somewhere while the frequent moves discount the engineer's earnings. Retirement plans for longevity with a company tend to become meaningless for the great majority.

This is not a good prospect for a young man preparing to be an engineer, but also cherishing the idea of settling down and growing with his company. Socially, the phenomenon is leading in some direction, but certainly not in the direction of the established custom of this nation. It is more in the pattern of The Man Without a Country.

Despite this there seems little reduction in the student demand for engineering. College enrollment in that field rose to 245,000 last fall, an increase of 5 per cent over the year earlier.

Claims Influence Still Bears On FCC

WASHINGTON — It has been seven years since this column exposed a $7,800 payment to the late Federal Communications Commissioner Richard Mack of Miami in connection with the award of Channel 10 in Miami. That column brought the resignation and indictment of Commissioner Mack, plus revocation of the Channel 10 license to National Airlines on the ground of skulduggery, politics, and a conflict of interest.

As of this week, however, argument and briefs filed before the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington make it appear that the FCC is still influenced by politics and conflicts of interest.

At the time this column was exposing the FCC's conflict of interest, Jan. 17, 1958, the FCC was vigorously defended by Broadcasting Magazine, published by Sol Taishoff. Channel 10 in Miami has now ended up partly in the hands of the man who most influences the FCC — the same Sol Taishoff.

Other applicants for Channel 10 claim that his 11.3 per cent ownership of the L. B. Wilson Co., which got this juicy TV license, is a conflict of interest. One applicant, Civic Television of Miami, also charges that Taishoff and his L. B. Wilson associates "attempted to cover up" the real facts.

The whole inside story reads like a piece of rags-to-riches fiction and illustrates why President Johnson is taking his time searching for an FCC commissioner with real guts before he fills the present FCC vacancy.

The story goes back to the day when David Lawrence founded the old United States Daily and employed a likeable, enterprising youngster born in Russia as copyboy and cub reporter. Sol Taishoff, then 22, rose rapidly. He got a job writing a radio column for the consolidated press, under the name of Robert Mack, saw the importance of radio, and, five years later, with Martin Codel, founded Broadcasting Magazine.

That magazine has now become the most influential and profitable in the radio-TV field. Taishoff, now sole owner, has built his own office building, and network moguls watch his editorials more than any other media in the nation.

Later, the FCC, revoking its Channel 10 license to National Air Lines in Miami, gave it to L. B. Wilson Inc., a company in which Taishoff then owned ten per cent of the stock. This award, however, was only temporary, and other applicants were invited to apply.

When these applicants did apply, lower FCC examiners and the board of review all recommended that L. B. Wilson Inc. should not be in a favored position because it was the temporary licensee.

Wallace Called Enemy Of South

WASHINGTON — Little Rock, Ark., forced President Eisenhower's hand. Oxford, Miss., compelled President Kennedy's intervention. Now a similar breakdown of law and order in Selma, Ala., confronts President Johnson.

As precedents for federal action increased, legislation followed to increase the federal power to act. It appears that the Selma incident will repeat the pattern by improving prospects for new legislation to set up federal voting registrars in disobedient sections of the South.

What is excitingly different about the new situation is that the administration feels strong enough to treat Gov. George Wallace and Sheriff James Clark as enemies of the South far more than of Negroes. The first to make this point was the President's former Senate colleague, Ralph Yarborough of Texas.

Yarborough cried "Shame on you, George Wallace" in an emotional attack upon the brutality with which the Selma paraders were treated. Negroes sought only their constitutional right to vote, said the senator, and Wallace should atone by patterning his conduct on that of "real Southerners" with a vision of the future.

Other Southerners have always admitted that Wallace was a threat to their hopes of deliberate speed in meeting the national demand for integration. They are groaning today in many quarters which have long managed to stave off the political and economic sanctions possible in the civil rights battle.

More clearly than most people, they have seen how a state's economy suffers from such incidents, even without federal pressure. While that has been sinking in, President Johnson shrewdly launched a national program for coordination of civil rights activities everywhere in the government.

He put it in the hands of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, who keyed it to law and order and the prevention of violence. The subject of federal contract standards arose, of course, as the President, who worked on that problem for John F. Kennedy, knew it would. The hint is not even very subtle with so many federal installations in the south.

Wallace, who made only token resistance at the University of Alabama, has apparently decided to be a hero in the black belt. The harm he may do the state as a whole will see increased use as an administration weapon. Such suggestions in the past have met with Southern cries of persecution. It appears that like so many other aspects of the American way, that, too, is changing.

The Alabama governor is seen here as a talented politician taking risks to rivet his hold on state power. His prestige was damaged when his state turned to Sen. Barry Goldwater and Republican congressmen. Whether he can get it back at home with Selma is uncertain.

Kennan Warns Against Escalation

WASHINGTON — The witness had just concluded his testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, speaking with the deliberation of one who weighs his words with the greatest care. In the momentary silence that followed Chairman J. William Fulbright said:

"I know of no one better qualified to comment on this than you are."

George F. Kennan had come out of his academic solitude at Princeton, where he is a professor at the Institute for Advanced Studies, to give his views on war and peace. Former chairman of the State Department's policy planning staff, ambassador to the Soviet Union and later to Yugoslavia, author of definitive studies on Russia that have won every literary award, Kennan's qualifications could not be disputed.

In his appearance before the committee and in two preceding speeches Kennan had uttered a grave warning. By escalating the war in Viet Nam, Kennan was saying the United States risks bringing Russia and China together again and facing the two nuclear giants almost alone. Asked by Sen. Stuart Symington, (D., Mo.), a former secretary of the Air Force, what would be the reaction to American bombing of China, Kennan replied:

". . . it is my feeling that in these circumstances they would feel themselves compelled to give military aid to China, probably short of getting in a nuclear exchange with us themselves. But in the process, I think, Soviet-American relations would be very seriously damaged for a long time to come.

"The problem we have over the next few years with the Chinese communist regime is a tremendously serious one, very, very, bitter and difficult, much greater than the problem with the Russians. If we are going to face successfully the solution of this problem with the Chinese I think we need all the help we can get and I think we need precisely something like a decent relationship with the Soviet Union.

"In other words, if we are going to cope successfully with the Chinese communists we must opt if we can — it does not lie with us—to have one communist adversary rather than two. It does not help us to force the Russians to come down on the Chinese side in the conflict against us."

It was no secret that privately several of the senators around the conference table were sympathetic to this view. But in the curious atmosphere prevailing in Washington, with pressures constantly growing to back President Johnson's moves in Viet Nam, little or no comment came from the senatorial side of the table. Similarly, knowledgeable specialists in the executive branch also agree that the greatest danger in Viet Nam may be uniting the two communist powers. They, too, are silent, since high policy is to push the war in Viet Nam to a point at which the North Vietnamese will end their help for the communist guerrillas and presumably end the conflict.

In a sense, therefore, Kennan is a unique figure. Others have questioned the administration's policy and at one extreme have denounced it. But they have done so without his broad range of experience and background.

This is not the first time he has spoken out when it might have been more discreet to be silent. In a series of lectures in London in 1957 he suggested the nee for nuclear disengagement i Central Europe along th lines of the plan proposed b Poland's foreign minister Adam Rapacki. The hard liners came down on hi with a savage attack.

In his address at the Pacem In Terris conference i New York, called to consider ways to implement Pope John XXIII's Encyclical o Peace, Kennan stressed the need to give serious consideration to proposals "looking to a restriction of the place of nuclear weapons in Europe's defenses." This would be one way to ease tensions and help build a working relationship with the Soviet Union. Behind this view is the assumption basic to the Kennedy administration's foreign policy in working out the nuclear test-ban treaty—that in a period of peace and prosperity the communist powers will relax totalitarian controls and make peaceful coexistence a reality.

In his third utterance, a speech at Princeton University, Kannan dealt more directly with the Asian confrontation. He called for a reduction of American involvement in the Far East. The United States must come to terms in some way with the prevailing political forces on the Chinese mainland, he told his academic audience.

One consequence of the widening conflict in Viet Nam is a hardening of attitudes here at home. Or, at any rate, those who do speak out for the most part express the view that this country must take any and all risks to subdue the communists guerrillas in Viet Nam.

It is difficult, therefore, for a more or less lonely voice like Kennan's to make itself heard.

No Crossbreeding

Lincoln, Neb.

What kind of government do Lincoln and Lancaster officials expect from their cross breeding program.

Where do they get the authority to carry on their program?

The city charter is supposed to delegate authority to Lincoln under home rule. The county receives some of its authority from the state. Rather than each unit following its own character of keeping thoroughbred stock they went to the state legislature a few years ago and received authority to cross breed the city's activities with that of the county.

Now they wish new housing facilities for further development of their cross breeding program. So far that have nicknamed the facility a city-county complex. But knowing the nature of breeders there must certainly be a fancier name than this for the cross breeders of Lincoln and Lancaster county.

There are some of us who prefer thoroughbred stock by each governmental agency and who hope the cross breeding effort will be urgently interrupted. A good way is to vote against the complex.

Crete's Problem

Crete, Neb.

In the Crete News issue of February 25 I found an amusing article on how the Crete school board is trying to convince the farmers of the surrounding area not to join another school district.

Closing the doors 40 days before school began on seniors four years ago wasn't easy to overcome. The Crete board disregarded education then. Valuation was all it had in mind.

Wilber and Dorchester deserve all the districts they gain. After all, they were good enough to accept our children to high school when Crete said no, unless the whole district comes in with its land.

Last week's Crete News stated that one prominent business man said that farmers only understand four letter words. I wonder why Crete wants such dumb people to consolidate with them so desperately? Is it to help pay for the debt they now carry?

Day Of Reckoning

Lincoln, Neb.

Scientific knowledge is now increasing so rapidly that it now takes 14 years of school to even obtain a job in step with the present, to say nothing of the future.

We are to have a great society, so we are informed, and that is what most everyone is hoping for—a society pictured by politics would help.

Many are puzzled by existing conditions of cold war, riots, crime, vandalism, so-called juvenile delinquency, dope addiction, alcoholism, etc.

Man has written trainloads of material on human behavior but has paid little attention to why we are here and what God has said about these present times. Man fared quite well until he got away from obedience to God's law and started pagan customs. For a long time now the young have learned first of mythical characters such as Santa Claus and characters (nonexistent) in Mother Goose books before they learn of God.

He said if the nations did not obey His laws for their own good He would break the pride of their power. Much of mankind believes that peace will come through good will and fellowship by the way of some yet unknown mystical event.

The Bible is the handbook to believe in. Christ did not say he came to bring peace but to rule the nations with a rod of iron. Our first need is self discipline.

What will the future world be like in the 1000 year reign of Christ: Man at that time will enter into a probationary period (that is, those who survive). There will be a cessation of crime, no artificial foods or flavorings. Man's dream of utopia will be surpassed by a system so far superior to anything man can accomplish at this time that man cannot envision it yet.

Something To Cherish

Lincoln, Neb.

Lincoln can be most fortunate in being able to say, "We have a Junior theater."

Drama can be considered an art as in combination of all other arts and crafts. Every other form of human activity is influenced by it.

These youngsters work long and hard for their very conscientious director, Mrs. William Hall, known to all in the Playhouse as "Lou."

The public should be awakened to the fact that these children, or rather young people, take this worthy work as a cultural and literary project. They work long hours and have produced many beautiful plays.

Hats off, too, to Mrs. Rita Shaw, who was director of the last show, "Many Moons." Adults would enjoy these shows just as much as the children do.

There are dozens of jobs to be done in a play production. Clothing must be prepared, scenery built, makeup considered and studied, lighting studied. Only he who has worked with amateurs can conceive the activity involved in play work.

The general public should share with these young people by attending the plays. They are working for you and they would love you for it. Help them by coming to their plays. We are proud of these youngsters and want you to share the joy.

They work where the defense contracts go, some working for as many as four corporations in three years. One out of 10 engineers has become so fed up they have shifted to other lines of work.

Changes in the defense picture result in switches in production and away go the engineers to find work elsewhere. For instance, Boeing, at Seattle, is currently down on defense contracts and is releasing engineers. They are making for Burbank, California, where Lockheed, armed with new contracts, is hiring engineers. Grumann Aircraft, in Long Island, suddenly has a market for 2,000 engineers, but nearby the American Bosch Arama plant is letting off 1,000.

It is a situation that works against group or corporate loyalty, withholds the right to settle down somewhere while the frequent moves discount the engineer's earnings. Retirement plans for longevity with a company tend to become meaningless for the great majority.

This is not a good prospect for a young man preparing to be an engineer, but also cherishing the idea of settling down and growing with his company. Socially, the phenomenon is leading in some direction, but certainly not in the direction of the established custom of this nation. It is more in the pattern of The Man Without a Country.

Despite this there seems little reduction in the student demand for engineering. College enrollment in that field rose to 245,000 last fall, an increase of 5 per cent over the year earlier.

Claims Influence Still Bears On FCC

WASHINGTON — It has been seven years since this column exposed a $7,800 payment to the late Federal Communications Commissioner Richard Mack of Miami in connection with the award of Channel 10 in Miami. That column brought the resignation and indictment of Commissioner Mack, plus revocation of the Channel 10 license to National Airlines on the ground of skulduggery, politics, and a conflict of interest.

As of this week, however, argument and briefs filed before the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington make it appear that the FCC is still influenced by politics and conflicts of interest.

At the time this column was exposing the FCC's conflict of interest, Jan. 17, 1958, the FCC was vigorously defended by Broadcasting Magazine, published by Sol Taishoff. Channel 10 in Miami has now ended up partly in the hands of the man who most influences the FCC — the same Sol Taishoff.

Other applicants for Channel 10 claim that his 11.3 per cent ownership of the L. B. Wilson Co., which got this juicy TV license, is a conflict of interest. One applicant, Civic Television of Miami, also charges that Taishoff and his L. B. Wilson associates "attempted to cover up" the real facts.

The whole inside story reads like a piece of rags-to-riches fiction and illustrates why President Johnson is taking his time searching for an FCC commissioner with real guts before he fills the present FCC vacancy.

The story goes back to the day when David Lawrence founded the old United States Daily and employed a likeable, enterprising youngster born in Russia as copyboy and cub reporter. Sol Taishoff, then 22, rose rapidly. He got a job writing a radio column for the consolidated press, under the name of Robert Mack, saw the importance of radio, and, five years later, with Martin Codel, founded Broadcasting Magazine.

That magazine has now become the most influential and profitable in the radio-TV field. Taishoff, now sole owner, has built his own office building, and network moguls watch his editorials more than any other media in the nation.

Later, the FCC, revoking its Channel 10 license to National Air Lines in Miami, gave it to L. B. Wilson Inc., a company in which Taishoff then owned ten per cent of the stock. This award, however, was only temporary, and other applicants were invited to apply.

When these applicants did apply, lower FCC examiners and the board of review all recommended that L. B. Wilson Inc. should not be in a favored position because it was the temporary licensee.

Wallace Called Enemy Of South

WASHINGTON — Little Rock, Ark., forced President Eisenhower's hand. Oxford, Miss., compelled President Kennedy's intervention. Now a similar breakdown of law and order in Selma, Ala., confronts President Johnson.

As precedents for federal action increased, legislation followed to increase the federal power to act. It appears that the Selma incident will repeat the pattern by improving prospects for new legislation to set up federal voting registrars in disobedient sections of the South.

What is excitingly different about the new situation is that the administration feels strong enough to treat Gov. George Wallace and Sheriff James Clark as enemies of the South far more than of Negroes. The first to make this point was the President's former Senate colleague, Ralph Yarborough of Texas.

Yarborough cried "Shame on you, George Wallace" in an emotional attack upon the brutality with which the Selma paraders were treated. Negroes sought only their constitutional right to vote, said the senator, and Wallace should atone by patterning his conduct on that of "real Southerners" with a vision of the future.

Other Southerners have always admitted that Wallace was a threat to their hopes of deliberate speed in meeting the national demand for integration. They are groaning today in many quarters which have long managed to stave off the political and economic sanctions possible in the civil rights battle.

More clearly than most people, they have seen how a state's economy suffers from such incidents, even without federal pressure. While that has been sinking in, President Johnson shrewdly launched a national program for coordination of civil rights activities everywhere in the government.

He put it in the hands of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, who keyed it to law and order and the prevention of violence. The subject of federal contract standards arose, of course, as the President, who worked on that problem for John F. Kennedy, knew it would. The hint is not even very subtle with so many federal installations in the south.

☆ ☆ ☆

Wallace, who made only token resistance at the University of Alabama, has apparently decided to be a hero in the black belt. The harm he may do the state as a whole will see increased use as an administration weapon. Such suggestions in the past have met with Southern cries of persecution. It appears that like so many other aspects of the American way, that, too, is changing.

The Alabama governor is seen here as a talented politician taking risks to rivet his hold on state power. His prestige was damaged when his state turned to Sen. Barry Goldwater and Republican congressmen. Whether he can get it back at home with Selma is uncertain.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Kennan Warns Against Escalation

WASHINGTON — The witness had just concluded his testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, speaking with the deliberation of one who weighs his words with the greatest care. In the momentary silence that followed Chairman J. William Fulbright said:

"I know of no one better qualified to comment on this than you are."

George F. Kennan had come out of his academic solitude at Princeton, where he is a professor at the Institute for Advanced Studies, to give his views on war and peace. Former chairman of the State Department's policy planning staff, ambassador to the Soviet Union and later to Yugoslavia, author of definitive studies on Russia that have won every literary award, Kennan's qualifications could not be disputed.

In his appearance before the committee and in two preceding speeches Kennan had uttered a grave warning. By escalating the war in Viet Nam, Kennan was saying the United States risks bringing Russia and China together again and facing the two nuclear giants almost alone. Asked by Sen. Stuart Symington, (D., Mo.), a former secretary of the Air Force, what would be the reaction to American bombing of China, Kennan replied:

". . . it is my feeling that in these circumstances they would feel themselves compelled to give military aid to China, probably short of getting in a nuclear exchange with us themselves. But in the process, I think, Soviet-American relations would be very seriously damaged for a long time to come.

☆ ☆ ☆

"The problem we have over the next few years with the Chinese communist regime is a tremendously serious one, very, very, bitter and difficult, much greater than the problem with the Russians. If we are going to face successfully the solution of this problem with the Chinese I think we need all the help we can get and I think we need precisely something like a decent relationship with the Soviet Union.

"In other words, if we are going to cope successfully with the Chinese communists we must opt if we can — it does not lie with us—to have one communist adversary rather than two. It does not help us to force the Russians to come down on the Chinese side in the conflict against us."

It was no secret that privately several of the senators around the conference table were sympathetic to this view. But in the curious atmosphere prevailing in Washington, with pressures constantly growing to back President Johnson's moves in Viet Nam, little or no comment came from the senatorial side of the table. Similarly, knowledgeable specialists in the executive branch also agree that the greatest danger in Viet Nam may be uniting the two communist powers. They, too, are silent, since high policy is to push the war in Viet Nam to a point at which the North Vietnamese will end their help for the communist guerrillas and presumably end the conflict.

In a sense, therefore, Kennan is a unique figure. Others have questioned the administration's policy and at one extreme have denounced it. But they have done so without his broad range of experience and background.

This is not the first time he has spoken out when it might have been more discreet to be silent. In a series of lectures in London in 1957 he suggested the need for nuclear disengagement in Central Europe along the lines of the plan proposed by Poland's foreign minister, Adam Rapacki. The hard-liners came down on him with a savage attack.

In his address at the Pacem In Terris conference in New York, called to consider ways to implement Pope John XXIII's Encyclical on Peace, Kennan stressed the need to give serious consideration to proposals "looking to a restriction of the place of nuclear weapons in Europe's defenses." This would be one way to ease tensions and help build a working relationship with the Soviet Union. Behind this view is the assumption basic to the Kennedy administration's foreign policy in working out the nuclear test-ban treaty—that in a period of peace and prosperity the communist powers will relax totalitarian controls and make peaceful coexistence a reality.

In his third utterance, a speech at Princeton University, Kannan dealt more directly with the Asian confrontation. He called for a reduction of American involvement in the Far East. The United States must come to terms in some way with the prevailing political forces on the Chinese mainland, he told his academic audience.

One consequence of the widening conflict in Viet Nam is a hardening of attitudes here at home. Or, at any rate, those who do speak out for the most part express the view that this country must take any and all risks to subdue the communists guerrillas in Viet Nam.

It is difficult, therefore, for a more or less lonely voice like Kennan's to make itself heard.

No Crossbreeding

Lincoln, Neb.

What kind of government do Lincoln and Lancaster officials expect from their cross breeding program.

Where do they get the authority to carry on their program?

The city charter is supposed to delegate authority to Lincoln under home rule. The county receives some of its authority from the state. Rather than each unit following its own character of keeping thoroughbred stock they went to the state legislature a few years ago and received authority to cross breed the city's activities with that of the county.

Now they wish new housing facilities for further development of their cross breeding program. So far that have nicknamed the facility a city-county complex. But knowing the nature of breeders there must certainly be a fancier name than this for the cross breeders of Lincoln and Lancaster county.

There are some of us who prefer thoroughbred stock by each governmental agency and who hope the cross breeding effort will be urgently interrupted. A good way is to vote against the complex.

Crete's Problem

Crete, Neb.

In the Crete News issue of February 25 I found an amusing article on how the Crete school board is trying to convince the farmers of the surrounding area not to join another school district.

Closing the doors 40 days before school began on seniors four years ago wasn't easy to overcome. The Crete board disregarded education then. Valuation was all it had in mind.

Wilber and Dorchester deserve all the districts they gain. After all, they were good enough to accept our children to high school when Crete said no, unless the whole district comes in with its land.

Last week's Crete News stated that one prominent business man said that farmers only understand four letter words. I wonder why Crete wants such dumb people to consolidate with them so desperately? Is it to help pay for the debt they now carry?

Day Of Reckoning

Lincoln, Neb.

Scientific knowledge is now increasing so rapidly that it now takes 14 years of school to even obtain a job in step with the present, to say nothing of the future.

We are to have a great society, so we are informed, and that is what most everyone is hoping for—a society pictured by politics would help.

Many are puzzled by existing conditions of cold war, riots, crime, vandalism, so-called juvenile delinquency, dope addiction, alcoholism, etc.

Man has written trainloads of material on human behavior but has paid little attention to why we are here and what God has said about these present times. Man fared quite well until he got away from obedience to God's law and started pagan customs. For a long time now the young have learned first of mythical characters such as Santa Claus and characters (nonexistent) in Mother Goose books before they learn of God.

He said if the nations did not obey His laws for their own good He would break the pride of their power. Much of mankind believes that peace will come through good will and fellowship by the way of some yet unknown mystical event.

The Bible is the handbook to believe in. Christ did not say he came to bring peace but to rule the nations with a rod of iron. Our first need is self discipline.

What will the future world be like in the 1000 year reign of Christ: Man at that time will enter into a probationary period (that is, those who survive). There will be a cessation of crime, no artificial foods or flavorings. Man's dream of utopia will be surpassed by a system so far superior to anything man can accomplish at this time that man cannot envision it yet.

Something To Cherish

Lincoln, Neb.

Lincoln can be most fortunate in being able to say, "We have a Junior theater."

Drama can be considered an art as in combination of all other arts and crafts. Every other form of human activity is influenced by it.

These youngsters work long and hard for their very conscientious director, Mrs. William Hall, known to all in the Playhouse as "Lou."

The public should be awakened to the fact that these children, or rather young people, take this worthy work as a cultural and literary project. They work long hours and have produced many beautiful plays.

Hats off, too, to Mrs. Rita Shaw, who was director of the last show, "Many Moons." Adults would enjoy these shows just as much as the children do.

There are dozens of jobs to be done in a play production. Clothing must be prepared, scenery built, makeup considered and studied, lighting studied. Only he who has worked with amateurs can conceive the activity involved in play work.

The general public should share with these young people by attending the plays. They are working for you and they would love you for it. Help them by coming to their plays. We are proud of these youngsters and want you to share the joy.

Minimum Wage Revival Try Fails

The Legislature declined esday, on a 16-25 vote, to vive a bill which would es-blish a $1-an-hour state inimum wage act with num-rous exemptions.

The measure, LB380, sponred by Sen. William Skarda of Omaha, had been killed in the Labor Committee.

Skarda said that such legislation would help stem the tide of the exodus of the young from Nebraska, and aid in industrial development.

"They're going to keep leaving," he warned.

Skarda indicated that he would be willing to amend the bill to the extent that it would apply only to a small segment of employes.

Statement of Principle

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff suggested that a minimum wage act should be established even if it only served as a statement of principle.

The continued entry of the federal government into state affairs will be accelerated by state refusal to accept responsibility in such fields, Carpenter declared.

Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha said he knows of examples in which some employes in the state are paid as little as 40 cents an hour.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha noted that the Legislature apparently believes it is "all right" to enact legislation establishing minimum prices for various merchandise, including cigarettes.

Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha said he opposes the proposal as a "matter of principle."

Any Price

Each individual, he said, should have the constitutional right to sell his services for any price.

Enactment of a minimum wage would result in unemployment, Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte argued.

"Is it better to allow a person to work for less than $1 an hour, or take him out of the work force and place him in welfare?" Craft asked.

Sen. Ira Paine of Grand Island said the bill would be unconstitutional.

'Long-Range' Plans Object Of Resolution

A tongue-in-cheek resolution proposing that Nebraska's Legislature make arrangements for Thanksgiving and Christmas observances on the theory it'll still be in business at that time was introduced Tuesday by Sen. George H. Fleming of Sidney.

In two months, the Legislature has averaged passage of less than one bill per legislative day, Resolution No. 25 noted.

The total of bills received appears likely to reach 900 and "the present mood and temperament of the legislative body indicates a continued deliberate and unhurried pace."

Specifically, the resolution proposed:

—That the lieutenant governor appoint a committee of five to purchase turkeys for a Thanksgiving dinner for the Legislature and employes, to be served in the chamber during mid-day recess.

—That a committee be named to purchase a Christmas tree and "suitable trappings."

—That a committee be appointed and directed to consider suitable programs for Labor Day, Halloween and New Year's Eve.

—"If the 75th session is adjourned prior to the above mentioned holidays, legislative celebration shall be cancelled, and may the best of Thanksgiving and Christmas be with each member of the honorable body at home."

Action on the resolution was deferred.

Governor Sends 9 New Bills To Unicam

Gov. Frank Morrison sent to the Legislature Tuesday nine new bills affecting operations of the State Agriculture Department

The additions hiked to 863 the number of bills received at the current session.

Sen. M. A. Kremer of Aurora, as chairman of the Agriculture Committee, delivered the measures for the governor.

On comment, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff wondered when the governor was going to send to the Legislature a meals and lodging excise tax, which Carpenter termed the "keystone of his great program." Morrison has advocated such a tax to obviate a sales or income tax or appreciable increase in the property tax.

Bills introduced Tuesday:

LB855—Rewriting laws on eradication of brucellosis.

LB856—Prohibiting sale or distribution of virulent hog cholera virus or modified live hog cholera vaccine in Nebraska.

LB857—Setting health requirements for the entry of livestock into Nebraska, and setting out Agriculture Department's duties in relation thereto.

LB858—Providing for the control and eradication of scabies in sheep.

LB859—Authorizing the Agriculture Department to destroy and remove swine exposed to hog cholera or affected, providing for reimbursement and injunctive remedy.

LB860—Revising regulations on garbage processing plants and increasing permit fee.

LB861—Revising regulations on rendering plants.

LB862—Imposing a duty on the owner of animals which die of anthrax and placing disposition of carcasses under the Agriculture Department's supervision.

LB863—Increasing the registration fees for restaurants, rooming houses, boarding houses, apartment houses, motels and tourist camps.

About 2,500,000, or one out of every 20 persons employed in the U.S., now work in health service industries. Medical advertisers promote their products through daily newspapers. In 1960, they invested $23.7 million in national newspaper advertising.

Authority OKs Airport Project

. . . $1.1 MILLION PLAN

The Lincoln Airport Authority has approved a $1.1 million improvement project for Lincoln Municipal Airport, including eventual opening of the northwest-southeast runway now closed to general aviation.

The authority voted Tuesday to ask the State Aeronautics Department for $287,150 in matching funds for a $561,800 construction program involving a taxiway and runway marking and lighting.

Construction will probably begin in 1966.

Overlaying

Other parts of the project, to be done in stages, include overlaying the northwest-southeast runway with asphalt, construction of turnouts and completion of runway and taxiway lighting.

The taxiway will tie the general aviation area into the northwest - southeast runway, currently used by the Lincoln Air Force Base as an emergency facility.

The authority also notified the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D.C., that Lincoln does not generally object to Frontier Airlines serving Columbus on its eastern segment.

The authority said it would work with Frontier management in working out any scheduling difficulties.

The authority also:

—deferred until next meeting any action on a request by city officials to release control of Huskerville to the city.

Appointed

—appointed Robert Phillips and Fred Eiche to prepare the authority's upcoming budget.

—decided to purchase emergency lighting equipment for the terminal and concourse from the Notifier Co. of Lincoln.

Liquor Body Ordered To License Kushner

The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission was ordered Tuesday to issue a retail beer license to Dwayne L. Kushner at 841 No. 27th.

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele, in his ruling, called the commission's denial of Kushner's request for a transfer from his former location at 1733 O as "unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious."

The City Council had refused to recommend approval on the basis of a Police Department contention that the proposed new location was outside the authorized beer and liquor outlet areas.

Judge Scheele ruled that the No. 27th location is wihin the general liquor policy of the City of Lincoln as far as limitation of licenses to certain specified business areas are concerned.

He said the new location was as much a commercial area as the former location.

"The evidence produced by the applicant shows that the proposed location is a major commercial center of the city and is identical in every respect to areas determined by the City to be reasonable and proper for such licenses," he said.

Nebraska Delegation Voices Opposition To Hospital Plan

Washington (AP) — A delegation of Veterans of Foreign Wars from Nebraska voiced opposition Tuesday to the proposed closing of the Veterans Administration Hospital at Lincoln, Neb.

The group attended a breakfast meeting of the state's congressional delegatin, which also heard M. O. Steen, Nebraska Game Commission director, discuss the outlook for wildlife and parks in the state.

Steen said everything possible is being done in Nebraska to encourage subdivisions to participate in the wildlife program.

But, he said, a little ground apparently is being lost with the expiration of conservation reserve contracts on farmlands. Steen is here for a meeting of the North American Wildlife Conference.

One Of 37

B. H. G. Eiting, state director of motor vehicles, told the breakfast Nebraska is one of 37 states joining in a vehicle safety compact.

The VFW delegation, headed by Roy Carveth of Lincoln, department commander, urged the state's members of Congress to try to keep the Lincoln hospital open.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said Congress could "nail it down" by preventing the Veterans Administration from spending appropriation bill funds for other purposes. He expressed belief that if hospital closings were delayed until July 1, "we would have them licked." July opens a new fiscal year.

Study Pending

Congress has directed postponement of the closings until May 1 pending a study by congressional committees.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., suggested Congress could refuse to make appropriations until the VA decided "to talk to us." But he said such an extreme measure would hurt thousands of veterans throughout the nation.

Others attending the breakfast were Larry Durfee, Lester Anderson, Kenneth Leland and E. L. Shelbourn with the VFW delegation, and Clarence Davis, member of the Board of governors of the American Bar Association, all of Lincoln.

Lee Charged In Omaha Fatality

Omaha (UPI) — Leonard Harold Lee, 38, Omaha was charged in connection with the traffic death of a woman early Saturday.

Bond was set at $1,500 by Municipal Judge O. M. Olsen.

Lee is accused on a felony count of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

Mrs. Emma Marrin, 75, of Omaha, was killed when struck by a car as she walked along Fontenelle Blvd.

Lee came to police Sunday after reading a description of the car sought. Police said he told them he recalled hitting a patch of ice and hearing a bump as he drove along the boulevard early Saturday. He told police he stopped, looked back, and saw nothing.

People In Pain Fill Quacks' Coffers

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Staff Writer

"People spend $250 million a year on quackery, but I can understand why they do it—because of pain," said Dr. William D. Paul, head of Physiotherapy and director of polio clinics and rehabilitation at the University of Iowa.

He spoke Tuesday night at an arthritis and rheumatism medical forum.

"When we talk about arthritis," said Dr. Paul, "it is a misnomer because there are 46 types of arthritis." Dr. Paul said there are four main types of arthritis: Rheumatoid, which usually affects younger people; degenerative, which affects older people; gout, which is one form of arthritis that "we can do a great deal about"; and bamboo spine, which is a deformity of the spinal column.

Greatest Crippler

Rheumatoid is the greatest crippler, Dr. Paul said. It can occur from "cradle to grave." On a national level, more women have it than men, although in this part of the country it is more prevalent in men, he said.

The electron microscope has played a great role in helping to discover more about arthritis, Dr. Paul said, and surgery is becoming more important in correcting deformities.

Dr. Paul said that many of the so-called wonder drugs are hoaxes. "Aspirin is the druggist's choice," he said, and cortisone is the final resort.

In a panel discussion, Dr. John C. Thompson, local internist, said that "conservative treatment" of arthritis comes first. Rest and aspirin should precede gold treatments, surgery and cortisone, he said.

Eat Anything

Dr. Paul said that diet doesn't play a large part in the treatment of arthritis. "You can eat anything you want as long as you don't gain weight," he said.

Tom Journey, physical therapist, said that dry and moist heat are used a great deal in physical therapy. He added that a person should avoid any apparatus under his knees and head that relieve pain temperarily. Joints might become fixed in that relieved position, he said.

Dr. Fred Webster, orthopedic surgeon, and Dr. J. A. Cain, general practitioner, were also on the panel.

Missile Site Sales Slated; Priorities To Be Set By GSA

The federal govermnent has decided that certain Atlas E, Atlas F and Titan I missile sites are in excess and has decided to sell them.

Twenty-seven Atlas E sites near Spokane, Wash., Cheyenne, Wyo., and Pauline, Kan., 24 Atlas F sites near Lincoln and Salina, Kan., and 24 Titan I sites near Moses Lake, Wash., will be on sale.

William Wolf of the eastern division of the General Services Administration, said, "We want to see what kind of interest it will generate."

Write

Groups or persons interested should write the administration no later than April 8. "When we get letters," said Wolf, "we want to contact them (the writers) through regional offices and see why they want" to buy sites.

There are no limitations on uses of the sites, Wolf said, but some uses will get priority over others. For instance health education, park or recreation projects would get first choice and a discount price. Federal agencies have top priority, followed by state, county and city. If none of these is interested, the sites will be sold at public sale.

Wolf said, "We're not too sure what they can use them for," but suggestions from letters received include storage of microfilm and a reservoir for a small community.

Tours

Sites near Abilene, Tex., and Roswell, N.M., can be toured March 8 through April 5. Sites like the ones near Lincoln can't be seen yet because they are still on alert.

Bids are not being accepted at this time, only letters of interest.

Action On New East High School Deferred Pending Study Of Funds

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Action on the plans for the new East High School was deferred by the Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday in order to consider sources of funds for the construction.

School Board President James Stuart's suggestion that architect Ellery Davis be asked to go ahead with preparation of plans for bids was rejected until board members "were sure of everything."

School Supt. Dr. Steven Watkins said that some decisions need to be made immediately in order to get the new school open by the fall of 1967, a year later than the date originally sought.

A Shell

The East High facility, which will take over most of the adult education and the University of Nebraska practice teaching, is estimated to cost $4,720,000 plus furniture expenses with the fourth floor of the academic wing only a shell. It would take $300,000 to finish the shell into classrooms.

Watkins said that the school could expect about $300,000 vocational education facility aid from the state and between $400,000 and $500,000 from the University. The rest of the construction will be financed by bonds, he said, estimating that $4.6 million remain out of the $12 million school bond issue.

Immediate future needs of other schools will need to be considered by the board, according to Watkins. He feels that Ruth Prytle School in east Lincoln would be the first to need an addition, and that a Belmont Junior High is always a possibility.

Stuart reminded the board members that they were dealing with an "educational complex" and were not after the cheapest method of schooling. The remark was in reply to objections raised to the expense of special education areas planned in the building.

The superintendent indicated after the meeting that if the board determines there is not enough money for the present plan, an alternate plan which would bring the cost down would be accepted.

Centers Dissolved

In other action the board dissolved the child centers at Irving, Lincoln Northeast and Lincoln Southeast to allow more classrooms for secondary level students. Watkins said the children would be absorbed by Huntington, Bethany and Brownell in northeast Lincoln and at Prescott, Sheridan and Beattie in the south.

Closing 12 schools to new out-of-district permits was also approved because of space limitations. They are Belmont, Bethany, Charles Culler Junior High, Dawes, Eastridge, Holmes, Meadow Lane, Merle Beattie, Norwood Park, Pershing, Robin Mickle Junior High and Sheridan.

Boundary changes approved for next year's registration increase the Sheridan school district, add Trendwood and Lincolnshire Estates subdivisions to the May Morley district, and reset the Irving Junior High boundaries—optional the first year.

Total Area Increased

Revised plans for the food warheouse to be located near Lincoln High School received favorable action. An addition of 2,000 square feet was included in plans for the storage section, increasing the total area to 5,690 square feet.

The board also approved the lease of the Weese tract at 56th and Normal Blvd. to Joy Henry of Elmwood for $300 for eight months and accepted the bid of Energy Enterprises to rewire Calvert and Willard schools for $28,000.

Watkins said the children would be absorbed by Huntington, Bethany and Brownell in northeast Lincoln and at Prescott, Sheridan and Beattie in the south.

Closing 12 schools to new out-of-district permits was also approved because of space limitations. They are Belmont, Bethany, Charles Culler Junior High, Dawes, Eastridge, Holmes, Meadow Lane, Merle Beattie, Norwood Park, Pershing, Robin Mickle Junior High and Sheridan.

Boundary changes approved for next year's registration increase the Sheridan school district, add Trendwood and Lincolnshire Estates subdivisions to the May Morley district, and reset the Irving Junior High boundaries—optional the first year.

Total Area Increased

Revised plans for the food warheouse to be located near Lincoln High School received favorable action. An addition of 2,000 square feet was included in plans for the storage section, increasing the total area to 5,690 square feet.

The board also approved the lease of the Weese tract at 56th and Normal Blvd. to Joy Henry of Elmwood for $300 for eight months and accepted the bid of Energy Enterprises to rewire Calvert and Willard schools for $28,000.

National Protest Stirs Over Alabama Violence

By United Press International

Thousands of persons marched and demonstrated across the nation Tuesday protesting violence against Negroes in Alabama.

Evening rush hour traffic was tied into knots on Chicago's busiest shopping street and traffic was paralyzed around the FBI headquarters on New York's East Side.

Twenty-five demonstrators were arrested in Chicago when they sprawled or sat in front of buses and taxicabs at State and Madison Streets in the heart of Chicago's Loop.

Blocked Elevators

Four ministers, including the chaplain of Claremont College, and eight other persons were jailed briefly when they sat in and blocked elevators at the Federal Building in Los Angeles. U.S. Atty. Manual Real said he released the 12 after questioning them.

An estimated 10,000 persons joined Michigan Gov. George Romney and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh in a protest march down Woodward Avenue, Detroit's main street.

Three-thousand persons attended a Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) rally at the University of California in Berkeley and planned a mass rally at the Oakland, Calif., City Hall.

Prayer Session

New Hampshire Gov. John W. King and about 50 other persons participated in a 10-minute prayer session on the front lawn of the Statehouse at Concord, N.H.

An out-of-work television actor, Donald Cohen, 42, staged a hunger strike on a sidewalk in downtown Springfield, Mass.

On Capitol Hill, member after member of the House voiced shock or displeasure at the beatings of Negro demonstrators in Selma. They used such terms as "brutal clubbings and beatings" and "unparallelled brutality."

Scores of Detroit's labor, religious and civil rights leaders joined the massive protest in the Motor City. The march at one time stretched seven blocks down Woodward Avenue.

Romney told the protesters "We are here to do what we can to see that what happened in Selma doesn't happen again." Cavanagh said it was "one way of showing our great shock, anger and concern over what has taken place." Police Inspector Thomas Turklay, who made the estimate of 10,000 participants, said 75% of them were white.

Five Iowa state representatives filed a joint resolution urging the President to "use his rightful and just power to protect the right to peaceful assembly and demonstration" in Alabama. Twenty-one California assemblymen called on Katzenbach to protect marchers at Selma.

'Shaken The World'

The Baptist Ministers Conference of Newark, N. J., scheduled a prayer vigil on the steps of city hall. New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes wired Katzenbach, urging federal intervention, including the use of U.S. marshals, and said: "What is happening in Alabama today is not an internal affair, but one which has shaken the nation and the world."

More than 100 Chicago area ministers flew to Alabama to join the Selma marchers. Dr. Edgar H. S. Chandler, executive director of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, said their "consciences have been stirred and shocked by the outrageous brutality displayed by the Alabama state troopers."

The National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice said "virulent racism" was as evident in Alabama as it was in Nazi Germany.

Mario Savio, leader of a "Free Speech Movement" at the University of California, led a group of 10 persons from San Francisco to Selma.

Switch Set In NU's Grading

The University of Nebraska grading system will be changed from numbers to letters effective September 1965 as the rsult of action taken by the Faculty Senate Tuesday afternoon.

The senate passed a motion by Dean Walter Militzer of the College of Arts and Sciences urging the adoption of the grading system of A, B, C, D, and F with point value of 4, 3, 2, 1, and 0 for these grades. The motion also called for I to stand for incomplete and W for withdrawn.

The University has been using a numbers system for some 20 years with nine being the highest grade possilbe.

Most other institutions in the country are using the letter-grade system.

Soviet Congress Calls For World Conference

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet Union and 18 visiting Communist Parties called for a meeting of 81 parties to prepare for a full-scale world conference to deal with the Sino-Soviet conflict.

A communique issued by a Moscow Communist Congress which ended Friday went on record as favoring a reconciliation of the differences between Moscow and Peking.

Trails West Unit Headed By Morrison

North Platte (AP)—Gov. Frank Morrison has been named to head the Trails West Foundation, a six-state tourist promotion organization.

Morrison said at an airport press conference Tuesday that he was named at a meeting earlier in the day at Rapid City of the governors and their representatives of Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado and Montana.

The group will meet again in April in Montana at a city to be named later.

Special markers will mark the "Trails West" routes in the states. Morrison said that in Nebraska the route will follow U.S. 30.

STUDENTS' HONESTY SHOWING

Last weekend's icy streets brought out the honesty in two University of Nebraska students.

A University employe parked her car near 12th and U. A student's car slid into the parked car doing minor damage. He surveyed the damage, and left a note on the windshield.

Later, a second car slid into the parked car and caused further damage. A second note was left on the windshield.

The car's owner returned to find the damage, and noticing one note, called the first student. He was surprised at the amount of damage, and a second check revealed the second note.

A conference resulted, and the two students decided to split the cost of the repairs in half.

RIGHTS GROUP HAULED AWAY

. . . Whites, Negroes Pushed From Federal Office

Washingotn (AP) — Government police waded into a crowd of singing, chanting demonstrators and hauled them bodily away from the office of Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach Tuesday night.

The government guards, using only their bare hands, separated the demonstrators —white and Negro — who had locked arms as they swayed and chanted civil rights songs.

A guard official had addressed the demonstrators at 6 p.m. when the Justice Department officially closed.

"You may now leave voluntarily by this elevator," he said. His reply was a shout from a Negro, which was picked up and became a chorus of "ain't gonna let nobody turn me 'round."

As the guards hauled the young men and women into two waiting elevators, the rest of the group continued their chanting and singing and clapping.

In the melee, white guards were hauling away Negroes and whites. Negro guards were doing the same.

There was no violence beyond the force required to remove the demonstrators.

Selma Protest

The demonstrators were demanding federal protection for marchers at Selma, Ala.

A team of about 30 policemen cleared the corridor of what guards estimated at 170 young persons, herded them into the elevators and pushed them out onto the street where other policemen dispersed them.

The attorney general announced Tuesday night that the Justice Building would be open Wednesday only to employes and to persons with reasons for entering so the department can carry on with its business.

WALLACE RULE OF 'RACE HATE, DEFIANCE,' HIT

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Alabama Atty. Gen. Richard M. Flowers said Tuesday that Alabama is "being ruled by race hatred and defiance."

"In Alabama there is so much hate that it just hurts you to see it," he said in an interview.

Flowers was here for the Southern Attorney General's Conference, which ended at noon Tuesday.

"I have been at tremendous odds with (Alabama Gov) George Wallace and I have always taken a strong stand for law and order," he said.

"Race hatred and defiance of law is wrong in the eyes of the law and it is wrong in the eyes of God," Flowers said.

He said that the people in Alabama "are looking at things more realistically" and are "becoming more aware that defiance is futile, that this is not the answer."

Flowers harked back to Wallace's "stand in the schoolhouse door" in an effort to block desegregation of the University of Alabama, and he called it "the greatest production since 'Cleopatra.' "

"It accomplished absolutely nothing," Flowers said.

Ex-Nazi's Son Claims Soviet Agents Also Sought Father

Sao Paulo, Brazil (AP) — The trunk murder case of ex-Nazi Herberts Cukurs took another new turn Tuesday with the claim by Cukors' son that Soviet agents may have been involved in his father's death.

The body of the elder Cukurs, accused of killing 30,000 Jews in Latvia in World War II, was found in a trunk in Montevideo, Uruguay, last Saturday. Police there acted on a tip to the Associated Press office in Bonn, Germany, that a group calling itself "Those Who Never Forget" had killed Cukurs in Montevideo on Feb. 23. Authorities in Germany said they had never heard of such an organization.

A medical autopsy in Montevideo disclosed Tuesday that Cukurs had been beaten to death with a hammer. Previously police had reported Cukurs was shot to death, saying three spent cartridges were found on the floor of the house in which the trunk and its grisly contents were discovered.

Sao Paulo police said the dead man's son, Gunnar, 24, worked with the father in running an airplane rental and tourist excursion business in Sao Paulo. Officers said Gunnar told them that his father had been sought as much by the Soviets as by the Jews for his wartime activities in Latvia against the Communists.

General Aniline Is Sold By U.S. To Syndicate

Washington (AP) — The government unlocked its reluctant 23-year-old control of the giant General Aniline & Film Corp. Tuesday, selling its 93.5% stock control to syndicate for resale to the public in small parcels.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach announced acceptance of a bid of $29.476 a share—$329,141,926.49 for 11,166,438 shares —submitted by a syndicate headed by First Boston Corp. and Blyth & Co.

The syndicate offered the stock for public sale at $30.60. In the surge of across-the-counter bidding in New York minutes after Katzenbach's announcement the sales began at around $31.

That was below the $36 bid and $36¾ asked closing price Monday on the 771,721 shares that have been traded publicly on a fluctuating market. But after the initial sales the price on the former government stock dropped to around $31 a share and then firmed up around $32 for the day.

The government's action Tuesday virtually ends its role in one of the longest and most complex court cases in history, touched off when the United States seized the stock in 1942 as an enemy asset of Nazi Germany.

Interhandel, a Swiss holding company which owned most of the general Aniline shares, fought the seizure over the years. Twice the case reached the U.S. Supreme Court during 16 years of litigation.

Neal Better, Not Critical

Hollywood (UPI) — Academy Award actress Patricia Neal, left near death by two strokes Feb. 17, has improved and is no longer in critical condition, her doctor reported Tuesday.

The 39-year-old star has won at least a temporary victory in her fight for life, it was indicated by medical sources.

In a guarded statement released by the UCLA Medical Center where she underwent brain surgery, the doctor would say only:

"Patricia Neal is no longer on the critical list. There has been some slight improvement in her condition."

C Of C President Wants City To Be Agresearch Center

Developing Lincoln and the University of Nebraska into the "agricultural research center of the world" was proposed Tuesday as a solution to the city's immediate economic decline and the world's population explosion.

Tom Pansing, president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, launched the "trial balloon" at the Rotary Club meeting in a speech on "Lincoln: Where Are We and Where Are We Going?"

"Brains is big business," Pansing declared. "By 1980 people will be beating a path to Lincoln," he claimed, if the "Harvard of agriculture" is created at the University.

Pansing cited the large sums being poured into certain schools for research. He also noted that by the year 2,000, it is estimated the world's population will surpass its food production abilities.

Emphasizing the importance of agriculture in the area's economy, Pansing suggested that related industries would be natural by-products of such a research center, such as processing, packaging and transporting. They would, in turn, further stimulate agriculture, he said.

A span of over 15 months has now elapsed since the tragic November day when John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

The shock and horror of the event has pasted its' strong existence in most peoples minds. Again we have experienced and now understand the phrase, "time heals all wounds."

The book entitled, "The Kennedy Years," by Faber, finally has left the best seller list after an extended reign since the former president's assassination.

Due to the efforts of Mrs. Kennedy, the treasured memos of her husband will remain with us and be available to us forever.

Clubs Active In Art, Oratory

Mrs. Josephine Eyen of the Lincoln Toastmistress Club is in charge of arrangements for the April 25 meeting of the Cornhusker Council 5, North Central Region, of International Toastmistress Clubs.

A highlight of the meeting will be the annual speech contest, in which top winners from clubs in Omaha, Lincoln, Bellevue and Shenandoah, Iowa, will compete to represent the council at the regional speech contest in Milwaukee, May 22 and 23. Contest chairman will be Mrs. Bryan Stromer of the Lincoln Club.

Miss Lois Grow, Mrs. Henry L. Holst and Mrs. W. E. Woodworth of the Lincoln Club will compete next Monday evening to determine the club's representative in the council contest. Each has won first place in the club's contest series with Miss Grow placing first in the final contest last Monday.

Mrs. Elmer L. Peterson of Elkhorn, state art chairman for the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, has announced that March 15 is the deadline for submitting entries in the annual art talent contest for high school seniors.

Co-sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Hallmark Cards, the contest will select state winners who will compete for three national art scholarship awards of $1,000, $750, and $600.

The annual meeting of the University of Nebraska YWCA will be held Saturday afternoon at the Sheldon Gallery following a special program, "The Image of Woman in Modern Art," at 1:30 o'clock. The program is open to the public.

THETAS

Already hard at work planning the activities for the district convention of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority which will be held in Lincoln later this month, are various committees. One of the important ones is the 'social' committee which, by the way, also plans the convention decor. The social committee including, left to right, Mrs. Dick Youngscap, Mrs. Charles Stuart, Mrs. Sam Olson and Mrs. Joseph Wachter, met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Olson. As one may see by the picture, targets will be much in evidence—suggesting the aims of the sorority.

TALK
Of The Town

There always is something to talk about around the town—This morning we have news of homecomers—a foursome of travelers who are returning from the Orient.

Arriving home today will be Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Emerson, Mrs. Arthur Dobson and Mrs. Ernest Guenzel who left in mid-February for Japan, Hongkong and points here and there.

* * *

We hear that there is to be some festivity at the Pioneer Apartments next Sunday—Forty guests have been invited for a 2 o'clock-to-4 o'clock coffee which will be held in the party room. Miss Mary Atwood will be in charge of the refreshment table for which she has chosen a St. Patrick's motif.

Serving during the coffee hours will be Miss Leah Noble, Mrs. Willard Dunigan, Mrs. Velma Hodder and Mrs. John Diamond.

Greeting the guests at the door will be Dr. and Mrs. Adin Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maxwell.

* * *

If Miss Alaska should win the national Junior Miss contest which is coming up soon, Lincoln will be able to bask in reflected glory.

Miss Alaska is Miss Linda Londborg and just last year was a junior at Northeast High School. At present she is a senior in the high school at Una La Kleet, Alaska.

The young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Londborg, and the family resided in Lincoln while Mr. Londborg was taking graduate work at the University of Nebraska.

DAR Will Convene

Mrs. J. Carl Evans of Omaha, state regent, will preside at the 63rd annual state conference of the Nebraska Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, to be held at Scottsbluff on Thursday and Friday.

The conference will open Wednesday evening with a meeting of the state board, and special guests will be Mrs. Francis F. Birnbaumer of Lincoln, vice president general of the national DAR; Mrs. Charles Carroll Haig of Washington, D.C., past treasurer general of the national society; and Mrs. Leonard L. Hayes, state regent of the Wyoming DAR.

Mrs. Haig will address the delegates on the topic, "Phases of DAR Work," at the Friday evening banquet, and featured speaker at the Thursday night dinner will be the Rev. Ward R. Conklin, minister of the First United Presbyterian Church of Scottsbluff, whose subject will be, "The Salvation of the State is Watchfulness in the Citizen."

ABBY
Professional Aid Needed

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: One particular letter in your column caught my eye. It concerned a 23-year-old girl who had been married for six years, had two children, hated her husband, and was drifting unhappily from one affair to another. I couldn't help but wonder if that will be me in another three years, if my marriage lasts that long. I am not quite 20, have been married three years, have two darling children, and a wonderful husband who doesn't drink, gamble or run around. He's a steady worker and gives me his whole pay check, yet I can't resist other men. What is wrong with me? I don't need sex. To tell you the truth, I don't even enjoy it with my own husband. Can you help me?

"ROTTEN INSIDE AND FEELING GUILTY"

DEAR "ROTTEN": If you were really "rotten," you wouldn't be "feeling guilty." Nor would you have written to me. You need more help than I can give you in a letter. If you can't afford to see a psychiatrist, go to your Family Service Association. They have qualified counselors who are experienced in helping people with problems like yours. If you don't seek professional help, it will indicate that you are fighting it less and enjoying it more.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARVIN H. IN ONAWA, IOWA: I see nothing objectionable about the off-the-shoulder, drape-type portraits, with a little pearl dangling down. It's the exposure of cleavage that offends me in the graduation portrait of a high school girl.

WHAT They're Reading

A span of over 15 months has now elapsed since the tragic November day when John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

The shock and horror of the event has pasted its' strong existence in most peoples minds. Again we have experienced and now understand the phrase, "time heals all wounds."

The book entitled, "The Kennedy Years," by Faber, finally has left the best seller list after an extended reign since the former president's assassination.

Due to the efforts of Mrs. Kennedy, the treasured memos of her husband will remain with us and be available to us forever.

It is unusual for two books to leave the list in one week but looking at the new ratings you will agree it equals a "fruit basket upset" appearance. Here then is that exciting new list:

BEST SELLER LIST

Fiction

1. "Herzog" Bellow
2. "The Man," Wallace
3. "The Rector of Justin," Auchincloss
4. "Funeral in Berlin," Deighton
5. "The Horse Knows the Way," O'Hara
6. "Hurry Sundown," Gilden
7. "The Legend of the Seventh Virgin." Holt
8. "The Rough Magic," Stewart

COMMUNITY SAVINGS STAMPS

NEWS

of activities in suburban areas

We have a March word of caution—don't take down the storm windows yet. There is nothing so frustrating as below zero temperatures or a snow storm after the heavy storm windows have been stored away until the next cold season.

Predictors have it that large amounts of snow are to fall before March becomes a rememberance of the past.

Suburbia is disregarding the predictions, however. Instead, they continue to entertain and travel.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moss drove to Lawton, Iowa, last Sunday to visit with Mrs. Moss's mother, Mrs. Clara Nicholas, and then decided to bring her back to Lincoln with them. Mrs. Nicholas is here for an indefinite stay, but when she leaves it won't be for home, we hear. Instead, Mrs. Nicholas will head for Manassas, Va., where she will visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Brill. From their she will travel on to Arlington, Va., where she will be a guest in the home of her daughter, Miss Mable Nicholas. All in all, we might say Mrs. Nicholas has an exciting month ahead of her, and time will not be any barrier to her.

Another Sunday birthday celebrant was Miss Joanne Lococo. The anniversary dinner took place at the home of Joanne's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Lococo Jr. Also present for the family gathering were Joanne's father, James Lococo Sr., and the celebrant's niece and nephew, Kathy and Tommy Lococo.

Fiene Heights apparently was filled with Sunday birthday celebrants. There are more to mention.

The young set is about to make the news. The reasons for celebration were doubled at the Robert Scheidt home. Their twin daughters, Kathy and Kristy were two years old yesterday. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Scheidt honored the pair at an evening meal for which the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schweitzer and Mrs. Henrietta Scheidt were invited. Also in attendance were Kathy and Kristy's twin sisters, Deborah and Denise.

COTNER TERRACE

The moving vans were kept busy last week when two families made their way to their new Cotner Terrace homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dittbrenner recently left their Chester home to live in Lincoln. Their new address is 6651 Colfax and anyone in the neighborhood can take it upon themselves to greet the newcomers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Policky changed their home location from 5341 Ervin to 5303 Benton. The spring moving time no doubt is approaching.

Pack 69 held its "Blue and Gold Banquet" last Saturday at the Gateway auditorium. The affair was a pot luck supper and included approximately 300 persons. The event is of particular interest to Cotner Terrace folk, because Robert Brehm was Master of Ceremonies for the banquet. Little did we know we had a celebrity in the crowd this morning. The reports have it that Brehm did a commendable job and that all the Cub Scouts were advanced to the boy scout level. Congratulations to all!

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barnett had surprise visitors from Dodge last Sunday afternoon. They were Mr. and Mrs.. Kenneth Hand and daughter Lori. The Barnett's three children, Jerry, Linda and young Carol Anne were also on hand when the visitors arrived.

Other than entertaining guests, the Barnetts have been keeping themselves busy by attending all the Northeast High School basketball games and the small league games their son, Jerry, has been actively involved in.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Dble.	Pass	Pass

Opening lead — jack of diamonds.

I am reminded of how much luck there is, even in duplicate bridge, by this hand which I ran into while leafing through some ancient files.

The deal occurred during the Vanderbilt team of four championship in 1950. I had the North cards and my partner with the South hand was Helen Sobel.

We landed at four spades redoubled on the bidding shown. No doubt I was guilty of optimism in the bidding, considering that I had opened as dealer with 12 high-card points, had then jump-raised to three spades, and followed all this with a redouble of four spades. However, right or wrong, it was just as well that I did what I did, in view of the outcome of the hand.

West led a diamond. Mrs. Sobel ruffed in dummy, cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club, ruffed a diamond, ruffed another club, and then trumped another diamond on which the ace fell.

She then forced out the A-K of spades, and the result was that Mrs. Sobel made the contract with an overtrick for a score of 1,430 points.

When our teammates, sitting East-West, played the hand at the other table, the bidding went as follows:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Dble.	Pass	1 ♦
1 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

East (Charles Goren, playing with Waldemar von Zedtwitz) resisted the temptation to double, but came forth with the killing opening lead of the king of spades. He continued with the ace and another spade, thus demolishing any chance of declarer had of making the contract.

North eventually went down one and our team gained 1,530 points on the deal. I must admit that our team was very lucky to have North wind up as declarer at the second table instead of South, and this happenstance, combined with Goren's wise choice of a trump lead, enabled us eventually to win the match.

To Be April Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rase of Murdock, this morning are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Pamela, to Edeard Trapeur, son of Lester Trapeur of Milpitas, Calif., and the late Mrs. Trapeur.

The wedding will be an event of April 9, and the service will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Murdock.

The bride-elect is a student at the Commercial Arts School in Omaha. Her fiance is stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Complexion Steaming

To clean and freshen the complexion, ease away crows feet and unwanted expression lines and put more life into your skin, try complexion steaming. With a towel over your head, steam over a basin of hot water in which a teaspoon of lemon juice can be added if available. Beforehand anoint the skin with oil of olay so when the hot steam clears the pores the oil penetrates. After steaming, tone with a lemon jelvyn freshener and smooth the skin to youthful beauty with a film of olay.

NEWS

of activities in suburban areas

We have a March word of caution—don't take down the storm windows yet. There is nothing so frustrating as below zero temperatures or a snow storm after the heavy storm windows have been stored away until the next cold season.

Predictors have it that large amounts of snow are to fall before March becomes a rememberance of the past.

Suburbia is disregarding the predictions, however. Instead, they continue to entertain and travel.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moss drove to Lawton, Iowa, last Sunday to visit with Mrs. Moss's mother, Mrs. Clara Nicholas, and then decided to bring her back to Lincoln with them. Mrs. Nicholas is here for an indefinite stay, but when she leaves it won't be for home, we hear. Instead, Mrs. Nicholas will head for Manassas, Va., where she will visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Brill. From their she will travel on to Arlington, Va., where she will be a guest in the home of her daughter, Miss Mable Nicholas. All in all, we might say Mrs. Nicholas has an exciting month ahead of her, and time will not be any barrier to her.

Another Sunday birthday celebrant was Miss Joanne Lococo. The anniversary dinner took place at the home of Joanne's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Lococo Jr. Also present for the family gathering were Joanne's father, James Lococo Sr., and the celebrant's niece and nephew, Kathy and Tommy Lococo.

Fiene Heights apparently was filled with Sunday birthday celebrants. There are more to mention.

The young set is about to make the news. The reasons for celebration were doubled at the Robert Scheidt home. Their twin daughters, Kathy and Kristy were two years old yesterday. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Scheidt honored the pair at an evening meal for which the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schweitzer and Mrs. Henrietta Scheidt were invited. Also in attendance were Kathy and Kristy's twin sisters, Deborah and Denise.

COTNER TERRACE

The moving vans were kept busy last week when two families made their way to their new Cotner Terrace homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dittbrenner recently left their Chester home to live in Lincoln. Their new address is 6651 Colfax and anyone in the neighborhood can take it upon themselves to greet the newcomers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Policky changed their home location from 5341 Ervin to 5303 Benton. The spring moving time no doubt is approaching.

Pack 69 held its "Blue and Gold Banquet" last Saturday at the Gateway auditorium. The affair was a pot luck supper and included approximately 300 persons. The event is of particular interest to Cotner Terrace folk, because Robert Brehm was Master of Ceremonies for the banquet. Little did we know we had a celebrity in the crowd this morning. The reports have it that Brehm did a commendable job and that all the Cub Scouts were advanced to the boy scout level. Congratulations to all!

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barnett had surprise visitors from Dodge last Sunday afternoon. They were Mr. and Mrs.. Kenneth Hand and daughter Lori. The Barnett's three children, Jerry, Linda and young Carol Anne were also on hand when the visitors arrived.

Other than entertaining guests, the Barnetts have been keeping themselves busy by attending all the Northeast High School basketball games and the small league games their son, Jerry, has been actively involved in.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Dble.	Pass	Pass

Opening lead — jack of diamonds.

I am reminded of how much luck there is, even in duplicate bridge, by this hand which I ran into while leafing through some ancient files.

The deal occurred during the Vanderbilt team of four championship in 1950. I had the North cards and my partner with the South hand was Helen Sobel.

We landed at four spades redoubled on the bidding shown. No doubt I was guilty of optimism in the bidding, considering that I had opened as dealer with 12 high-card points, had then jump-raised to three spades, and followed all this with a redouble of four spades. However, right or wrong, it was just as well that I did what I did, in view of the outcome of the hand.

West led a diamond. Mrs. Sobel ruffed in dummy, cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club, ruffed a diamond, ruffed another club, and then trumped another diamond on which the ace fell.

She then forced out the A-K of spades, and the result was that Mrs. Sobel made the contract with an overtrick for a score of 1,430 points.

When our teammates, sitting East-West, played the hand at the other table, the bidding went as follows:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Dble.	Pass	1 ♦
1 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

East (Charles Goren, playing with Waldemar von Zedtwitz) resisted the temptation to double, but came forth with the killing opening lead of the king of spades. He continued with the ace and another spade, thus demolishing any chance of declarer had of making the contract.

North eventually went down one and our team gained 1,530 points on the deal. I must admit that our team was very lucky to have North wind up as declarer at the second table instead of South, and this happenstance, combined with Goren's wise choice of a trump lead, enabled us eventually to win the match.

Gas Tax Hike Survives Attack

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

A tortured bill to increase Nebraska's gas tax by one-half cent—to 7½ cents—survived a new kill attempt in the Legislature Tuesday and was advanced from general file on a vote of 29-15.

A bill surviving first floor debate on general file usually moves on to final passage.

As propelled, LB25, provides that 9% of the more than $3 million a year to be realized from the tax increase will go to cities, and the remainder to counties. Distribution will be on a population basis.

The bill had been sent to the floor once by the Revenue Committee, prompted a major floor battle, was sent back to the committee and re-emerged in the form in which it won approval Tuesday.

The kill motion came from Sen. Calista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt, who had led a similar attack on the measure during the previous go-around.

She called the bill a "give-away" and pleaded that the oil industry would be damaged because Nebraska's gasoline prices would be out of line with those in neighboring states.

"You are hurting a huge segment of our people when you hurt our filling stations," she said.

Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha reported receipt of a letter which said oil stations would post the names of senators who voted for the gas tax increase and when customers complained at higher gas prices, they would be invited to check the voting list.

Pedersen called it "pure intimidation" and said "I'm not going to give in to pressure."

At 7½ cents, Nebraska's gas tax would be exceeded only by Alaska's, and equalled only by the tax in Washington State. The federal tax amounts to another four cents.

As advanced LB25 eliminates the special urban fund now in existence. The fund provides $720,000 a year for using in improving highways through and near cities and villages.

On the basis of $3 million a year from the half cent gas tax increase, cities and villages would receive $2.4 million a year, less the help received from the $720,000 urban fund. Counties would receive $600,000 as a bonus to funds already received.

The bill carries the emergency clause and calls for the tax increase to take effect April 1.

With the emergency clause, the bill will need 33 affirmative votes for passage — four more than the affirmative votes given the bill on general file Tuesday. The kill motion received 19 affirmative votes and 27 nay votes.

Senators voting to advance LB25 from general file (29) included Batchelder, Bauer, Brauer, Burbach, Carpenter, Crandall, Danner, Fleming, Gerdes, Hasebroock, Kjar, Klaver, Knight, Lysinger, Mahoney, Marvel, Moulton, Moylan, Orme, Payne, Pedersen, Proud, Skarda, Stromer Syas Wallwey, Warner, er, Syas, Wallwey, Warner, Whitney and Wylie.

Against advancement (15) were Adamson, Bowen, Budd, Claussen, Craft, Harsh, Holmquist, Hughes, Kokes, Kremer, Matke, Nelson, Paxton, E. Rasmussen and Ruhnke.

Absent or not voting (5) were Carstens, Nore, Paine, R. Rasmussen and Stryker.

Two other bills were advanced from general file:

LB[illegible], by Sen. Lester Marsh of Bartley, reducing from 40% to 5% of qualified electors the number of persons required to sign petitions to force an election on consolidation of two or more counties, and making a majority vote rather than 60% favorable vote the requirement for election approval.

LB[illegible], by Sen. Pedersen, eliminating a requirement that election commissioners verify voter registrations before city elections.

Legislative Bills Introduced

Bills introduced in the Legislature Tuesday:

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Rewriting laws on eradication of brucellosis.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Prohibiting sale or distribution of virulent hog cholera virus or modified live hog cholera vaccine in Nebraska.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Setting health requirements for the entry of livestock into Nebraska, and setting out Agriculture Department's duties in relation thereto.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Providing for the control and eradication of scabies in sheep.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Authorizing the Agriculture Department to destroy and remove swine exposed to hog cholera or affected, providing for reimbursement and injunctive remedy.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Revising regulations on garbage processing plants and increasing permit fee.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Revising regulations on rendering plants.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Imposing a duty on the owner of animals which die of anthrax and giving the Agriculture Department supervision over disposition of carcasses.

LB[illegible] (for the governor, by Kremer)—Increasing the registration fees for restaurants, rooming houses, boarding houses, apartment houses, motels and tourist camps.

Education Unit Moves To Strengthen Requirements For Approved Schools

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Education moved Tuesday toward strengthening requirements for approved public high schools.

Ninety-three non-accredited high schools would be affected by the new minimum rules being drawn for teacher preparation, courses offered and library facilities.

Dr. Leroy Ortgiesen, assistant education commissioner, told the board that the state "is ready and expecting stronger guidelines as to minimum quality schools."

He said 12 to 18 schools with 30 students or less "may have difficulty meeting the new provisions," but for the remaining schools it will largely be a matter of whether the school board wants to spend the needed money.

The new requirements will be presented to the board April 13 for possible revision and preliminary approval. The board will schedule a public hearing on the proposed rules later.

Board members generally agreed that the 1960-adopted minimum rules are inadequate today and should be upgraded.

If schools lost their approved rating, students would be able to transfer to another high school district and receive free high school tuition.

Ortgiesen said schools failing to meet standards would receive a warning the first year and would "have at least two years to comply."

He said the smallest approved high school in the state is Max with seven students. The largest is Wolbach with 81.

Primary Objective

Ortgiesen said the primary objective of the minimum rules is to provide better education, not to close schools.

But, he said, "there are still far too many totally inadequate school systems attempting to offer high school programs."

He said the Max rural high school is "an extremely minimum one and in some instances verges on the ridiculous."

The regulations now being drawn would increase college preparation for teachers from 18 to 24 hours in English, 12 to 18 hours in math, 12 to 18 hours in practical arts, six to 12 for art and physical education and require a science teacher to have at least eight hours in biology, chemistry or physics.

Requirements

The rules also would require that courses offered each year include three units in social sciences, three in science, one in music, two in business education, three in English and two in math and be taught "in a logical sequence."

Requirements for school libraries would be upgraded with the librarian required to have at least six college hours in library work.

In other action, the board ruled the Domphan School District 26 failed to show cause why state distributive funds should not be withheld for the district's failure to submit financial reports by the statutory Jan. 15 deadline.

Would Lose Funds

Commission officials estimated the district would lose $1,255 in state apportionment funds plus an undetermined amount of school lunch, driver education and Title III aid.

District board members said school books were not submitted to an auditor until two months before deadline and there wasn't sufficient time to complete the work.

State board discussion indicated there was no statutory discretion except to withhold funds.

State School Board Favors Aid By 4 To 1

The State Board of Education Tuesday voted 4-1 in reaffirming its policy suporting state aid to education.

Only John A. Wagoner of Grand Island voted against the reaffirmation motion requested by State Education Commissioner Floyd Miller.

Now pending before the Legislature's Education Committee is Sen. Jerome Warner's LB472 which would enact a "school foundation and equalization act" to provide state aid to public school districts.

Most Important

Dr. Miller described LB472 as the most important education legislation confronting the Unicameral.

Board President Frank Landis of Lincoln was not present at the meeting.

The board also discussed a standing policy favoring a broadened tax base, but took no action. Wagoner and Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff said they were opposed to this policy provision.

The committee also:

—approved a state plan for training illiterate adults under the new federal economic opportunity act and forwarded it to Washington for approval.

—set April 13 as hearing date for the adoption of new school accounting procedures.

—approved an application to allow the Inman school to contract with Page high school for the next school year.

Benefits From Western Light, Western Power Merger Told

Washington (AP)—Benefits to investors and customers would result from a merger of Western Light and Telephone Co., Great Bend, Kan., and Western Power & Gas Co., Lincoln, Neb., the Federal Power Commission was told Tuesday.

Harold Young, a Charlottesville, Va., consultant, testified as a Western Light witness before examiner Harry Frazee as to expected benefits.

M. A. Hardies, Chicago attorney, representing Western Light, told a reporter many functions of corporate operations would be reduced to a single operation if the merger is permitted. He said it had been estimated that $150,000 a year might be saved in operating costs alone.

Western Light operates in 33 Kansas counties. Western Power operates in seven Colorado counties, owns and operates natural gas distribution facilities, and owns all or part of the common stock of three telephone companies.

H. V. Rathbun, vice president of Western Light, and William Porter, vice president of Western Power, described the various properties and operations of their respective companies.

Storms Called Worst Problem For Post Office

"The severe blizzard of Feb. 11, followed by two additional snowstorms, have made transportation and delivery of mail in this area the most difficult problem the post office has encountered, weatherwise, in many years," Lincoln Postmaster Kenneth P. Lewis said Tuesday.

Lewis said that most postal patrons had been "most cooperative and understanding" and had done a good job of keeping accesses to their mail receptacles shoveled.

LBJ BUST TO HAMBURG

Debate Heavy On Commitment Bill

Considerable debate on a bill proposing sweeping changes in state law for commitment of mentally-ill persons was aired Tuesday before the Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee.

The committee took no action on LB532 following a two-hour hearing.

The bill was opposed by several psychiatrists, county mental health boards and the district court clerks association.

Major support came from the Lancaster County Mental Association.

Different Degrees

Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln, chief introducer, said the bill recognizes there are different degrees of mental illness in proposing five methods under which a mentally-ill person can be hospitalized or commited.

"Even critics of the bill agree there are problems with the present mental health board system," he said in urging the measure be amended with "any constructive criticism" developed in the hearing.

The bill would also provide that any mentally-ill suspect must be given legal counsel and must be detained in a hospital rather than a jail pending hearing.

One critic of the bill said it was "commendable in some respects," but described the proposed "admission procedure as too cumbersome—it might work in a metropolitan area but not out-state."

C. L. Clark, attorney member of the Lancaster County Mental Health Board for 44 years, said the "bill is all scrambled up" and its proponents should have consulted "experienced" administrators and hospital superintendents.

The Nebraska District Court Clerks Association said the bill was "very confusing in providing five different ways for getting a person into a mental hospital."

Absurd

Dr. Chester H. Farrell, psychiatrist member of the Douglas County mental health board, said the proposed law is so sweeping as to be "absurb" and doesn't consider practical problems.

In other action, the committee also heard and held:

—LB322, providing for the removal of state mental hospital patients to nursing or special care homes.

LB323, providing for the transfer of certain children from the Home for Children to the Boys' and Girls' Training Schools on a temporary basis.

—LB324, permitting the Department of Institutions to transfer inmates of the State Penal Complex to the state hospital for treatment.

Earl Attlee To London Hospital After Illness

London (AP) — Earl Attlee, 82, former Laborite prime minister, was admitted to London's Westminster Hospital Monday for what was described as "a minor indisposition." Last week Attlee became ill while attending the House of Lords but recovered at his home.

Attlee's daughter-in-law, Lady Prestwood, said he had entered the hospital "purely for observation" and was expected out by the end of the week. She said his illness last Wednesday was "only a very slight turn."

Bowen Urges Income Tax Okay Even If Allocation Is Put To Vote

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud said Tuesday that the Legislature should pass the proposed flat-rate state income tax even if it decides to submit to the people the question of allocating income tax revenues.

However, he noted, it "might be more acceptable" to place a Jan. 1, 1967 enactment date on the state income tax bill so that it would not become effective until after the people had voted in 1966.

Bowen proposed allocation of broadened tax base revenues and repeal of the Duis Amendment to the state constitution in an appearance before the Legislature's Revenue Committee Monday.

Accepted

The committee accepted Bowen's proposals in principle and advanced to the floor an amended version of LB79, proposing a vote on the issue in 1966.

If the people approve, broadened tax base revenue would be distributed 50% to local school districts, 30% to the state and 10% each to cities and counties — and the state would be allowed to remain in the property tax field.

"But, we need LB797 regardless of what the Legislature does with LB79," Bowen declared. LB797 is Sen. Hal Bauer's state income tax measure.

I will support Senator Bauer's bill," Bowen noted, "either with an enactment date of Jan. 1, 1966 or Jan. 1, 1967, but I feel that the latter might be more acceptable."

'More Acceptable'

Enactment of LB79 and approval by the people "would make a broadened tax base more acceptable," Bowen said.

It would provide property tax relief at the local level and keep the state in the property tax field "where it belongs for purposes of administration and equalization," the Speaker of the 1965 Legislature declared.

"I believe that this Legislature will always be conservative," Bowen said, "and I think that LB79 would help it continue to be so."

When he sponsored a state income tax in the 1963 session, Bowen noted, he was deluged with letters declaring their opposition "unless it would help provide tax support at the school level."

LB79 is the answer to that opposition, he said.

Education Unit Moves To Strengthen Requirements For Approved Schools

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Education moved Tuesday toward strengthening requirements for approved public high schools.

Ninety-three non-accredited high schools would be affected by the new minimum rules being drawn for teacher preparation, courses offered and library facilities.

Dr. Leroy Ortgiesen, assistant education commissioner, told the board that the state "is ready and expecting stronger guidelines as to minimum quality schools."

He said 12 to 18 schools with 30 students or less "may have difficulty meeting the new provisions," but for the remaining schools it will largely be a matter of whether the school board wants to spend the needed money.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

In an uprising against British Colonial troops in the middle of the 18th Century, the rocket brigade of Indian Prince Hydar Ali dealt the superior British force a crushing defeat.

Christopher Columbus's three tiny ships crossed the Atlantic at the height of the hurricane season. But he did not encounter one of the New World's typical [illegible] storms until his second voyage. He rode out a hurricane in August 1494, behind Saona Island southeast of Hispaniola.

Though destructive, earthquakes are essential to life. Mountains are constantly eroding and if they were not raised again by quakes, the world would become an uninhabitable place of stagnant seas and swamps.

One of the oldest musical instruments is the harp. Archeologists have found carvings of harp players on ancient Egyptian tombs, and a Sumerian harp, dating from 2500 B.C., has been unearthed in Iraq.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Big 8 Makes Big Strides

The Big Eight's winter indoor track forces made giant strides in overtaking the Big Ten during the campaigns that ended a week ago for the Big Eight and last weekend for the Big Ten.

A year ago, a form chart showing the relative strength of the two leagues gave the Big Ten a huge advantage. This time around, the Big Eight enjoys a slight edge.

The main reason for the Big Eight being able to take the nod over the larger conference lies in vastly improved performances from Big Eight athletes, rather than in any decline in the Big Ten.

Big Ten performances this year were better than last year's in only four events using the conference meets as guidelines. Meanwhile, the Big Eight showed improvement in nine events.

In the 1964 conference meets, the Big Ten topped the Big Eight by a 10-2 margin using events that are included on both schedules. This year the Big Eight enjoys a 5-4 margin with two events equal.

Winning Big Eight performances were better than the Big Ten in the shot put, high jump, mile run, 1,000-yard run, and 60-yard dash. The Big Ten was tops in the broad jump, 440, two-mile and mile relay. The two conferences were equal in the pole vault and half mile.

This year's comparative performances:

	BIG TEN	BIG EIGHT
Broad jump	24-11	24-0
Shot put	55-6¾	59-5¼
High jump	6-6	6-8½
Pole vault	15-0	15-0
Mile run	4:09.5	4:08.9
[illegible]	:48.4	:49.7
[illegible]	2:09.2	2:08.8
[illegible]	:06.2	:06.1
[illegible]	1:53.3	1:53.3
Two-mile	9:01.8	9:08.4
Mile relay	3:15.2	3:19.7

Important Undertaking

Don Schollander, the young swimmer who boosted the United States Olympic stock in the games at Tokyo with four gold medals, has undertaken another big job.

In a letter sent to sports editors and broadcasters throughout the country, Schollander writes, "I am very grateful for all the honors you and other sports writers and broadcasters have given me since I was lucky enough to win four medals at the Olympics. Now another honor has come to me. I have been asked to be National Sports Chairman of the Easter Seal Campaign.

"I hope I can do a good job for the crippled children to whom Easter Seals give care all over the United States. Not only as a swimmer but now as a pre-medic student at Yale, I know that they need help from all of us and I hope I can ask you to give them a hand, too."

The Easter Seal Campaign ends April 18.

Evenings Preferred

The Big Ten and Big Eight Conferences likely will continue to bow to the demands of TV and play several Saturday afternoon games despite figures that show fans prefer to watch basketball at night.

Attendance figures released by the Big Ten show that games played on Saturday nights averaged 9,971 while Saturday afternoon games averaged 8,114, a difference of nearly 2,000 fans per game.

The only time worse for playing games than Saturday afternoon from an attendance standpoint was Monday nights when only an average of 7,690 showed up. Tuesday night games with an average of 8,859 outdrew the Saturday matinees.

Crucial Play Situation

High school and junior college coaches once again are being invited to participate in the third annual "Play of the Year" contest being conducted by a national photo producing firm.

The situation for which the coaches must diagram a play has your team trailing by six points with 25 seconds left in the game. The ball is in your possession and is between the hash marks on the opponent's four-yard line. The defense is using a wide tackle six. The weather is clear with no wind and the field is dry. It's fourth down.

Judges are Dave Nelson of Delaware, Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, Jim Owens of Washington, Frank Howard of Clemson and Darrell Royal of Texas.

Boys Town, McCook Carry Top Class A Billing

. . . RECENT STATE CHAMPIONS ALSO IN FIELD FOR TOURNEY OPENING THURSDAY

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Boys Town and McCook carry top billing into the state Class A basketball tournament opening Thursday at Omaha's City Auditorium.

They were ranked 1-2 at the conclusion of regular season play and were given top seeding for tourney play.

Also in the field are teams which have won three of the last four state titles — Fremont, Lincoln Northeast and Creighton Prep.

Fremont, the 1961 champion, tangles with the top-rated Boys Town quintet in the tourney opener.

Northeast, the 1962 winner, and defending champion Creighton Prep meet in the second afternoon game Thursday.

McCook and Omaha Westside, newcomers to the state tourney field, head the lower bracket, which includes suprise entries from Gering and Nebraska City.

A closer look at the contenders:

FREMONT (13-4)

Tigers have won nine straight, including triumphs over Northeast and Westside . . . Lost season opener at McCook, 63-60.

Coach Al Bahe had championship club in 1961 . . . Erich Wiegert, rugged 6-2, 215-pound senior, tops club in scoring and rebounding . . . Tigers get a boost when 6-4 Ward Weber transferred in from Hastings.

Bahe has smooth pair of backcourt performers in juniors Jeff Draemel (5-10) and Jon Boettner (5-9), who offer fine outside shooting . . . Fremont offense topped the century mark in win over South Sioux City.

BOYS TOWN (19-2)

Cowboys carry No. 1 ranking into state meet... Now working on 12-game winning streak . . . Only senior starter is all-stater David McGuire (5-10), the team's top scorer.

Other regulars are rangy and rugged . . . Southpaw Ron White (6-3) teams with McGuire to form outstanding 1-2 scoring punch . . . Ken Geddes (6-2), Carl Cook (6-2) and Jim Hester (6-8) provide strong rebounding.

George Pfeifer's team likes to press . . . Only weak spot is bench . . . Top scorer from substitute ranks had only 22 points during season.

NORTHEAST (13-4)

Rockets hit peak in district play after off and on performance during season . . . Coach Ed Johnson has best bench strength in tourney.

Backcourt performers Bryce Doebele (6-0) and Jack Ketterer (5-11) have been mainstays in attack . . . Ron Goldenstein (6-0), Tom Ochsner (6-0), Bob Hahn (6-6) and Wally Winter (6-4) have each led scoring on one or more occasions . . .

Gary Thompson (6-0), Jerry Egger (6-3) and Paul Topliff (6-2) are others who have delivered under pressure.

Best wins during season were over Westside and Bishop Ryan . . . Lost to Fremont . . . Rockets last won title in 1962.

CREIGHTON PREP (14-7)

Junior Jays are defending champions . . . It is fifth straight trip to state meet for Tom Brosnihan-coached teams.

Champs lost all-stater Wally Anderzunas, but big Sam Buda (6-4, 240) has developed as top pivot performer . . . Mike Tomcykowski (6-4, 200) adds rebound punch . . . Team leader is John Padden, three-year letterman . . . The 6-1 senior is top defensive player and good outside shooter.

Junior Jays take pride in tough defense . . . Football standout Jim O'Brien (5-9) uses quickness to help in that department . . . Prep lost twice to Westside, once to Boys Town from tourney field.

OMAHA WESTSIDE (17-4)

Two of four setbacks were to tourney contenders Northeast and Fremont . . . Basically a junior team, but the top performers are seniors.

Best is 6-5 John Buller, top scorer and rebounder . . . Eric Hultman (6-4) and Rick Willis (6-2) are other vets.

Top junior is 5-11 Mark Jensen . . . Coach Jim Tangdall chooses other starter from among 6-7½ Jerry James, 6-0 Dick Tharp and 6-0 Roger Herring . . . With James in lineup they average nearly 6-4.

GERING (18-3)

Bulldogs lost twice to Scottsbluff during season, but trimmed the Bearcats in district finals to earn state meet trip . . . Don Knauss' club qualified in Class B last year, losing to champion Ralston in the first game.

Knauss has good size on veteran club . . . Seniors Kim Severson (6-5), Larry Rice (6-2) and Don Groskopf (6-5) have been good scorers for two seasons.

Brian Howlett (5-11) and Rick Reitz (5-11) dependable back court performers . . . Reitz led team with 21 points in district finals.

NEBRASKA CITY (14-6)

Pioneers in state meet first time in 37 years . . . Oscar Smith's senior-laden team ousted Beatrice and Hastings in district.

Tallest man is 6-5 Tom Dammast . . . Milt Romjue (6-2) and Jerry Higgins (6-0) other frontliners . . . Backcourt corps headed by Jay Fenstermacher (6-0), Dan Weddle (5-11) and hustling Steve Zimmers (5-6).

Pioneers have good balance with several capable hands on bench . . . Two of six setbacks were to Class B Papillion.

McCOOK (17-1)

Big Ten champions loom as solid threat . . . Finished strong with rout of Columbus in Big Ten playoff and big wins over Grand Island and North Platte in district.

Roger Leitner, 6-6 senior, is top performer for coach Paul Forch . . . Can play inside or outside . . . hit 35 points in both district tourney games . . . He's been getting more help from 6-6½ Ed Thomas in late season.

Bison have good size with Bob Moore (6-2), Ray Harr (6-2) and Bob Best rounding out lineup . . . Only loss was to Scottsbluff, a setback they avenged . . . Carry 13-game winning streak into state tourney.

GALE WANTS EQUALITY

—ANSWER IN TWO WEEKS—

Seacrest Field Decision Delayed For More Study

The question of whether Seacrest Field can be rented for professional football games won't be answered for another two weeks.

Lincoln school board members informed Robert L. Van Dervoort of Lincoln Sports Enterprises, this additional time would be needed for a final decision when he appeared at their meeting Tuesday.

Van Dervoort represents a group of business leaders forming the corporation sponsoring a Lincoln team in the Professional Football League of America.

Bothering most board members were two figures: $1,200, the amount Lincoln Sports promises to deposit in escrow to cover sod or other field damages incurred during the professional games.

—$5,000, the stadium rental charge for the five-game schedule which Van Dervoort stated "we feel we can afford to pay."

The professional group would provide personnel for all services at the games, including "any police protection in the stadium that you deem necessary."

Also in the proposed rental agreement would be 50-50 sharing of any profits from radio broadcasts that might be sold, provision of general stadium liability insurance and the right to install temporary goalposts meeting National Football League rule requirements.

Board President James Stuart told Van Dervoort the financial outcome would need more study:

"The dollar figure is important, for if we do this it would only be to make a profit as you are also interested in making a profit."

Stuart also indicated the school board might insist upon the provision of withdrawal from the contract if "at any time damage was too great or the schedule in conflict with our high school games."

Supt. Steven Watkins questioned the adequacy of the $1,200 damage sum held in escrow if substantial damages occurred on the field or elsewhere in the stadium.

Van Dervoort pointed out that the proposed game schedule of Sept. 5, 19, 25, and Oct. 17 and 31 would eliminate any November playing.

"The greatest damages usually occur when games are played on wet fields in the month of November," he said.

He added a discussed big league professional game is out but said an Aug. 29 exhibition contest might be feasible.

Van Dervoort indicated the question of whether Lincoln will have this additional Sunday sports offering may rest in the hands of the school board.

"If we find in two years' time that the enterprise has proven itself and we attract a sufficient following, we can move to Sherman Field," he said.

He said Sherman would be a bad spot to inaugurate the program.

"If we can't begin in Seacrest, we won't go into the League," he said.

Cloverleaf Loop Lists Alexandria Players On Team

Cloverleaf conference coaches have selected their all-conference basketball team.

Alexandria grabbed a pair of first team berths. Named from Howard Jackson's squad were Allen Schwab and Jim Harrold.

Rounding out the team were Ken Becwar of Milligan, Gene Slama of Dorchester and Jack Sobotka of Tobias.

NU Freshman Lauer Drops From School

Kurt Lauer, the highly regarded University of Nebraska freshman prospect from Gibbon, has withdrawn from school.

NU coach Joe Cipriano said the 6-8 performer who took Gibbon to the state tournament two years in a row had withdrawn due to scholastic difficulties.

All-American Feels KU Discriminatory

. . . AMONG 110 ARRESTED

From News Wires

Lawrence, Kan. — Kansas All-America halfback Gale Sayers, arguing, "They accept me as a football player but not as a Negro," was among 110 University of Kansas students who were arrested and suspended from school Tuesday afternoon.

Later in the day, however, Kansas Chancellor W. Clarke Wescoe lifted the suspension of the students. They had been arrested for disturbing the peace in civil rights demonstrations.

All those arrested were released under personal bonds of $25 each. Other athletes involved were George Unseld, an all-Big Eight basketball selection before he was booted from the team last winter by coach Ted Owens, and football players Mike Shinn and Bobby Hudspeth.

"It's something you have to take—it's that kind of situation," Sayers said. "This is not one millionth of one per cent of what Martin Luther King is doing in Alabama.

"There is a definite problem of discrimination against Negroes here. I'm an athlete, and so I have good housing, but my fraternity brothers and other Negroes do not have good housing."

Wescoe outlined four areas in which the university will try to meet the demands of a campus group called the Civil Rights Council. The council presented seven demands to Dr. Wescoe Monday, charging discrimination by fraternities, sororities and off-campus housing.

Nate Sims, a 22-year-old physical education major from Pasadena, Calif., and one of the council's leaders, said, "until further notice, we will disperse with the protest demonstration."

About 350 students gathered in front of Strong Hall, the university's administration building, were addressed by Dr. Wescoe and broke up after Sims' announcement.

The chancellor said the campus housing list will be revised, and that he asked the dean of the school of education to review its student teaching policies so "there is no discriminatory practice with those with whom we deal."

New York Rallies For 124-122 Win Over 76ers

New York (AP)—A driving lay-up by Jim Barnes in the final second gave the New York Knicks a 124-122 victory in overtime over the Philadelphia 76ers Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden.

The National Basketball Association game reached overtime when the 76ers erased the Knicks' 115-109 lead with Wilt Chamberlain tapping in the tying basket with one second to play to make it 115-115.

The Knicks rallied from a 119-115 deficit after Chamberlain and Chet Walker scored the first two baskets in overtime for the 76ers. A free throw by Tom Gola and three by Dave Budd carried the Knicks into a 122-122 deadlock with 18 seconds to play.

Sophs To Carry Load

Nebraska's sophomores were given the burden Tuesday night by NU coach Joe Cipriano of bringing Husker basketball to a higher level in the next two years.

"We replaced five seniors with five sophomores this season," Cipriano told the more than 300 fans who gathered at the Lincoln Hotel for the third annual Lincoln Elks Club basketball banquet.

"It is difficult for a young club to do well," Cipriano continued. "But we hope we can keep this year's sophomores together and we are looking forward to next season."

The Husker coach also noted that he hoped to get help from "four to six good prospects on the freshman team."

Cipriano opened by pointing out, with tongue in cheek, that "Spring football opens April 2 and I believe Bob Devaney will be glad to answer any questions you might have."

Bones McKinney, basketball coach at Wake Forest and former pro cager with the Boston Celtics, was the featured speaker.

Nebraska's graduating seniors Jerry Spears and Joel Kortus, plus coaches Cipriano, Glen Potter and Bob Gates were presented with watches by the Elks Lodge. They also, along with McKinney, were made admirals in the Nebraska Navy by Gov. Morrison.

US Loses Fourth Straight Game In Hockey Tourney

Big 8 Makes Big Strides

The Big Eight's winter indoor track forces made giant strides in overtaking the Big Ten during the campaigns that ended a week ago for the Big Eight and last weekend for the Big Ten.

A year ago, a form chart showing the relative strength of the two leagues gave the Big Ten a huge advantage. This time around, the Big Eight enjoys a slight edge.

The main reason for the Big Eight being able to take the nod over the larger conference lies in vastly improved performances from Big Eight athletes, rather than in any decline in the Big Ten.

Big Ten performances this year were better than last year's in only four events using the conference meets as guidelines. Meanwhile, the Big Eight showed improvement in nine events.

In the 1964 conference meets, the Big Ten topped the Big Eight by a 10-2 margin using events that are included on both schedules. This year the Big Eight enjoys a 5-4 margin with two events equal.

Winning Big Eight performances were better than the Big Ten in the shot put, high jump, mile run, 1,000-yard run, and 60-yard dash. The Big Ten was tops in the broad jump, 440, two-mile and mile relay. The two conferences were equal in the pole vault and half mile.

This year's comparative performances:

	BIG TEN	BIG EIGHT
Broad jump	24-11	24-0
Shot put	55-6¾	59-5¼
High jump	6-6	6-8½
Pole vault	15-0	15-0
Mile run	4:09.5	4:08.9
440	:48.4	:49.7
1,000	2:09.2	2:08.8
60	:06.2	:06.1
880	1:53.3	1:53.3
Two-mile	9:01.8	9:08.4
Mile relay	3:15.2	3:19.7

Important Undertaking

Don Schollander, the young swimmer who boosted the United States Olympic stock in the games at Tokyo with four gold medals, has undertaken another big job.

In a letter sent to sports editors and broadcasters throughout the country, Schollander writes, "I am very grateful for all the honors you and other sports writers and broadcasters have given me since I was lucky enough to win four medals at the Olympics. Now another honor has come to me. I have been asked to be National Sports Chairman of the Easter Seal Campaign.

"I hope I can do a good job for the crippled children to whom Easter Seals give care all over the United States. Not only as a swimmer but now as a pre-medic student at Yale, I know that they need help from all of us and I hope I can ask you to give them a hand, too."

The Easter Seal Campaign ends April 18.

Evenings Preferred

The Big Ten and Big Eight Conferences likely will continue to bow to the demands of TV and play several Saturday afternoon games despite figures that show fans prefer to watch basketball at night.

Attendance figures released by the Big Ten show that games played on Saturday nights averaged 9,971 while Saturday afternoon games averaged 8,114, a difference of nearly 2,000 fans per game.

The only time worse for playing games than Saturday afternoon from an attendance standpoint was Monday nights when only an average of 7,690 showed up. Tuesday night games with an average of 8,859 outdrew the Saturday matinees.

Van Dervoort indicated the question of whether Lincoln will have this additional Sunday sports offering may rest in the hands of the school board.

"If we find in two years' time that the enterprise has proven itself and we attract a sufficient following, we can move to Sherman Field," he said.

He said Sherman would be a bad spot to inaugurate the program.

"If we can't begin in Seacrest, we won't go into the League," he said.

Cloverleaf Loop Lists Alexandria Players On Team

Cloverleaf conference coaches have selected their all-conference basketball team.

Alexandria grabbed a pair of first team berths. Named from Howard Jackson's squad were Allen Schwab and Jim Harrold.

Rounding out the team were Ken Becwar of Milligan, Gene Slama of Dorchester and Jack Sobotka of Tobias.

NU Freshman Lauer Drops From School

Kurt Lauer, the highly regarded University of Nebraska freshman prospect from Gibbon, has withdrawn from school.

NU coach Joe Cipriano said the 6-8 performer who took Gibbon to the state tournament two years in a row had withdrawn due to scholastic difficulties.

All-American Feels KU Discriminatory

From News Wires

Lawrence, Kan. — Kansas All-America halfback Gale Sayers, arguing, "They accept me as a football player but not as a Negro," was among 110 University of Kansas students who were arrested and suspended from school Tuesday afternoon.

Later in the day, however, Kansas Chancellor W. Clarke Wescoe lifted the suspension of the students. They had been arrested for disturbing the peace in civil rights demonstrations.

GALE SAYERS

All those arrested were released under personal bonds of $25 each. Other athletes involved were George Unseld, an all-Big Eight basketball selection before he was booted from the team last winter by coach Ted Owens, and football players Mike Shinn and Bobby Hudspeth.

"It's something you have to take—it's that kind of situation," Sayers said. "This is not one millionth of one per cent of what Martin Luther King is doing in Alabama.

"There is a definite problem of discrimination against Negroes here. I'm an athlete, and so I have good housing, but my fraternity brothers and other Negroes do not have good housing."

Wescoe outlined four areas in which the university will try to meet the demands of a campus group called the Civil Rights Council. The council presented seven demands to Dr. Wescoe Monday, charging discrimination by fraternities, sororities and off-campus housing.

Nate Sims, a 22-year-old physical education major from Pasadena, Calif., and one of the council's leaders, said, "until further notice, we will disperse with the protest demonstration."

About 350 students gathered in front of Strong Hall, the university's administration building, were addressed by Dr. Wescoe and broke up after Sims' announcement.

The chancellor said the campus housing list will be revised, and that he asked the dean of the school of education to review its student teaching policies so "there is no discriminatory practice with those with whom we deal."

New York Rallies For 124-122 Win Over 76ers

New York (AP)—A driving lay-up by Jim Barnes in the final second gave the New York Knicks a 124-122 victory in overtime over the Philadelphia 76ers Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden.

The National Basketball Association game reached overtime when the 76ers erased the Knicks' 115-109 lead with Wilt Chamberlain tapping in the tying basket with one second to play to make it 115-115.

The Knicks rallied from a 119-115 deficit after Chamberlain and Chet Walker scored the first two baskets in overtime for the 76ers. A free throw by Tom Gola and three by Dave Budd carried the Knicks into a 122-122 deadlock with 18 seconds to play.

Sophs To Carry Load

Nebraska's sophomores were given the burden Tuesday night by NU coach Joe Cipriano of bringing Husker basketball to a higher level in the next two years.

"We replaced five seniors with five sophomores this season," Cipriano told the more than 300 fans who gathered at the Lincoln Hotel for the third annual Lincoln Elks Club basketball banquet.

"It is difficult for a young club to do well," Cipriano continued. "But we hope we can keep this year's sophomores together and we are looking forward to next season."

The Husker coach also noted that he hoped to get help from "four to six good prospects on the freshman team."

Cipriano opened by pointing out, with tongue in cheek, that "Spring football opens April 2 and I believe Bob Devaney will be glad to answer any questions you might have."

Bones McKinney, basketball coach at Wake Forest and former pro cager with the Boston Celtics, was the featured speaker.

Nebraska's graduating seniors Jerry Spears and Joel Kortus, plus coaches Cipriano, Glen Potter and Bob Gates were presented with watches by the Elks Lodge. They also, along with McKinney, were made admirals in the Nebraska Navy by Gov. Morrison.

US Loses Fourth Straight Game In Hockey Tourney

Tampere, Finland (AP) — The winless United States team lost its fourth straight game, 7-4 to East Germany, in the World Amateur Hockey Tournament Tuesday night.

It was the first victory in the Group A competition for the East Germans, who twice forged from behind to overtake the Americans.

JOHNSON TOPS IN CREIGHTON CAGE SCORING

Omaha — Neil Johnson, a transfer from Tulsa who didn't become eligible until the second semester, topped the Creighton basketball scoring with a 17.3 average through eight games.

Elton McGriff, one of four seniors on the squad, led in total points with 345 for a 15.0 average and also topped coach Red McManus' club in rebounding with 317.

—TOP-SEEDED RALSTON MEETS HOLY NAME—

Title Game Rerun Opens 'B' Meet

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

A repeat of last year's championship game highlights opening round action in the state Class B basketball tourney at the University of Nebraska Coliseum Thursday.

Ralston and Holy Name tangle in the opening game Thursday night. Last year Ralston whipped the Ramblers, 56-52, in the title game.

The top scorers in the 1964 title game are missing this year. Ralston lost Steve Neal, who scored 20, and Holy Name lost all-stater John Moylan, who scored 25, but both teams have plenty of veterans returning.

Ralston is favored to repeat as the Class B champion, but the Rams will be watching the upper bracket closely to keep tabs on second-seeded Madison.

Madison had an unbeaten string ended in district play by Schuyler last year, but turned the tables in ousting the second-ranked Warriors this year.

Ed Stevens' Dragons, ranked No. 4 at the close of the regular season, carry a 19-2 record into the state meet. They'll meet Imperial, which has 22 wins in 24 games, in the tourney opener.

Closeups on the contenders:

MADISON (19-2)

Dragons lost twice in December to Bloomfield and Albion. . . Now have 15-game winning streak under new coach Ed Stevens . . . Fourth-ranked team stopped second-ranked Schuyler in district finals.

Top performer is 6-2 senior Keith Maurer, only regular returning from last year's fine 19-1 team . . . Senior Ron Merick, also 6-2, adds scoring punch . . . Brother Clayton, a 6-0 freshman, also starts.

Team likes to press and run and gets good play from seniors Dennis Hartner (5-11) and Don Lyons (5-8) and juniors Mike Nichols (6-3) and Jim Huddle (6-0).

IMPERIAL (22-2)

Only losses were inflicted by Class C teams Grant and Chappell . . . Longhorns opened with 12 straight wins, now have winning streak of nine.

Coach Gary Johnson has veteran performers in seniors Mike McNair (6-4), Sid Jaeger (6-1), Mac McConnell (5-10) and Don Leach (5-10) . . . Adding to the rebounding punch is 6-2 junior Dick Banks.

Best win during season was 67-53 decision over Gothenburg . . . Longhorns tripped Gordon, 73-66, in district final.

HASTINGS ST. CECILIA (16-3)

Blue Hawks coached by St. Cecilia and Regis College graduate Jerry Sherman . . . He guided club to Nebraska Catholic Conference title.

Mike Aspen, 6-5 junior, is top performer . . . Deadly outside shooter and good rebounder . . . Senior Doug Schroer (6-3) helps in rebounding . . . Sophomore Jerry Nicolarsen (6-0) adds to the outside game with 5-9 senior Kenny Stark the floor leader.

Two of three losses were to Class C Henderson and Franklin, other was to Class A Pius X . . . Team carries nine-game winning streak into state tourney.

PIERCE (13-6)

Surprise representative from Northeast . . . Upset Bloomfield, 56-55, in district semifinals . . . One of six losses was nine-point setback at hands of Madison.

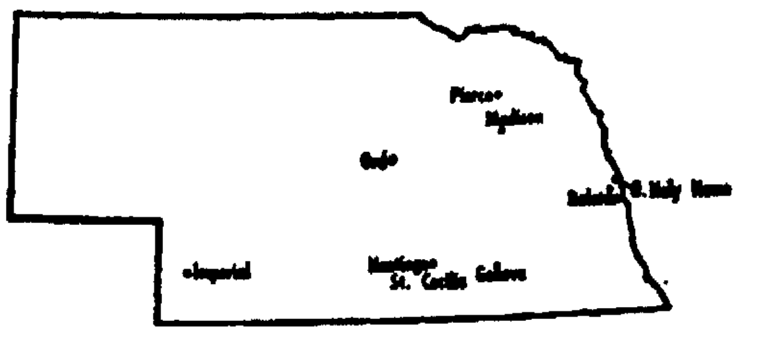
Tom Arndt, hustling 5-8 senior, was hero of district play . . . Scored winning goal against Bloomfield and poured in 26 points in finals against Laurel . . . Another good backcourt performer is 5-10 Monte Zierke.

Dan Arnold's Bluejays lack height . . . Big boys are 6-1½ Tim Pint, 6-1 Don Nave and 6-2 Don Weber.

OMAHA HOLY NAME (15-6)

Ramblers lost all-stater John Moylan, but managed to return to state meet . . . Don Roddy's club has won its last seven after losing to Pius X.

Top returnee from last year's runnerup squad is 6-4 senior Tom Lehan, who led the club through district play . . .



★ ★ ★ ★

Other vets are seniors Joe Barbaglia (6-2), Tom Balkovec (6-0), Dan Colgan (6-1), Bob Meehan (6-0) and junior Tom Pogge (6-2½).

Two of six setbacks were administered by University High.

RALSTON (21-1)

Defending champs opened with 14 wins, lost to Wayne and now have seven-game streak . . . 1964 tourney experience should help the Rams this year.

Top performer is 6-4 senior Doug Cottingham . . . Joining him in front line are 6-1 Randy Williams and 6-4½ Mike Lee . . . Coach Bob Mackie has more rangy lads on bench.

Rick Koch, 5-9 junior, is top backcourt man . . . Tom Carr and Rick's brother Scott, a 5-6 sophomore, are other reliable hands.

Rams won Ak-Sar-Ben Conference title...Had narrow 42-40 escape against Millard in district finals.

ORD (16-5)

Senior-dominated club tripped third-ranked St. Paul in district tourney upset . . . Two of five losses were to same club.

Chanticleers have a host of good little men . . . Best are Richard Osentowski and Mike Zulkoski, who led school to fine football season . . .

Coach Ken Trubey missed regular Millard Hansen because of mumps and regular Mike Naeve because of military academy tests in district play, but bench corps delivered.

Central Ten entry now has eight game winning streak . . . Big wins during season were over Aurora and Loup City.

GENEVA (16-2)

Wildcats lost twice to Class C Hebron, avenged third loss in dumping Aurora in district finals . . . Team not especially big, but has good balance in height.

Top performer during season has been 6-4 junior Bob Gratopp, steady scorer and rebounder . . . Wildcats' balance has improved with Jim Nichols (6-2), Brian Cellar (6-1), Dan Peterson (6-1), Paul Farmer (5-10) and Gary Suhr (5-11) capable of hitting double figures.

Arch Chapman's club passed district tests in fine fashion . . . Won three two-point games in early season . . . Opened campaign with win over Class C power University High.

Clay After 3 Fights In One Final Night

. . . ASKS PRESS TO HELP

Miami (AP) — Cassius Clay said Tuesday he wants to fight Ernest Terrell, Floyd Patterson and George Chuvalo in a single night and then retire from the ring "undefeated and unmarked."

The heavyweight champion called sports writers to a news conference and asked them to help him arrange the battles.

"Because of my big mouth," said Clay. "A lot of people want to see me get beat. I'll help all I can to make that dream come true.

"I'm gonna whip Sonny Liston so bad in Boston, people will say there ain't nobody left who can give me a warmup. And that'll be true. But I'll fight Terrell, Patterson and Chuvalo in one night, and if I'm gonna be beat, that'll be the night.

"These have gotta be 10-round fights and all I want is 10 minutes rest between fights. I'll take Chuvalo last because I'll be getting tired by then and that'll make him a white hope.

"This will be my last show. We'll draw a $15 million live gate. Has any city got a place outdoors big enough to hold it? We'll charge $200 ringside and let the poor people sit way back in the back for $10. We'll put in on Telstar and let the world see it.

"I'll sign a contract to retire after I win all three fights and leave the ring world in peace."

Clay said he figured that if the sports writers "take this serious and don't make a joke out of it," the three fighters will agree to meet him.

"Otherwise," he said, "they'll have to wait too long. A man in my tax bracket can't afford to fight more than once a year.

"I want to get 'em all out of the way at once, so I can retire and get me a big farm some place where it's warm. That's good livin'. I don't want to keep fightin' for the next 10 years, waiting for somebody to beat me."

Clay's trainer, Angelo Dundee, was asked what he thought about Clay's plan.

"I think I could go through the ordeal," Dundee grinned. "I don't get too tired in the corners."

Clay's heavyweight title, won from Liston on a technical knockout at Miami Beach last year, was lifted by the World Boxing Association after he signed for a rematch with Liston, whom he will meet May 25. The suspension was not recognized in New York, Massachusetts and Great Britain and Clay remains the champion in popular opinion.

Terrell outpointed Eddie Machen at Chicago Friday for the WBA version of the title. Clay dismissed that match as "a flop—a drag."

"I was over in Jamaica for the weekend," Clay said, "and I couldn't even find out who won that fight. There wasn't nothing in the papers about it."

—TOP-SEEDED RALSTON MEETS HOLY NAME—

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

A repeat of last year's championship game highlights opening round action in the state Class B basketball tourney at the University of Nebraska Coliseum Thursday.

Ralston and Holy Name tangle in the opening game Thursday night. Last year Ralston whipped the Ramblers, 58-52, in the title game.

The top scorers in the 1964 title game are missing this year. Ralston lost Steve Neal, who scored 20, and Holy Name lost all-stater John Moylan, who scored 25, but both teams have plenty of veterans returning.

Ralston is favored to repeat as the Class B champion, but the Rams will be watching the upper bracket closely to keep tabs on second-seeded Madison.

Madison had an unbeaten string ended in district play by Schuyler last year, but turned the tables in ousting the second-ranked Warriors this year.

Ed Stevens' Dragons, ranked No. 4 at the close of the regular season, carry a 19-2 record into the state meet. They'll meet Imperial, which has 22 wins in 24 games, in the tourney opener.

Closeups on the contenders:

MADISON (19-2)

Dragons lost twice in December to Bloomfield and Albion. . . Now have 15-game winning streak under new coach Ed Stevens . . . Fourth-ranked team stopped second-ranked Schuyler in district finals.

Top performer is 6-2 senior Keith Maurer, only regular returning from last year's fine 19-1 team . . . Senior Ron Morlok, also 6-2, adds scoring punch . . . Brother Clayton, a 6-0 freshman, also starts.

Team likes to press and run and gets good play from seniors Dennis Hartner (5-11) and Don Lyons (5-8) and juniors Mike Nichols (6-3) and Jim Huddle (6-0).

IMPERIAL (22-2)

Only losses were inflicted by Class C teams Grant and Chappell . . . Longhorns opened with 12 straight wins, now have winning streak of nine.

Coach Gary Johnson has veteran performers in seniors Mike McNair (6-4), Sid Jaeger (6-1), Mac McConnell (5-10) and Don Leach (5-10) . . . Adding to the rebounding punch is 6-2 junior Dick Banks.

Best win during season was 67-53 decision over Gothenburg . . . Longhorns tripped Gordon, 73-66, in district final.

HASTINGS ST. CECILIA (16-3)

Blue Hawks coached by St. Cecilia and Regis College graduate Jerry Sherman . . . He guided club to Nebraska Catholic Conference title.

Mike Aspen, 6-5 junior, is top performer . . . Deadly outside shooter and good rebounder . . . Senior Doug Schroer (6-3) helps in rebounding . . . Sophomore Jerry Nicolarsen (6-0) adds to the outside game with 5-9 senior Kenny Stark the floor leader.

Two of three losses were to Class C Henderson and Franklin, other was to Class A Pius X . . . Team carries nine-game winning streak into state tourney.

PIERCE (13-6)

Surprise representative from Northeast . . . Upset Bloomfield, 56-55, in district semifinals . . . One of six losses was nine-point setback at hands of Madison.

Tom Arndt, hustling 5-8 senior, was hero of district play . . . Scored winning goal against Bloomfield and poured in 26 points in finals against Laurel . . . Another good backcourt performer is 5-10 Monte Zierke.

Dan Arnold's Bluejays lack height . . . Big boys are 6-1½ Tim Pint, 6-1 Don Nave and 6-2 Don Weber.

OMAHA HOLY NAME (15-6)

Ramblers lost all-stater John Moylan, but managed to return to state meet . . . Don Roddy's club has won its last seven after losing to Pius X.'

Top returnee from last year's runnerup squad is 6-4 senior Tom Lehan, who led the club through district play . . .

Other vets are seniors Joe Barbaglia (6-2), Tom Balkovec (6-0), Dan Colgan (6-1), Bob Meehan (6-0) and junior Tom Pogge (6-2½).

Two of six setbacks were administered by University High.

RALSTON (21-1)

Defending champs opened with 14 wins, lost to Wayne and now have seven-game streak . . . 1964 tourney experience should help the Rams this year.

Top performer is 6-4 senior Doug Cottingham . . . Joining him in front line are 6-1 Randy Williams and 6-4½ Mike Lee . . . Coach Bob Mackie has more rangy lads on bench.

Rick Koch, 5-9 junior, is top backcourt man . . . Tom Carr and Rick's brother Scott, a 5-6 sophomore, are other reliable hands.

Rams won Ak-Sar-Ben Conference title...Had narrow 42-40 escape against Millard in district finals.

ORD (16-5)

Senior-dominated club tripped third-ranked St. Paul in district tourney upset . . . Two of five losses were to same club.

Chanticleers have a host of good little men . . . Best are Richard Osentowski and Mike Zulkoski, who led school to fine football season . . .

Coach Ken Trubey missed regular Millard Hansen because of mumps and regular Mike Naeve because of military academy tests in district play, but bench corps delivered.

Central Ten entry now has eight game winning streak . . . Big wins during season were over Aurora and Loup City.

GENEVA (16-3)

Wildcats lost twice to Class C Hebron, avenged third loss in dumping Aurora in district finals . . . Team not especially big, but has good balance in height.

Top performer during season has been 6-4 junior Bob Gratopp, steady scorer and rebounder . . . Wildcats' balance has improved with Jim Nichols (6-2), Brian Cellar (6-1), Dan Peterson (6-1), Paul Farmer (5-10) and Gary Suhr (5-11) capable of hitting double figures.

Arch Chapman's club passed district tests in fine fashion . . . Won three two-point games in early season . . . Opened campaign with win over Class C power University High.

Clay After 3 Fights In One Final Night

. . . ASKS PRESS TO HELP

Miami (AP) — Cassius Clay said Tuesday he wants to fight Ernest Terrell, Floyd Patterson and George Chuvalo in a single night and then retire from the ring "undefeated and unmarked."

The heavyweight champion called sports writers to a news conference and asked them to help him arrange the battles.

"Because of my big mouth," said Clay. "A lot of people want to see me get beat. I'll help all I can to make that dream come true.

"I'm gonna whip Sonny Liston so bad in Boston, people will say there ain't nobody left who can give me a warmup. And that'll be true. But I'll fight Terrell, Patterson and Chuvalo in one night, and if I'm gonna be beat, that'll be the night.

"These have gotta be 10-round fights and all I want is 10 minutes rest between fights. I'll take Chuvalo last because I'll be getting tired by then and that'll make him a white hope.

"This will be my last show. We'll draw a $15 million live gate. Has any city got a place outdoors big enough to hold it? We'll charge $200 ringside and let the poor people sit way back in the back for $10. We'll put in on Telstar and let the world see it.

"I'll sign a contract to retire after I win all three fights and leave the ring world in peace."

Clay said he figured that if the sports writers "take this serious and don't make a joke out of it," the three fighters will agree to meet him.

"Otherwise," he said, "they'll have to wait too long. A man in my tax bracket can't afford to fight more than once a year.

"I want to get 'em all out of the way at once, so I can retire and get me a big farm some place where it's warm. That's good livin'. I don't want to keep fightin' for the next 10 years, waiting for somebody to beat me."

Clay's trainer, Angelo Dundee, was asked what he thought about Clay's plan.

"I think I could go through the ordeal," Dundee grinned. "I don't get too tired in the corners."

Clay's heavyweight title, won from Liston on a technical knockout at Miami Beach last year, was lifted by the World Boxing Association after he signed for a rematch with Liston, whom he will meet May 25. The suspension was not recognized in New York, Massachusetts and Great Britain and Clay remains the champion in popular opinion.

Terrell outpointed Eddie Machen at Chiago Friday for the WBA version of the title. Clay dismissed that match as "a flop—a drag."

"I was over in Jamaica for the weekend," Clay said, "and I couldn't even find out who won that fight. There wasn't nothing in the papers about it."

. . . UCLA FINISHES SECOND IN VOTING

By Associated Press

chigan, the Big Ten npion, emerged Tuesday he nation's No. 1 major-ge basketball team in the Associated Press poll of 964-65 season.

e Wolverines, despite a loss to Ohio State in their regular season game Monday night, finished first handily in the balloting by a special panel of 44 regional experts.

Michigan collected 21 first-place votes and 409 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for a second, etc. UCLA was second with 378 points, followed by St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania with 349 and Providence, 329.

Vanderbilt, Davidson, Minnesota, Villanova, Brigham Young and Duke rounded out the first 10 in that order.

The Wolverines, who finished the regular season with a 21-3 record, were runners-up to UCLA in last year's final poll. Michigan is the fourth Big Ten team to wind up on top in the AP poll since it was started in 1949. The others were the Ohio State Buckeyes in 1961 and 1962 and Indiana in 1953.

There were no changes among the top five teams in the last 1964-65 poll. UCLA held second place after beating Southern California twice, 77-71 and 52-50, for a 24-2 mark.

St. Joseph's downed St. Bonaventure last week and beat Connecticut 67-61 in the first round of the NCAA tournament Monday night. The Hawks are 26-1.

Providence, beaten only by St. Joseph's in the regular season, picked up its 23rd victory by defeating West Virginia 91-67 in the opening round of the NCAA. Vanderbilt whipped Auburn and Tulane last week, plus Louisiana State Monday night, for a 23-3 mark.

The final Top Ten, figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, with first-place vote in parentheses, won-lost records through Monday, March 8, and total points:

1. Michigan (21) 21-3	409
2. UCLA (10) 24-2	378
3. St. Joseph's, Pa. (11) 26-1	349
4. Providence (2) 23-1	329
5. Vanderbilt 23-3	201
6. Davidson 24-2	185
7. Minnesota 19-5	141
8. Villanova 21-4	128
9. Brigham Young 21-5	98
10. Duke 20-5	78

Other teams receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Connecticut, Dayton, Illinois, Miami of Florida, Miami of Ohio, New Mexico, NYU, North Carolina State, Notre Dame, Ohio University, Oklahoma State, Penn State, Princeton, San Francisco, Tennessee, Wichita.

Michigan Leads Final AP Basketball Ratings

. . . UCLA FINISHES SECOND IN VOTING

By Associated Press

Michigan, the Big Ten champion, emerged Tuesday as the nation's No. 1 major-college basketball team in the final Associated Press poll of the 1964-65 season.

The Wolverines, despite a 93-85 loss to Ohio State in their final regular season game Monday night, finished first handily in the balloting by a special panel of 44 regional experts.

Michigan collected 21 first-place votes and 409 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for a second, etc. UCLA was second with 378 points, followed by St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania with 349 and Providence, 329.

Vanderbilt, Davidson, Minnesota, Villanova, Brigham Young and Duke rounded out the first 10 in that order.

The Wolverines, who finished the regular season with a 21-3 record, were runners-up to UCLA in last year's final poll. Michigan is the fourth Big Ten team to wind up on top in the AP poll since it was started in 1949. The others were the Ohio State Buckeyes in 1961 and 1962 and Indiana in 1953.

There were no changes among the top five teams in the last 1964-65 poll. UCLA held second place after beating Southern California twice, 77-71 and 52-50, for a 24-2 mark.

St. Joseph's downed St. Bonaventure last week and beat Connecticut 67-61 in the first round of the NCAA tournament Monday night. The Hawks are 26-1.

Providence, beaten only by St. Joseph's in the regular season, picked up its 23rd victory by defeating West Virginia 91-67 in the opening round of the NCAA. Vanderbilt whipped Auburn and Tulane last week, plus Louisiana State Monday night, for a 23-3 mark.

The final Top Ten, figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, with first-place vote in parentheses, won-lost records through Monday, March 8, and total points:

1. Michigan (21) 21-3	408
2. UCLA (10) 24-2	378
3. St. Joseph's, Pa. (11) 26-1	349
4. Providence (2) 23-1	329
5. Vanderbilt 23-3	201
6. Davidson 24-2	185
7. Minnesota 18-5	141
8. Villanova 21-4	128
9. Brigham Young 21-5	98
10. Duke 20-5	78

Other teams receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Connecticut, Dayton, Illinois, Miami of Florida, Miama of Ohio, New Mexico, NYU, North Carolina State, Notre Dame, Ohio University, Oklahoma State, Penn State, Princeton, San Francisco, Tennessee, Wichita.

Sen. Bauer: Delay Tax Debate

Sen. Hal Bauer Tuesday urged initial floor discussion of his income tax bill be delayed until senators review "major portions" of the omnibus budget bill.

The Lincoln lawmaker said in this way the Legislature will get a better idea of how much money is needed for state government and education during the 1965-67 biennium starting July 1.

"I think every senator should be allowed to determine our needs before a show-down vote is taken on the bill," Bauer, a freshman senator, related.

'Very Important'

"This is a very important piece of legislation and I want everyone to be aware of its content and why it is needed."

The Legislature's Revenue Committee Monday endorsed the bill, LB797, on a 6-2 vote. It now goes to general file, the preliminary floor debate point, in the legislative process.

The 1963 income tax bill was also advanced from committee, but died on general file.

Bauer noted that the Budget Committee has promised to deliver an education-welfare-institutions fiscal package to the lawmakers by April 1. He said he would probably have no objection to discussing the income tax bill after the package has been reviewed.

Big Agencies

"These are the big spending agencies. I think we will be able to determine how much more money will be needed once we look over this package," he said.

The so-called package will include the University of Nebraska, state colleges, State Welfare Department and State Institutions Department budgets.

If delivered as promised by Budget Committee Chairman Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, it will mark a reversal from past policy when the entire budget bill was considered late in the session.

Bauer admitted the fate of his income tax bill could well hinge on the committees' recommendations. He said many senators have indicated they will support an income tax bill if it appears the property tax will have to be increased substantially to meet burgeoning governmental costs.

Education Unit Holds ETV Measure

The Education Committee voted Tuesday to hang onto LB162, a measure appropriating $2.2 million for completion of Nebraska's educational television network, until the fate of LB26 is determined on the floor of the Legislature.

"If we report out LB162 and there is no way to finance it, the bill might be killed," Sen. Ross H. Rasmussen of Hooper said. "I personally would hate to see that happen."

LB26, now awaiting final reading, proposes a two cent a pack increase in the cigarette tax. Part of the additional money is earmarked to complete the seven-station network.

After a lengthy committee discussion, Rasmussen said, "it seems that the passage of LB162 hinges closely to the availability of money."

He added: "If the bill is killed we have lost our vehicle, although the appropriation could still be included in the budget bill."

Rasmussen said the committee also discussed the possible needs for a larger appropriation in LB162. He added that this might be necessary to pay the cost of adding more power to Channel 16 in Omaha.

The committee also held public hearings on three bills and reported them to the floor. The unopposed measures were:

—LB633, removing a limitation on the amount of funds a school district may invest.

—LB683, allowing the University of Omaha to issue revenue bonds for building parking lots or other revenue-producing facilities.

—LB792, lifting the limitation that Class 6 school districts may not levy a tax in excess of 12 mills.

Bill Banning Contracts With Debtor Killed, 5-0

The Legislature's Banking Committee Tuesday killed 5-0 a bill that would have made it illegal to engage in the business of contracting with a debtor to pay off creditors.

The bill, LB416, introduced by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter, was heard by the committee Monday, but action deferred.

The committee Tuesday heard testimony on a bill which calls for regulation of such businesses by the State Department of Banking, but held the bill without taking action.

Regulation Needed

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, introducer of LB545, told the committee that regulation of debt management firms in the state was needed—that several other states either prohibit or regulate them.

The committee did adopt one amendment to Warner's regulatory bill, however, striking the bill's grandfather clause.

It would have allowed debt management firms that have existed for two years to get a license only by filing an application, furnishing bond and paying an annual fee.

The committee also heard and held LB653, introduced by Carpenter, which provides that when illegal interest has been contracted for the creditor shall recover only principal and the debtor shall recover costs.

Deducted

Interests and costs would be deducted from the remaining principal.

Carpenter said he would offer an amendment to the bill, confining the penalty to the small loan act. He said he did not want to leave the small loan people without a penalty.

Four Nominated For Ideal Pledge

Four Nebraska Wesleyan University fraternity men have been nominated for "Ideal Pledge."

They are: Jan Jensen, Ralston freshman, Phi Kappa Tau; Dan Ireland, Norfolk freshman, Theta Chi; David Bigler, Omaha freshman, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Carl Bazarian, Watertown, Mass., freshman, Zeta Psi.

The winner will be revealed at the annual Big-Snob-Old Grouch dance Friday.

BILL FOR MORE JUDGES SUPPORTED

A bill which would increase the number of judges on Nebraska's Workmen's Compensation Court and extend the terms of the judges from six to eight years drew wide support and no opposition at a legislative hearing Tuesday.

The Judiciary Committee deferred action on the measure, LB345, introduced by Sens. Cecil Craft of North Platte, Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont and Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha.

Lawyers who practice before the court and Workmen's Compensation judges themselves testified to the increasing work load, the necessity for speedy adjudication of its cases, and the desirability of continuity which eight-year terms would assure.

Also heard and held was Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB527, an unopposed bill which Carpenter said will require that deeds, mortgages and conveyances of real estate correctly show the consideration involved in such transfer before the deed or conveyance is filed with the register of deeds.

Carpenter termed it "a must bill" if the sales-assessment ratio is to be used as a tool for equalizing property valuations among counties for tax purposes.

Bill Peters, attorney for the tax commissioner's office, similarly supported the bill.

The committee agreed to introduce a bill which extends from 10 to a maximum of years the paying-off period intersection paving bonds second class cities and villages. Sen. William Wylie Elgin said the measure sought by the town of well.

CANADIAN
Whisky
A BLEND

Next time you're making the drinks, instead of your usual whiskey, use this superior import.

Do what thousands of smart drinkers are now doing: Compare Windsor Canadian with your usual whiskey. Make two drinks, one with your "usual," the other with Windsor. You'll be amazed—as thousands of people are—at the extra smoothness of Windsor.

There are three reasons for this!

1. Windsor is distilled and aged in dry, crisp, mile-high Rocky Mountain air.

2. Windsor is made from grain born of prairie farms in Western Canada, hearty and vigorous.

3. And the water is clear pure glacial water.

No wonder Windsor is the smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada.

Yet this uniquely smooth, elegant import is priced right in line with leading popular-priced whiskeys. Try this remarkable new Canadian.

Bauer noted that the Budget Committee has promised to deliver an education-welfare-institutions fiscal package to the lawmakers by April 1. He said he would probably have no objection to discussing the income tax bill after the package has been reviewed.

Big Agencies

"These are the big spending agencies. I think we will be able to determine how much more money will be needed once we look over this package," he said.

The so-called package will include the University of Nebraska, state colleges, State Welfare Department and State Institutions Department budgets.

If delivered as promised by Budget Committee Chairman Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, it will mark a reversal from past policy when the entire budget bill was considered late in the session.

Bauer admitted the fate of his income tax bill could well hinge on the committees' recommendations. He said many senators have indicated they will support an income tax bill if it appears the property tax will have to be increased substantially to meet burgeoning governmental costs.

Education Unit Holds ETV Measure

The Education Committee voted Tuesday to hang onto LB162, a measure appropriating $2.2 million for completion of Nebraska's educational television network, until the fate of LB26 is determined on the floor of the Legislature.

"If we report out LB162 and there is no way to finance it, the bill might be killed," Sen. Ross H. Rasmussen of Hooper said. "I personally would hate to see that happen."

LB26, now awaiting final reading, proposes a two cent a pack increase in the cigarette tax. Part of the additional money is earmarked to complete the seven-station network.

After a lengthy committee discussion, Rasmussen said, "it seems that the passage of LB162 hinges closely to the availability of money."

He added: "If the bill is killed we have lost our vehicle, although the appropriation could still be included in the budget bill."

Rasmussen said the committee also discussed the possible needs for a larger appropriation in LB162. He added that this might be necessary to pay the cost of adding more power to Channel 16 in Omaha.

The committee also held public hearings on three bills and reported them to the floor. The unopposed measures were:

—LB633, removing a limitation on the amount of funds a school district may invest.

—LB683, allowing the University of Omaha to issue revenue bonds for building parking lots or other revenue-producing facilities.

—LB792, lifting the limitation that Class 6 school districts may not levy a tax in excess of 12 mills.

Bill Banning Contracts With Debtor Killed, 5-0

The Legislature's Banking Committee Tuesday killed 5-0 a bill that would have made it illegal to engage in the business of contracting with a debtor to pay off creditors.

The bill, LB416, introduced by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter, was heard by the committee Monday, but action deferred.

The committee Tuesday heard testimony on a bill which calls for regulation of such businesses by the State Department of Banking, but held the bill without taking action.

Regulation Needed

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, introducer of LB545, told the committee that regulation of debt management firms in the state was needed—that several other states either prohibit or regulate them.

The committee did adopt one amendment to Warner's regulatory bill, however, striking the bill's grandfather clause.

It would have allowed debt management firms that have existed for two years to get a license only by filing an application, furnishing bond and paying an annual fee.

The committee also heard and held LB653, introduced by Carpenter, which provides that when illegal interest has been contracted for the creditor shall recover only principal and the debtor shall recover costs.

Deducted

Interests and costs would be deducted from the remaining principal.

Carpenter said he would offer an amendment to the bill, confining the penalty to the small loan act. He said he did not want to leave the small loan people without a penalty.

Four Nominated For Ideal Pledge

Four Nebraska Wesleyan University fraternity men have been nominated for "Ideal Pledge."

They are: Jan Jensen, Ralston freshman, Phi Kappa Tau; Dan Ireland, Norfolk freshman, Theta Chi; David Bigler, Omaha freshman, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Carl Bazarian, Watertown, Mass., freshman, Zeta Psi.

The winner will be revealed at the annual Big-Snob-Old Grouch dance Friday.

BILL FOR MORE JUDGES SUPPORTED

A bill which would increase the number of judges on Nebraska's Workmen's Compensation Court and extend the terms of the judges from six to eight years drew wide support and no opposition at a legislative hearing Tuesday.

The Judiciary Committee deferred action on the measure, LB345, introduced by Sens. Cecil Craft of North Platte, Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont and Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha.

Lawyers who practice before the court and Workmen's Compensation judges themselves testified to the increasing work load, the necessity for speedy adjudication of its cases, and the desirability of continuity which eight-year terms would assure.

Also heard and held was Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB527, an unopposed bill which Carpenter said will require that deeds, mortgages and conveyances of real estate correctly show the consideration involved in such transfer before the deed or conveyance is filed with the register of deeds.

Carpenter termed it "a must bill" if the sales-assessment ratio is to be used as a tool for equalizing property valuations among counties for tax purposes.

Bill Peters, attorney for the tax commissioner's office, similarly supported the bill.

The committee agreed to introduce a bill which extends from 10 to a maximum of years the paying-off period intersection paving bonds second class cities and villages. Sen. William Wylie of Elgin said the measure was sought by the town of Burwell.

CANADIAN WHISKY—A BLEND · EIGHTY PROOF · IMPORTED BY NATIONAL DISTILLERS PRODUCTS CO., NEW YORK

QUALITATE NON COMPARABILI

Now try...
The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

IMPORTED
Supreme CANADIAN Whisky
A BLEND

Next time you're making the drinks, instead of your usual whiskey, use this superior import.

Do what thousands of smart drinkers are now doing: Compare Windsor Canadian with your usual whiskey. Make two drinks, one with your "usual," the other with Windsor. You'll be amazed—as thousands of people are—at the extra smoothness of Windsor.

There are three reasons for this!

1. Windsor is distilled and aged in dry, crisp, mile-high Rocky Mountain air.

2. Windsor is made from grain born of prairie farms in Western Canada, hearty and vigorous.

3. And the water is clear pure glacial water.

No wonder Windsor is the smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada.

Yet this uniquely smooth, elegant import is priced right in line with leading popular-priced whiskeys. Try this remarkable new Canadian.

FBI SAYS SERIOUS CRIME UP 13%

Washington (AP)—Serious crimes increased 13% across the United States in 1964, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Tuesday. Rape and assault headed the list.

The total is up about a quarter-million—nearly 1.9 million in 1963 and more than 2,151,000 last year, Hoover said.

The FBI's statistics are based on preliminary reports from police departments. A complete report on the crime upswing will be published in July.

Hoover's report of a crime increase, which has become an annual event, came a day after President Johnson sent to Congress a message outlining his legislative proposals to combat that trend.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach addressing the Women's National Press Club Tuesday, said the message is the foundation for "the most systematic, far-reaching and effective assault on crime ever undertaken."

Katzenbach called organized crime a "nationwide conspiracy which is attached, like a lamprey eel, to the body of our society." He said it involves billions of dollars and accounts for scores of murders and untold terror.

Hoover's report gave these increases in crimes classed as serious by the FBI: murder, 9%; forcible rape, 19%; aggravated assault, 18%; robbery, 12%; burglary, 12%; larceny of more than $50, 13%; and auto theft, 16%.

U.S. Needs New Tools To Keep Racketeers Out Of Banking—Saxon

Washington (AP)— A top federal banking official said Tuesday the government could use some new tools to keep racketeers and manipulators out of the national bank business.

But Comptroller of the Currency James J. Saxon counseled against too much regulation of the banking industry. He said that could lead to communism.

Saxon said he does not want the government to require advance approval of changes in the control of national banks.

"What I'd fear in the power to approve in advance is the great susceptibility to abuse," he told the Senate investigations subcommittee.

On a broader scale, Saxon warned against increasing regulations which could require prior approval of bank loans and investments by public authorities. "It would entail government allocation of resources . . ." he said.

"Indeed," Saxon said, "It would communize and socialize the banking industry . . . and the whole economy without additional steps."

Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., raised the question of racketeer infiltration.

"There have been charges, I won't say they've been substantiated, that in some instances racketeers have gained control of these banks," McClellan said.

Her father's '65 Ford......rides quieter than her father's Rolls-Royce

Rolls-Royce owners enjoy one of the world's finest handcrafted cars. Ford owners enjoy the world's finest popular-priced car. Proof?

By test,* Fords rode even quieter than a Rolls-Royce. And quiet means quality—the '65 Ford XL is remarkably strong, well-designed, solidly built. Prove it with a test drive.

Feel Ford's solid quality ■ Strongest Ford body ever ■ New frame "tunes out" vibration ■ New ultrasoft coil spring suspension

Inspect Ford's luxurious new LTD's ■ Decorator-styled interiors, thick nylon carpeting ■ Ten courtesy lights, rear-seat center arm rests ■ Elegant nylon-vinyl upholsteries ■ Walnut-like vinyl inserts on doors, instrument panel ■ Five ash trays (4-door hardtops)

Relax in Ford's spacious interiors ■ More hip, shoulder, knee room than last year ■ Transmission hump is lower for extra foot room ■ Trunk holds four 2-suiters standing upright, and more

Test Ford's new power ■ Big, new 289-cu. in. V-8 standard in XL's and LTD's ■ New Big Six is the biggest Six in any car, standard on other Galaxie and Custom models ■ All automatics are 3-speed, not 2 as in some cars—smoother, thriftier ■ The manual transmission is fully synchronized—easier shifting

Stock Market Dip Irregular

New York (AP) — The stock market underwent an irregular decline Tuesday in moderately active trading.

Volume was 5.21 million shares compared with 5.27 million Monday.

Analysts ascribed at least some of the weakness in stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange to interest in the big new offering of General Aniline & Film Corp.

The offering of 11,166,438 common shares was the largest on a share basis in Wall Street's history and the suspense about the offering price had been building for some time. As a result, attention was distracted from trading on the Big Board, to some extent, at least.

With Aniline stock offered to the public at $30.00 a share in the over-the-counter market, many of those interested sold stock listed on the exchange in order to buy Aniline which quickly moved to a premium price of about 33.

The performance on the New York Stock Exchange generally was uninspiring.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 2.77 at 894.07.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .3 to 334.6 with industrials off 2.1, rails off .1 and utilities unchanged.

Of 1,370 issues traded, 561 rose and 609 fell. New highs for 1964-65 totaled 97 and new lows five.

A 4-point loss by DuPont was a sizable depressant for the popular market averages.

Eleven of the 15 most active issues declined and 4 advanced.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.00 million shares compared with 2.35 million Monday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds weakened.

Grains Finish Generally Firm

Chicago (AP) — After drifting into small losses for most of the day the grain futures market suddenly reversed direction shortly before the close of the Board of Trade Tuesday and finished in a generally firm range.

Nearly all contracts closed with at least small fractional advances while old crop soybeans rallied for 3 cents or more from the lows and ended with gains of more than a cent on most deliveries.

Soybeans were ⅛-1⅜ cents a bushel higher at the close, March $3.08⅝-½; wheat ⅛-¼ higher, March $1.50⅝; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, March $1.30⅛; oats ⅛-⅜ higher, March 70⅜; rye ⅛-⅜ higher, March $1.21¼.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Young Army Doctor Raises Question Of Life Insurance

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A young Army doctor, who is trying to put prudence into his own life financial planning, writes me about his disdain for life insurance.

Rukeyser

In a communication to this column, he asks: "Are there any 'sound' businessmen who shy away from life insurance so they can have more funds available for investing? When I leave the service I expect the amount available for investing will go up considerably if our standard of living can stay somewhat 'frozen'."

The doctor raises the question of life insurance, which he previously rejected, because he is now the father of three young children. The physician feels that he has hidden family reserves in the fact that his wife is a nurse and can return to work when, if and as necessary, and that her earnings, if restored, could meet the family budget.

At present, the doctor has a $500 monthly surplus, which is allocated into three parts: bank deposits, savings and loan shares and common stocks. The reader thinks that an unduly heavy commitment to pay life insurance premiums would unduly restrict his savings and investment program. He does, however, carry property insurance.

It is difficult for most persons to evaluate life insurance coldly and objectively. The wide sale of life insurance is in part based on the human emotion unselfishly to provide for loved ones. While chiseling stock peddlers may tend unduly to downgrade life insurance, the official line of the industry, on the other hand, is to invest such contracts with unique sacredness.

As for myself, I regard a life insurance contract as a financial tool. While it should not be changed lightly in order to prove a "twister" with earnings, there is no reason why an analytical policyholder cannot make shifts in order to adjust to changing family circumstances and needs.

If other factors remain equal, the total need for life insurance protection tends to diminish as other assets grow—stocks and bonds, real estate, savings deposits, and, in the case of businessmen, disposable assets in connection with a properous enterprise.

Insurance is uniquely desirable for persons with heavy responsibilities toward dependents without sufficient assets to balance such liabilities. Life insurance fills a need for those who desire to create an estate overnight by the stroke of a pen—and the payment of a premium.

This writer can't agree with his correspondent who writes: "I find the premiums too high for the policy face value." The net cost of insurance is in balance with the actuarial risks entailed. If an individual has ample outside investments and wants pure insurance protection, he can get this at a low cost through term insurance — preferably renewal and convertible term contracts.

Q. A young reader in Tacoma, Wash. is worried about paying taxes on interest on $5,000 of savings deposits. He wants to know whether to switch to stocks and get the benefit of $200 exclusion from taxes on dividends.

A. Of course, we are living in a tax civilization and it is legitimate to avoid taxes, though illegal to evade them through false reporting. The tax factor of course is not the only consideration. This young couple, which presumably makes a joint return, has an income of $12,000 a year. It would seem prudent to keep some cash reserves for emergencies in a savings account. The amount needed is somewhat reduced by the fact that both are earning incomes. As a start, I see no objection to putting $2,000 in a seasoned mutual fund, and building up such stock holdings through periodical thrift.

Q. A Maine professional man, aged 72, is considering retiring. His total holdings would provide an income of $8,600. Of his total assets, only $35,000 are in common stocks. The remainder consists of fixed dollar commitments, including an annuity contract and Social Security old age and retirement. He wants to know whether to invest the $30,000 in bank savings or in common stocks.

A. Your setup is a bit unbalanced in favor of fixed dollar income. This does not protect you against the contingency of future inflation in the cost of living. But you do need an emergency cash fund in liquid form for contingencies.

You don't indicate the quality of your common shares. If you are a novice, you would not be prudent at venturing in common stocks after the prolonged market rise on a do-it-yourself basis. It might be sensible to put $20,000 of your savings deposits in seasoned "no load" mutual funds. A list will be sent to you by mail.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Two Veterans Leave Lincoln Police Force

Two veteran police officers will leave the Lincoln Police Department this month to accept law enforcement positions in Eastern Nebraska.

Patrolman Ronald Bruder, a six-year veteran of the department, will become chief of police at Seward. Bruder has been a dog handler for the Lincoln Police Department.

Patrolman Richard Schneider, a member of the force since 1959, will become a detective for the CB&Q Railroad.

"The resignations of these experienced men will be a loss to the department," according to Chief of Police Joseph T. Carroll. Carroll expressed confidence that these men will do well in their new positions.

Holy Hootenanny On The Program

Menomonee Falls, Wis. (AP)— A "holy hootenanny" was part of the program at St. Paul's United Church of Christ marking the dedication of a church building addition.

Young people of the church, accompanied by guitar and drums, sang songs they learned at church camps.

Stock Market Dip Irregular

New York (AP) — The stock market underwent an irregular decline Tuesday in moderately active trading.

Volume was 5.21 million shares compared with 5.27 million Monday.

Analysts ascribed at lest some of the weakness in stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange to interest in the big new offering of General Aniline & Film Corp.

The offering of 11,166,438 common shares was the largest on a share basis in Wall Street's history and the suspense about the offering price had been building for some time. As a result, attention was distracted from trading on the Big Board, to some extent, at least.

With Aniline stock offered to the public at $30.60 a share in the over-the-counter market, many of those interested sold stock listed on the exchange in order to buy Aniline which quickly moved to a premium price of about 32.

The performance on the New York Stock Exchange generally was uninspiring.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 2.77 at 894.07.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .9 to 334.6 with industrials off 2.1, rails off .1 and utiliites unchanged.

Of 1,370 issues traded, 501 rose and 609 fell. New highs for 1964-65 totaled 67 and new lows five.

A 4-point loss by DuPont was a sizeable depressant for the popular market averages.

Eleven of the 15 most active issues declined and 4 advanced.

Prices were irregularly lower on hte American Stock Exchange. Volume was 2.09 million shares compared with 2.25 million Monday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds weakened.

Grains Finish Generally Firm

Chicago (AP) — After drifting into small losses for most of the day the grain futures market suddenly reversed direction shortly before the close of the Board of Trade Tuesday and finished in a generally firm range.

Nearly all contracts closed with at least small fractional advances while old crop soybeans rallied for 3 cents or more from the lows and ended with gains of more than a cent on most deliveries.

Soybeans were ⅜-1⅝ cents a bushel higher at the close, March $3.02⅜-½; wheat ⅛-½ higher, March $1.50⅞; corn unchanged to ½ higher, March $1 29⅛; oats ⅛-⅝ higher, March 70⅜; rye ⅛-⅜ oats ⅛-⅝ higher, March 70⅜; rye ⅛-⅜ higher, March $1.21¼.

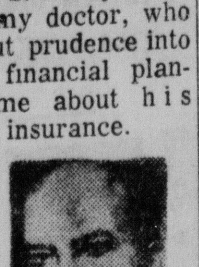
EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Young Army Doctor Raises Question Of Life Insurance

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A young Army doctor, who is trying to put prudence into his own life financial planning, writes me about his disdain for life insurance.



Rukeyser

In a communication to this column, he asks: "Are there any 'sound' businessmen who shy away from life insurance so they can have more funds available for investing? When I leave the service I expect the amount available for investing will go up considerably if our standard of living can stay somewhat 'frozen'."

The doctor raises the question of life insurance, which he previously rejected, because he is now the father of three young children. The physician feels that he has hidden family reserves in the fact that his wife is a nurse and can return to work when, if and as necessary, and that her earnings, if restored, could meet the family budget.

At present, the doctor has a $500 monthly surplus, which is allocated into three parts: bank deposits, savings and loan shares and common stocks. The reader thinks that an unduly heavy commitment to pay life insurance premiums would unduly restrict his savings and investment program. He does, however, carry property insurance.

It is difficult for most persons to evaluate life insurance coldly and objectively. The wide sale of life insurance is in part based on the human emotion unselfishly to provide for loved ones. While chiseling stock peddlers may tend unduly to downgrade life insurance, the official line of the industry, on the other hand, is to invest such contracts with unique sacredness.

As for myself, I regard a life insurance contract as a financial tool. While it should not be changed lightly in order to prove a "twister" with earnings, there is no reason why an analytical policyholder cannot make shifts in order to adjust to changing family circumstances and needs.

If other factors remain equal, the total need for life insurance protection tends to diminish as other assets grow—stocks and bonds, real estate, savings deposits, and, in the case of businessmen, disposable assets in connection with a properous enterprise.

Insurance is uniquely desirable for persons with heavy responsibilities toward dependents without sufficient assets to balance such liabilities. Life insurance fills a need for those who desire to create an estate overnight by the stroke of a pen—and the payment of a premium.

This writer can't agree with his correspondent who writes: "I find the premiums too high for the policy face value." The net cost of insurance is in balance with the actuarial risks entailed. If an individual has ample outside investments and wants pure insurance protection, he can get this at a low cost through term insurance — preferably renewal and convertible term contracts.

Q. A young reader in Tacoma, Wash. is worried about paying taxes on interest on $5,000 of savings deposits. He wants to know whether to switch to stocks and get the benefit of $200 exclusion from taxes on dividends.

A. Of course, we are living in a tax civilization and it is legitimate to avoid taxes, though illegal to evade them through false reporting. The tax factor of course is not the only consideration. This young couple, which presumably makes a joint return, has an income of $12,000 a year. It would seem prudent to keep some cash reserves for emergencies in a savings account. The amount needed is somewhat reduced by the fact that both are earning incomes. As a start, I see no objection to putting $2,000 in a seasoned mutual fund, and building up such stock holdings through periodical thrift.

Q. A Maine professional man, aged 72, is considering retiring. His total holdings would provide an income of $8,600. Of his total assets, only $35,000 are in common stocks. The remainder consists of fixed dollar commitments, including an annuity contract and Social Security old age and retirement. He wants to know whether to invest the $30,000 in bank savings or in common stocks.

A. Your setup is a bit unbalanced in favor of fixed dollar income. This does not protect you against the contingency of future inflation in the cost of living. But you do need an emergency cash fund in liquid form for contingencies.

You don't indicate the quality of your common shares. If you are a novice, you would not be prudent at venturing in common stocks after the prolonged market rise on a do-it-yourself basis. It might be sensible to put $20,000 of your savings deposits in seasoned "no load" mutual funds. A list will be sent to you by mail.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Two Veterans Leave Lincoln Police Force

Two veteran police officers will leave the Lincoln Police Department this month to accept law enforcement positions in Eastern Nebraska.

Patrolman Ronald Bruder, a six-year veteran of the department, will become chief of police at Seward. Bruder has been a dog handler for the Lincoln Police Department.

Patrolman Richard Schneider, a member of the force since 1959, will become a detective for the CB&Q Railroad.

"The resignations of these experienced men will be a loss to the department," according to Chief of Police Joseph T. Carroll. Carroll expressed confidence that these men will do well in their new positions.

Holy Hootenanny On The Program

Menomonee Falls, Wis. (AP)—A "holy hootenanny" was part of the program at St. Paul's United Church of Christ marking the dedication of a church building addition.

Young people of the church, accompanied by guitar and drums, sang songs they learned at church camps.

University Of California Chiefs Resign Suddenly

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, suddenly announced his resignation late Tuesday. He made no mention of the riotous Free Speech Movement which has shaken the university's Berkeley campus since last fall.

Along with Kerr, acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson announced that he too was quitting. Neither gave any reason for the sudden action.

Meyerson succeeded Chancellor Edward W. Strong, who took a leave of absence after the arrest of some 800 demonstrators at the university administration building last Dec. 2 and 3.

Brown Comments

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in Sacramento, said, "I intend to do everything within my power to see that he (Kerr) rescinds his action of resigning as president of the university."

Kerr has been president of the statewide, nine-campus university system since 1958. It is the country's largest.

Although they resolutely refused to give any reasons for their decision, it was evident that the free speech disorders were involved, including the "obscenity" display last week.

The so-called Free Speech Movement, led by a fiery 22-year-old New York student named Mario Savio, boiled up last September shortly after classes began for the fall semester.

Dissatisfied with their progress, the militant minority staged a sit-in demonstration in the administration building Dec. 2.

Police on order.. from Brown arrested more than 800 who refused to leave voluntarily. The arrests occupied all of the night and most of the morning of Dec. 2-3.

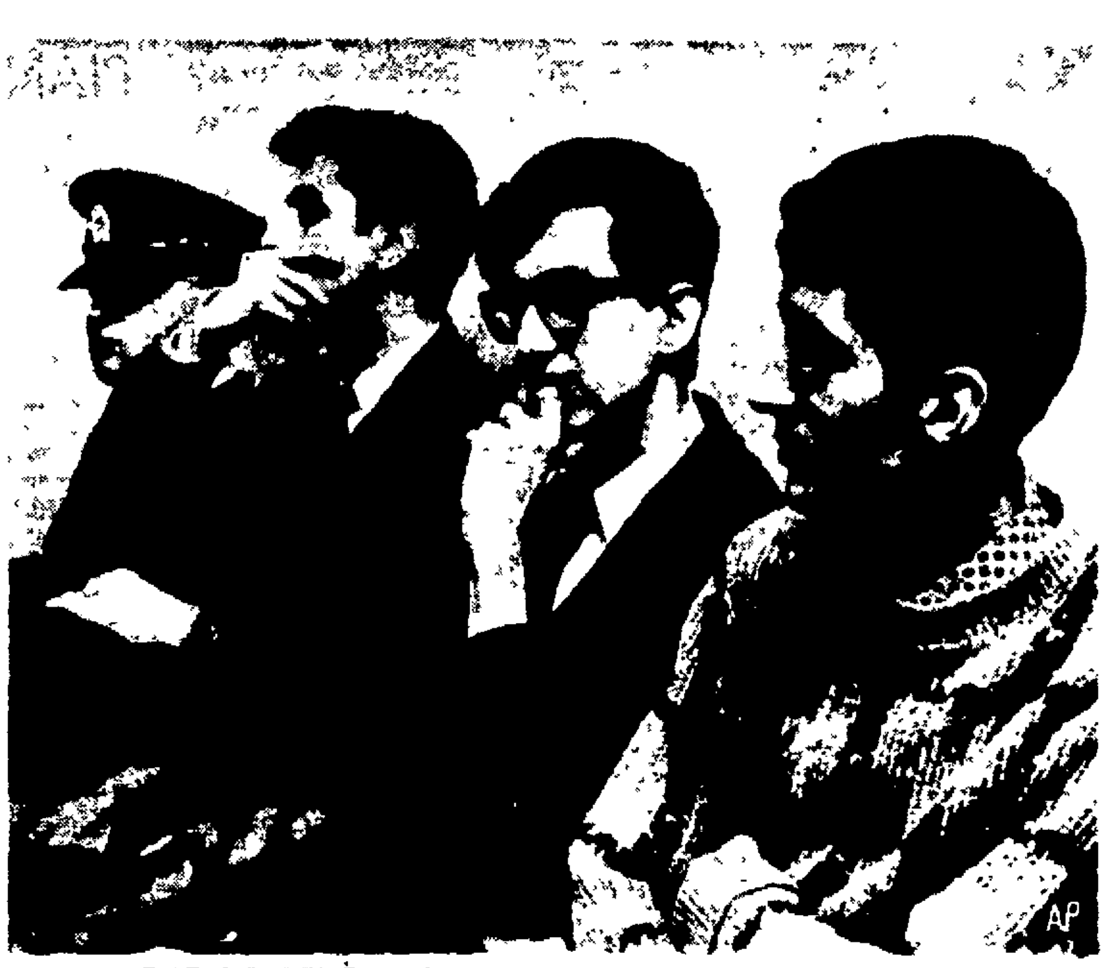
Kerr, a University of California executive for more than 20 years in various capacities, philosophically remarked of the whole disorderly and complex dispute:

"We fumbled, we flundered, and the worst thing is, I still don't know how we should have handled it."

Last week, a non-student, John Thomson, paraded on the campus with a large sign bearing a single four-letter obscene word. He was arrested.

Some 1,500 students rallied to his support and held demonstrations last Thursday and Friday. They shouted the obscene word over a microphone, displayed signs and made speeches.

Seven persons were arrested, and faculty members and Meyerson scorned the affair as a perversion of free speech.



SEPARATIST CONSPIRATORS IN COURT

Three Quebec separatists accused of conspiracy to blow up the Statue of Liberty and other historic American shrines sit in Montreal court awaiting preliminary inquiry. From left are Gilles Legault, 31, salesman; Jean Giroux, 20, postal employe, and Raymond Sabourin, 20, clerk.

Four Flour Firms Change Their Pleas

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)— Four flour-milling companies have joined eight other firms in changing from innocent to no contest their pleas to federal charges of a flour price-fixing conspiracy.

Eight flour-milling companies changed their plea Feb. 22, and the remaining four were allowed to change their plea Monday in U.S. District Court here. All had pleaded innocent last May 18.

Judge John O. Henderson set March 22 for sentencing all 12 firms.

The companies and six of their officers were indicted on charges they had subjected commercial bakeries to artificially high flour prices.

The companies produce 65% of the bakery flour sold east of the Rocky Mountains.

The firms which changed their plea Monday were:

Gooch Milling and Elevator Co., Lincoln, Neb.; Inland Mills Inc., Des Moines, Iowa; Weber Flour Mills Co., and Western Star Mill Co., both of Salina, Kan.

The officers, who have pleaded innocent, included John J. Vanier, president of Gooch Milling.

Fireman Badly Injured In Fall

Bellevue (AP)— A Bellevue fireman was injured Tuesday while fighting an apartment house fire (at Thurston Street and Highway 131) in Sarpy County.

Fireman Charles Friend, 24, Bellevue, was taken to Douglas County Hospital after he lost his footing on the ice while on the roof of the two-story building. He slid off and fell to the concrete below. He was reported in serious condition.

The apartment building, under construction, was heavily damaged. Bellevue and eastern Sarpy County firemen responded to the call. The building was partly occupied and two occupied apartments were involved.

Meter pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill in the Jan. 5 shooting of Reuben Brown, 39, of Banner County.

Judge Feidler said he pronounced a severe sentence because he understands there is a possibility Brown will be permanently paralyzed.

Portions Of Missouri Valley Locked Tight By Banks Of Ice

Missouri Valley, Iowa (AP)—At the police radio microphone in the city hall, Mayor H. R. Watson hoists his feet on a desk and munches a sandwich.

"Sit still and wait. That's all we can do," says the mayor, a wiry cafe owner who sports well-polished cowboy boots and a cattleman's hat.

Outside on East Erie Street, traffic splashes through town again between banked-up piles of ice. Big green dump trucks rumble by on their way to the dikes.

Garage owner Ray Smith has started to pump the water from his basement of his house. But like more than 1,000 others forced from their homes by flood he isn't hurrying to move back in.

"I've rented another house for a month," he says. "I'm staying till the ice is gone. You might as well stay away or you'll be moving out again."

Bulldozers have peeled back the deep layer of ice from the street by Smith's home and water runs eight inches deep there. In the next block streets are locked tight with ice between lonely, uninhabited houses.

Their former occupants, too, are waiting to see what time and warmer temperatures will bring.

This western Iowa town of 3,000 pokes out of a plain of ice that extends for miles. Through the plain east of town, running arrow—straight from north-northeast to south-southwest, is the Boyer River. South of town the Boyer hooks toward the west. It is jammed solid with jagged dirt-creased, chunks of ice.

On Sunday, Feb. 28, the rising Boyer broke through its dikes to spread across low-lying areas of town and farmlands south and west of the city. Rain added to the river's glut.

The Army Engineers' man in charge, R. L. Fitzhugh, is optimistic.

"We feel we will make it, with a slow warming trend," said the weary engineer.

Private Trade Schools Organize; Abdouch Is Head

Omaha (AP)— Twenty Nebraska private trade and vocational schools have organized into the Nebraska Council of Private Vocational Schools.

George Abdouch, head of the Universal Trades School of Omaha, was named president.

He said the organization must present its side for use of federal funds in training programs.

Jerry Loveland, head of the North Platte Beauty Academy, was named vice president, Secretary is Wayne Weigert, director of the Nettleton Business College, Lincoln.

Goodyear's Payroll Up During 1964

The payroll at the Lincoln plant of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. totaled approximately $7.4 million last year, compared with $6.7 million the previous year, plant manager D. R. Remigio reported Tuesday.

In a statement summarizing 1964 activities, Remigio said employment, total payroll, number of area suppliers and the amount paid them, and production all increased over 1963.

Employment at the plant, which manufactures v-belts, power transmission belts, specialty conveyor belting and hose for the automotive, farm equipment and appliance industries, averaged 1,102 during 1964, an increase of nearly eight per cent over the 1,022 average the previous year.

The plant purchased goods or services from 86 businesses in the Lincoln area, compared with 83 the year before, and total value of the purchases advanced from $1.4 million to $1.6 million.

Production set a high of 17.7 million tons, a 10 per cent increase over the previous high in 1963.

The plant has announced a multi-million dollar expansion which Remigio said could mean as many as 300 new jobs at the plant.

Legislature Asked To Help Rurals With Power Savings

Nebraska rural electric leaders have turned to the Legislature to help them acquire savings in their wholesale power costs, two rural spokesmen said.

Writing in the current Electric Farmer Magazine, D. A. Blatchford of Columbus and Paul Ogier of Wallace stated.

"In 1963, the 27 rurals in the eastern two-thirds of Nebraska spent nearly one-half of their total cost in payments to the wholesaler supplier of their electricity.

"Here is where we see the only answer to further savings in any significant degree.

"So far, we have failed to win these savings for our rural consumers by efforts toward voluntary negotiation. We find ourselves in the unfortunate postion of falling farther and farther behind in the pursuit of public power goals for rural Nebraska.

"That is the reason we have turned to the Nebraska Legislature for help."

Rural power districts are supporting a number of bills to consolidate wholesale districts, spread their representation on boards of directors, and open the wholesale grid system for use by the rurals.

Blatchford is general manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative. Ogier is legislative chairman of the Nebraska Rural Electric Assn.

Centennial Seal Adopted

The State Legislature adopted an official Nebraska centennial seal Tuesday.

Approved on final reading by a 48-0 vote was LB167, establishing a covered wagon drawn by a pair of oxen as the seal.

The spherical seal also contains the words "Centennial" and "Welcome to NEBRASKAland Where the West Begins" and the dates "1867-1967."

Nebraska will observe its 100th statehood anniversary in 1967. The seal has been used by the State Centennial Commission for several months, however.

The bill carried the so-called emergency clause, meaning it will become law upon Governor Morrison's signature. It was introduced chiefly by Sen. Harold B. Stryker of Rising City and co-signed by 44 lawmakers.

Also approved and sent to the governor was a bill, LB383, empowering villages in Nebraska to finance park and recreational projects through revenue bonds. The vote was 48-0. It also carried the emergency clause.

Under present law, only incorporated cities may issue revenue bonds for such purposes.

Other bills approved:

University Of California Chiefs Resign Suddenly

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, suddenly announced his resignation late Tuesday. He made no mention of the riotous Free Speech Movement which has shaken the university's Berkeley campus since last fall.

Along with Kerr, acting Chancellor Martin Meyerson announced that he too was quitting. Neither gave any reason for the sudden action.

Meyerson succeeded Chancellor Edward W. Strong, who took a leave of absence after the arrest of some 800 demonstrators at the university administration building last Dec. 2 and 3.

Brown Comments

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in Sacramento, said, "I intend to do everything within my power to see that he (Kerr) rescinds his action of resigning as president of the university."

Kerr has been president of the statewide, nine-campus university system since 1958. It is the country's largest.

Although they resolutely refused to give any reasons for their decision, it was evident that the free speech disorders were involved, including the "obscenity" display last week.

The so-called Free Speech Movement, led by a fiery 22-year-old New York student named Mario Savio, boiled up last September shortly after classes began for the fall semester.

Dissatisfied with their progress, the militant minority staged a sit-in demonstration in the administration building Dec. 2.

Police on order.. from Brown arrested more than 800 who refused to leave voluntarily. The arrests occupied all of the night and most of the morning of Dec. 2-3.

Kerr, a University of California executive for more than 20 years in various capacities, philosophically remarked of the whole disorderly and complex dispute:

"We fumbled, we flundered, and the worst thing is, I still don't know how we should have handled it."

Last week, a non-student, John Thomson, paraded on the campus with a large sign bearing a single four-letter obscene word. He was arrested.

Some 1,500 students rallied to his support and held demonstrations last Thursday and Friday. They shouted the obscene word over a microphone, displayed signs and made speeches.

Seven persons were arrested, and faculty members and Meyerson scorned the affair as a perversion of free speech.

Four Flour Firms Change Their Pleas

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)— Four flour-milling companies have joined eight other firms in changing from innocent to no contest their pleas to federal charges of a flour price-fixing conspiracy.

Eight flour-milling companies changed their plea Feb. 22, and the remaining four were allowed to change their plea Monday in U.S. District Court here. All had pleaded innocent last May 18.

Judge John O. Henderson set March 22 for sentencing all 12 firms.

The companies and six of their officers were indicted on charges they had subjected commercial bakeries to artificially high flour prices.

The companies produce 65% of the bakery flour sold east of the Rocky Mountains.

The firms which changed their plea Monday were:

Gooch Milling and Elevator Co., Lincoln, Neb.; Inland Mills Inc., Des Moines, Iowa; Weber Flour Mills Co., and Western Star Mill Co., both of Salina, Kan.

The officers, who have pleaded innocent, included John J. Vanier, president of Gooch Milling.

Fireman Badly Injured In Fall

Bellevue (AP)— A Bellevue fireman was injured Tuesday while fighting an apartment house fire (at Thurston Street and Highway 131) in Sarpy County.

Fireman Charles Friend, 24, Bellevue, was taken to Douglas County Hospital after he lost his footing on the ice while on the roof of the two-story building. He slid off and fell to the concrete below. He was reported in serious condition.

The apartment building, under construction, was heavily damaged. Bellevue and eastern Sarpy County firemen responded to the call. The building was partly occupied and two occupied apartments were involved.

Meter Sentenced On Assault Count

Gering (AP)—District Judge Ted Feidler sentenced Riney Meter, 44, of Gering to 20 years in prison.

Meter pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill in the Jan. 5 shooting of Reuben Brown, 39, of Banner County.

Judge Feidler said he pronounced a severe sentence because he understands there is a possibility Brown will be permanently paralyzed.

Portions Of Missouri Valley Locked Tight By Banks Of Ice

Missouri Valley, Iowa (AP)—At the police radio microphone in the city hall, Mayor H. R. Watson hoists his feet on a desk and munches a sandwich.

"Sit still and wait. That's all we can do," says the mayor, a wiry cafe owner who sports well-polished cowboy boots and a cattleman's hat.

Outside on East Erie Street, traffic splashes through town again between banked-up piles of ice. Big green dump trucks rumble by on their way to the dikes.

Garage owner Ray Smith has started to pump the water from his basement of his house. But like more than 1,000 others forced from their homes by flood he isn't hurrying to move back in.

"I've rented another house for a month," he says. "I'm staying till the ice is gone. You might as well stay away or you'll be moving out again."

Bulldozers have peeled back the deep layer of ice from the street by Smith's home and water runs eight inches deep there. In the next block streets are locked tight with ice between lonely, uninhabited houses.

Their former occupants, too, are waiting to see what time and warmer temperatures will bring.

This western Iowa town of 3,000 pokes out of a plain of ice that extends for miles. Through the plain east of town, running arrow—straight from north-northeast to south-southwest, is the Boyer River. South of town the Boyer hooks toward the west. It is jammed solid with jagged dirt-creased, chunks of ice.

On Sunday, Feb. 28, the rising Boyer broke through its dikes to spread across low-lying areas of town and farmlands south and west of the city. Rain added to the river's glut.

The Army Engineers' man in charge, R. L. Fitzhugh, is optimistic.

"We feel we will make it, with a slow warming trend," said the weary engineer.

Private Trade Schools Organize; Abdouch Is Head

Omaha (AP)— Twenty Nebraska private trade and vocational schools have organized into the Nebraska Council of Private Vocational Schools.

George Abdouch, head of the Universal Trades School of Omaha, was named president.

He said the organization must present its side for use of federal funds in training programs.

Jerry Loveland, head of the North Platte Beauty Academy, was named vice president, Secretary is Wayne Weigert, director of the Nettleton Business College, Lincoln.

Goodyear's Payroll Up During 1964

The payroll at the Lincoln plant of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. totaled approximately $7.4 million last year, compared with $6.7 million the previous year, plant manager D. R. Remigio reported Tuesday.

In a statement summarizing 1964 activities, Remigio said employment, total payroll, number of area suppliers and the amount paid them, and production all increased over 1963.

Employment at the plant, which manufactures v-belts, power transmission belts, specialty conveyor belting and hose for the automotive, farm equipment and appliance industries, averaged 1,102 during 1964, an increase of nearly eight per cent over the 1,022 average the previous year.

The plant purchased goods or services from 86 businesses in the Lincoln area, compared with 83 the year before, and total value of the purchases advanced from $1.4 million to $1.6 million.

Production set a high of 17.7 million tons, a 10 per cent increase over the previous high in 1963.

The plant has announced a multi-million dollar expansion which Remigio said could mean as many as 300 new jobs at the plant.

Legislature Asked To Help Rurals With Power Savings

Nebraska rural electric leaders have turned to the Legislature to help them acquire savings in their wholesale power costs, two rural spokesmen said.

Writing in the current Electric Farmer Magazine, D. A. Blatchford of Columbus and Paul Ogier of Wallace stated:

"In 1963, the 27 rurals in the eastern two-thirds of Nebraska spent nearly one-half of their total cost in payments to the wholesaler supplier of their electricity.

"Here is where we see the only answer to further savings in any significant degree.

"So far, we have failed to win these savings for our rural consumers by efforts toward voluntary negotiation. We find ourselves in the unfortunate postion of falling farther and farther behind in the pursuit of public power goals for rural Nebraska.

"That is the reason we have turned to the Nebraska Legislature for help."

Rural power districts are supporting a number of bills to consolidate wholesale districts, spread their representation on boards of directors, and open the wholesale grid system for use by the rurals.

Blatchford is general manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative. Ogier is legislative chairman of the Nebraska Rural Electric Assn.

DOES ASPIRIN FAIL TO RELAX TENSION?

Aspirin remedies were intended primarily for headaches. When tensions rise due to common everyday nervousness, rely on tranquilizing effect of sedative-calming ALVA-TRANQUIL* tablets. Specially formulated like a Doctor's prescription to relax these anxieties, irritations, tensions. Contain no aspirin, no barbiturates, not habit forming. Now, meet daily problems with calmer attitude, with peace of mind. At all Drug counters.

Centennial Seal Adopted

The State Legislature adopted an official Nebraska centennial seal Tuesday.

Approved on final reading by a 48-0 vote was LB167, establishing a covered wagon drawn by a pair of oxen as the seal.

The spherical seal also contains the words "Centennial" and "Welcome to NEBRASKAland Where the West Begins" and the dates "1867-1967."

Nebraska will observe its 100th statehood anniversary in 1967. The seal has been used by the State Centennial Commission for several months, however.

The bill carried the so-called emergency clause, meaning it will become law upon Governor Morrison's signature. It was introduced chiefly by Sen. Harold B. Stryker of Rising City and co-signed by 44 lawmakers.

Also approved and sent to the governor was a bill, LB393, empowering villages in Nebraska to finance park and recreational projects through revenue bonds. The vote was 48-0. It also carried the emergency clause.

Under present law, only incorporated cities may issue revenue bonds for such purposes.

Other bills approved:

LB315—Requiring candidates for watershed district director to file for office 60 days before a primary election. (48-0).

LB175—Providing that third class school district boards must meet on or before the second Monday of each month. Now they must meet on the first Monday of each month. (48-0).

LB170—Increasing from two to four years the term of office of the Douglas and Lancaster County election commissioners, effective Aug. 1, 1967. (47-1).

POSTCARD by Stan

Into each life some rain must fall. Unfortunately, it was a sunny day that I set up the incinerator.

I set it up in the backyard. "A child can put it together," said the hardware store man.

I believe this is absolutely true. But, alas, I am not a child anymore.

Mankind has been plagued with misfortunes. The Crusader Giles de Roufacaud suffered agonies of discomfort and shame because his armor did not fit in the seat.

Fair Rosalind of Tuffordshire, poor doll, might have been Queen except for a distressing itch.

A nuclear scientist confesses he cannot keep a grocery list in his head.

☆ ☆ ☆

I got this incinerator out of the boxes. It is made of stone blocks—pretty much like a child's building blocks. And I suppose that is why the man said a child could put it together.

It had four aluminum frame corners.

"Set up frames and loop string around them to hold them together."

☆ ☆ ☆

"Drop the stone blocks from package I into place with grooves for grate upward. Drop any locking block into place in rear. Now drop grate into place."

I did all this. And the grate dropped right through to the ground.

My children and the neighbor children came by.

They said: "You ought to put it together this way."

They dropped the grate into place and it stayed just right.

I said: "All you kids go upstairs and play. This is man's work."

One of them said: "What is the string for?"

He gave it a little tug. The incinerator collapsed.

I set it up again and looped the string back on. "Now continue dropping stone blocks into place as shown in the diagram."

I asked: "Have any of you kids seen the diagram?"

The neighbor's little girl said: "Johnny is eating it."

I took the diagram away from the boy—it was a little wet but, fortunately, the part he had swallowed was the part I had already done.

I dropped the blocks into place per diagram. It was pink stone and looked mighty pretty.

"Now drop on the galvanized top. Squeeze blocks together so that it fits tightly over all."

☆ ☆ ☆

I squeezed the blocks. The top fit over three corners but would not fit over the fourth.

I said: "While I squeeze, you kids drop the top on that other corner."

I squeezed and it went over the corner.

The children said: "Now it's off the other corner."

I said as calmly as possible: "So it is. Is your father home?"

Their father came over. He squeezed. I squeezed. And the top dropped into place.

"Now drop grate cover into sliding grooves."

I asked: "Has anybody seen the grate cover?"

They said: "The little girl took it up for a doll bed."

I retrieved the grate cover and dropped it in the grooves.

I went up stairs and had a beer. I said: "The incinerator is all set up. A child could do it."

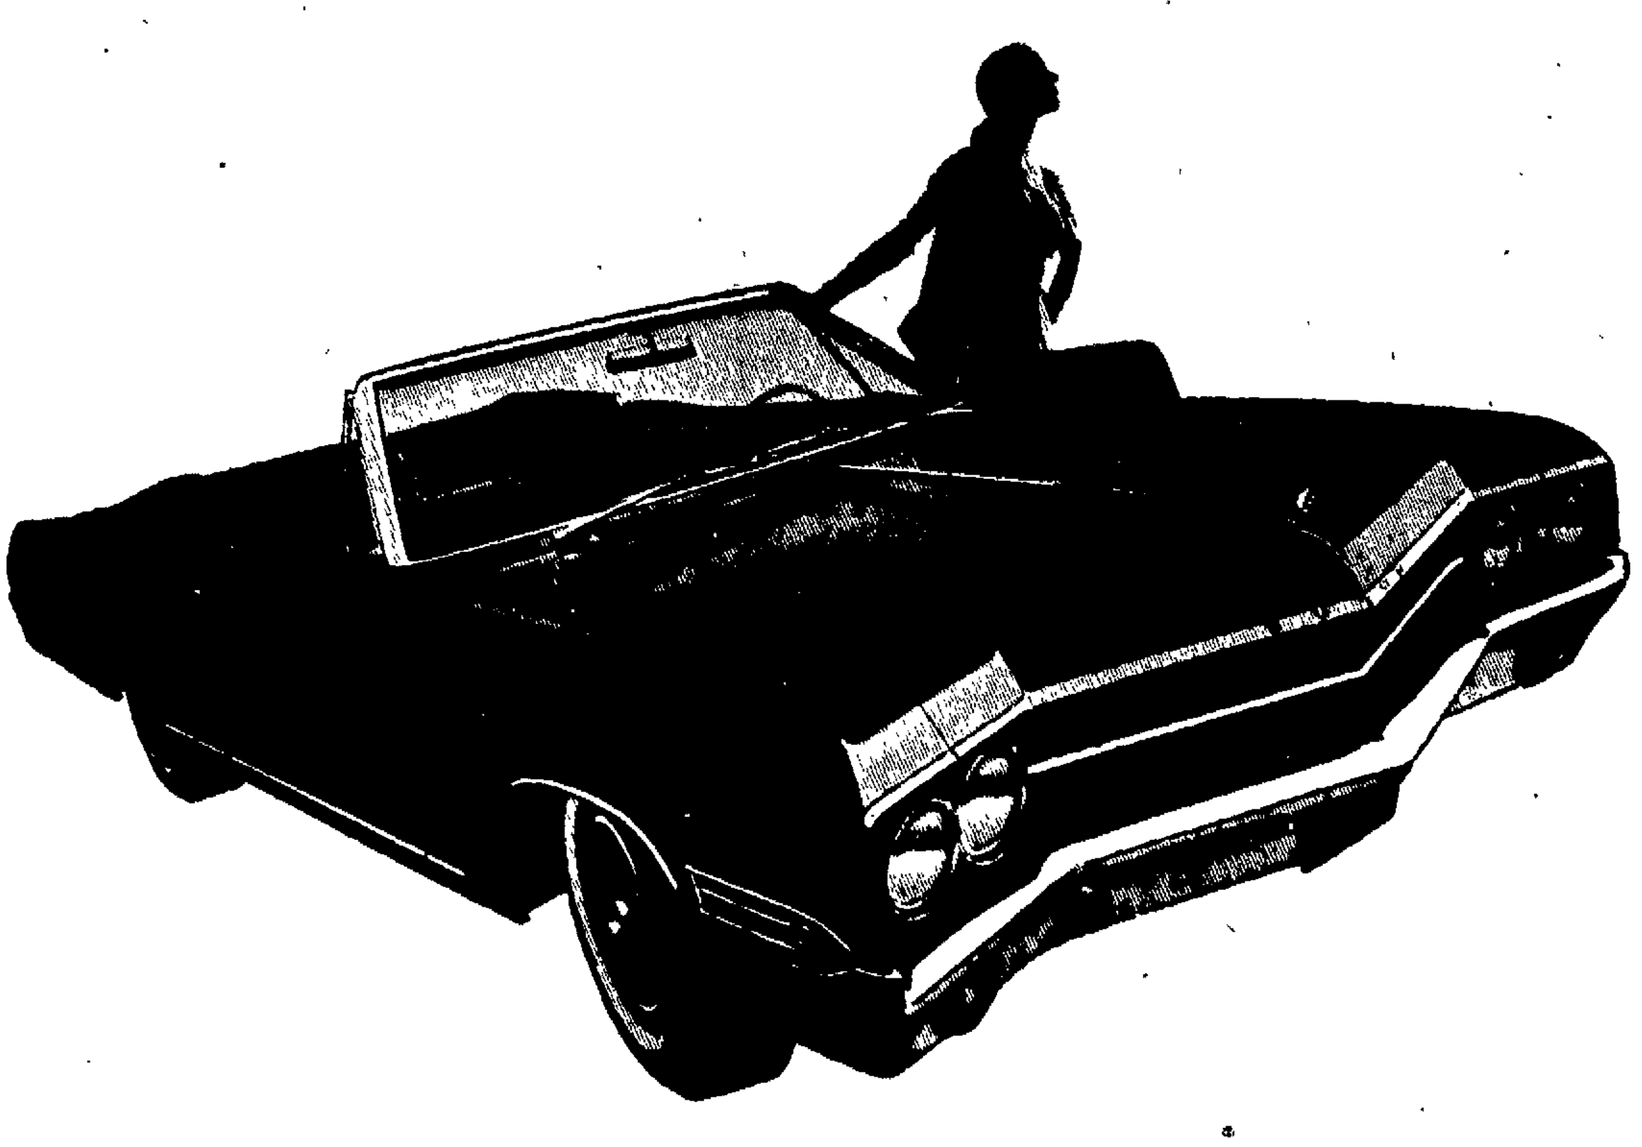
Buick LeSabre with Wildcat power.
Its quiet voice delivers a most persuasive message.



LeSabre's policy is "speak softly, but carry a big engine". A 210-hp Wildcat V-8, to be precise. (You can order a 250-hp Wildcat, too, if you'd like to be even more forceful.) LeSabre's ride is soft-spoken, too, in keeping with the Buick tradition. No road chatter gets through to bother you. To drive a LeSabre, to ride in it, to look at its styling, you might find it hard to believe that this is the lowest-priced of the full sized Buicks. But your Buick dealer can convince you. Ask him.

A nuclear scientist confesses he cannot keep a grocery list in his head.

I got this incinerator out of the boxes. It is made of stone blocks—pretty much like a child's building blocks. And I suppose that is why the man said a child could put it together.

It had four aluminum frame corners.

"Set up frames and loop string around them to hold them together."

☆ ☆ ☆

"Drop the stone blocks from package I into place with grooves for grate upward. Drop any locking block into place in rear. Now drop grate into place."

I did all this. And the grate dropped right through to the ground.

My children and the neighbor children came by.

They said: "You ought to put it together this way."

They dropped the grate into place and it stayed just right.

I said: "All you kids go upstairs and play. This is man's work."

One of them said: "What is the string for?"

He gave it a little tug. The incinerator collapsed.

I set it up again and looped the string back on. "Now continue dropping stone blocks into place as shown in the diagram."

I asked: "Have any of you kids seen the diagram?"

The neighbor's little girl said: "Johnny is eating it."

I took the diagram away from the boy—it was a little wet but, fortunately, the part he had swallowed was the part I had already done.

I dropped the blocks into place per diagram. It was pink stone and looked mighty pretty.

"Now drop on the galvanized top. Squeeze blocks together so that it fits tightly over all."

I squeezed the blocks. The top fit over three corners but would not fit over the fourth.

I said: "While I squeeze, you kids drop the top on that other corner."

I squeezed and it went over the corner.

The children said: "Now it's off the other corner."

I said as calmly as possible: "So it is. Is your father home?"

Their father came over. He squeezed. I squeezed. And the top dropped into place.

"Now drop grate cover into sliding grooves."

I asked: "Has anybody seen the grate cover?"

They said: "The little girl took it up for a doll bed."

I retrieved the grate cover and dropped it in the grooves.

I went up stairs and had a beer. I said: "The incinerator is all set up. A child could do it."

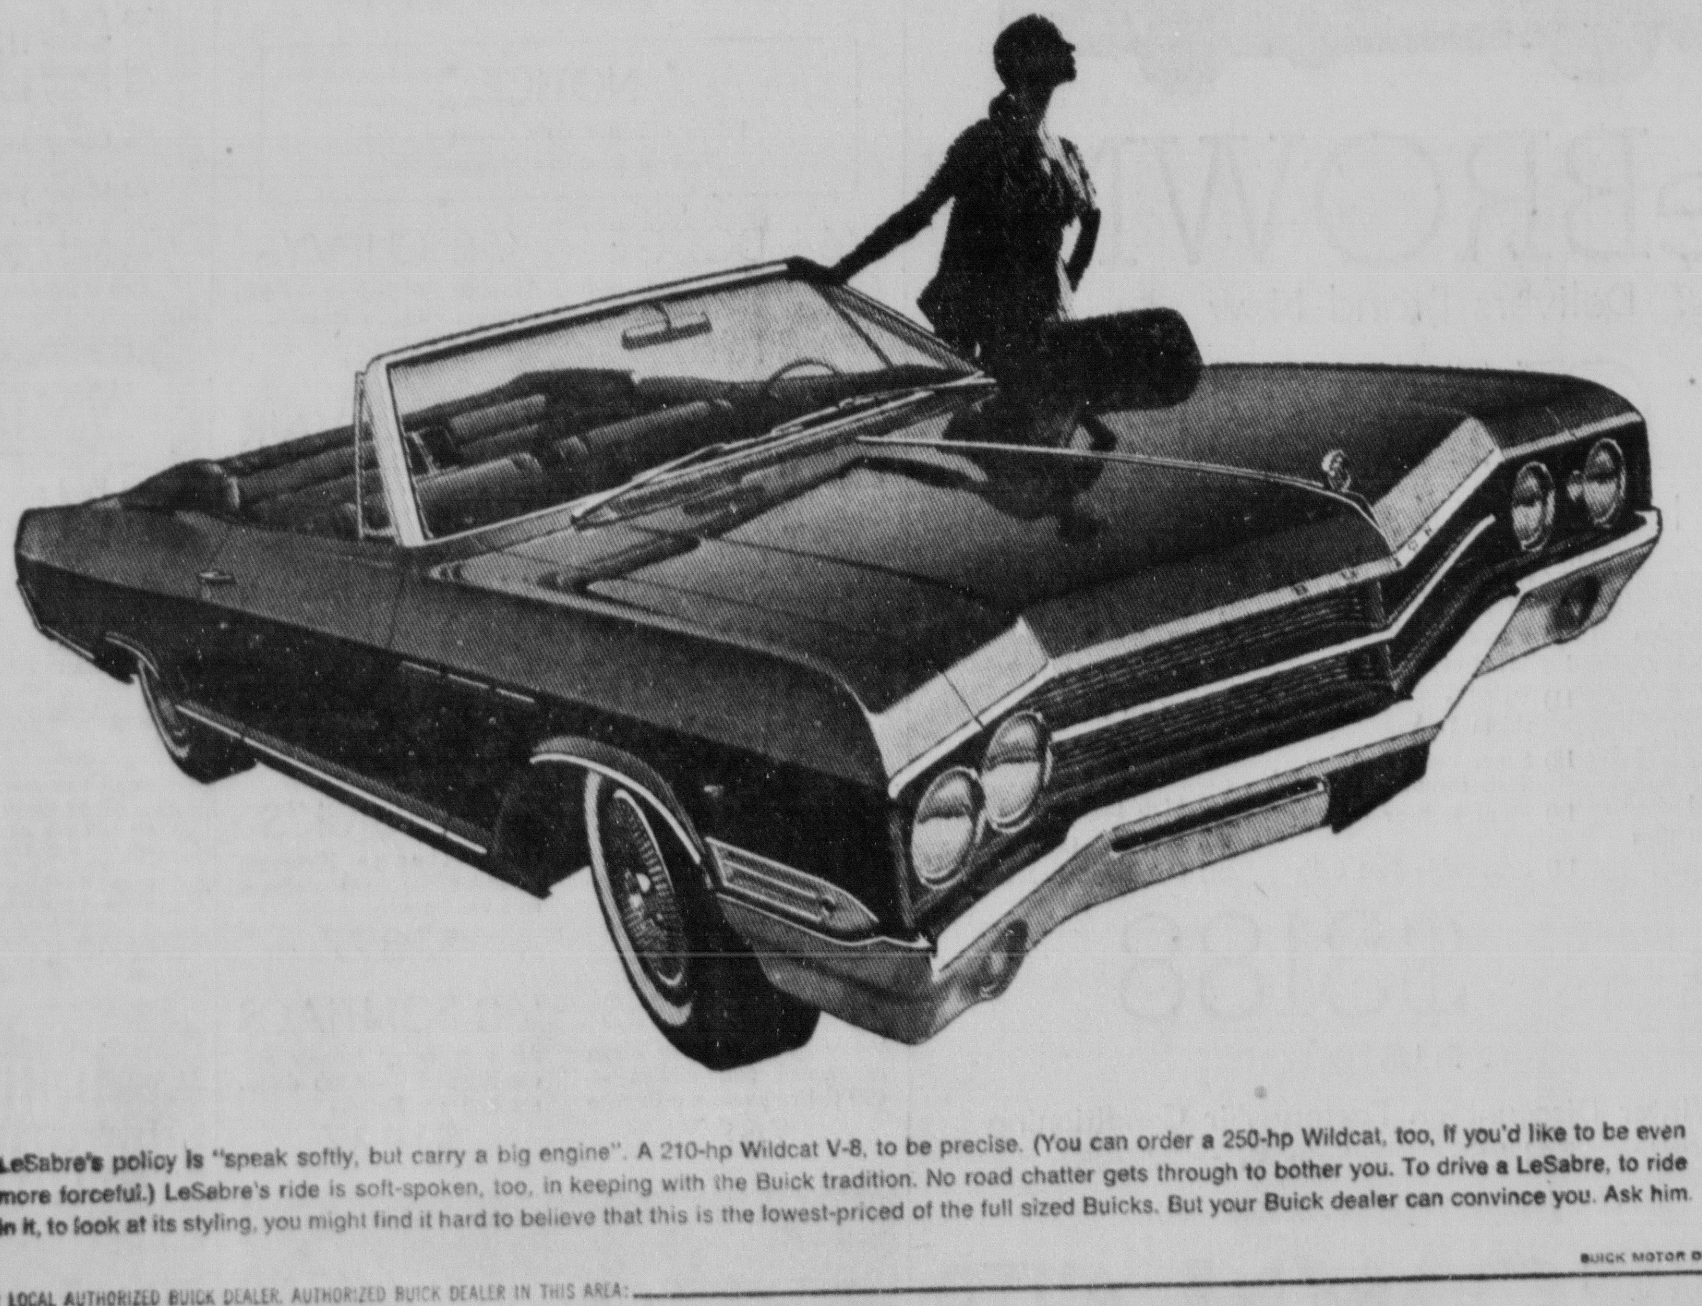
Buick LeSabre with Wildcat power.
Its quiet voice delivers a most persuasive message.



LeSabre's policy is "speak softly, but carry a big engine". A 210-hp Wildcat V-8, to be precise. (You can order a 250-hp Wildcat, too, if you'd like to be even more forceful.) LeSabre's ride is soft-spoken, too, in keeping with the Buick tradition. No road chatter gets through to bother you. To drive a LeSabre, to ride in it, to look at its styling, you might find it hard to believe that this is the lowest-priced of the full sized Buicks. But your Buick dealer can convince you. Ask him.
